already made an Altar and some Window Blinds. I will send for him, to meet me here at 2 P.M. tomorrow together with Mr. Peterson who has been appointed to purchase such articles as Dr. B. intends taking out.

Excluding the Lumber, the Merchandize which Mr. P. has purchased, together with the Gentlemans Baggage will occupy the space of about 30 to 40 Barrels of Freight. This is the opinion of Mr. P. of which I feel it my duty to give you timely notice.

Yours with due respect

Pat. Kelly
