To Dr Jas Hall

Dear Sir

Since I wrote the other letter I met with a friend going to Baltimore, and, ~~and~~ I thought I would add a few lines to the other done in so much haste. The Catholic Clergy seem to enter into the recommendation of the Archbishop with great zeal, but they regret that the time is so short between the vessel sailing, had they had but one month longer, I have no doubt but that something considerable might have been done; but they have no doubt but a considerable number may be got off next Spring, but I hope I shall partially succeed this time. They are a most stupid set of people as ever I brought upon as a brute least I have some hopes from Cobb neck in Charles County for there is a very pious priest just returned amongst them who is taking great pains to persuade them — I don't think there is any chance of Smith's going this time at least, for his Children are not disposed of at present, & will not until Christmas, his wife is preparing herself to bring to remove if some one would purchase the girl & return her until means could raised to obtain her at some future time be successful to me an answer by return of post concerning that young man who wishes to go when observations in the mean time you depend upon my utmost exertions in the cause I remain Dr Sir) Yours Very Respectfully
J M Sorrell
