Revd James Hall

Dear Sir,

I have just reached this place on my return from Columbia County and hasten to forward you the result of operations.

The servants connected with the Abbot estate will go to Africa this fall. I have the names of twelve. Five or eight of those formerly belonging to Miss Beasts (John Beckett Esq. Executor), will probably go. I have seen them, and a letter shall be written to Mr by Revd W. Wilson in a few days ~~[illegible]~~ containing information in regard to them; ~~and~~ there are two families of free blacks, numbering eight, who talk, and seem to think favorably of going this fall. These are more doubtful, as they can remain without subjecting themselves to inconvenience other than those to which they have been accustomed. Mr Wilson has promised to write and all the blacks belonging to Miss Beasts' estate, and the two families of free blacks, have promised to give him information in regard to their determination. Should the blacks already free be induced
