To Dr Jas Hall

Dear Sir I arrived in this place this morning just after the arrival of the mail and was glad to find a letter from you to which I have to answer in haste as the mail only lasts a short time I have travelled the county nearly round & square and I am sorry to inform you I have not engaged any more for certain I partly engaged a family this morning but it depends upon other contingencies perhaps they will go but I expect to remove bitter mors this day as the court has com and I shall hear from all part of county the expectation that we had from the is rather falacious we have lost confidence with the Blacks by selling all their Black from all their farms but they are very jealous with the exception of one however I still hope that we shall come out better than expected yours J.
