COMMENCEMENT AT MILLINGTON.

The closing exercises of the public school was held in the town hall on Friday, June 29, in the presence of a large and appreciative audience, consisting of the patrons and friends of the school. The following was the order of exercises: Prayer, by Rev. R. K. Stephenson, resident minister; calling roll, scholars responding with quotations, singing, "Greeting Glee," school; Welcome Address and Acrostic, by nine little girls and boys; Dialogue, The Wonderful Speller, T. H. McWhorter and Harry Mallalieu; Singing, Come, Come, Come, school; Concert exercises, The Cardinal Points, fifth and fourth grades. The June Morning Lesson, second grade; Dialogue, The Model Class, sixth grade; Singing, Going to School, school; The Flowers, 1st, 4th and 5th grades; Fan Drill, 6th and 7th grades; Singing, Some Folks, school; Dialogue, The American Flag, 1st and 7th grades; Motion song, 1st and 2d grades; Dialogue, The Rehearsal, 6th grade; Singing, The Golden Rule, school; Dialogue, The Country Cousin, seventh grade; Recitation, Summer Vacation, by Walter McWhorter; Acrostic, Goodbye; seven boys and girls; Singing, Vacation Song, school; distribution of reports. These exercises were creditably rendered and fully appreciated by those who witnessed them. The hall was densely crowded in the evening by those who had assembled to witness the graduating exercises. These exercises consisted of the reading of essays by the members of the graduating class, and the rendering of some very fine instrumental music on the piano under the direction of Mrs. Mary Cacy. The names of the class and subjects of the essays are as follows: Marie O. Cacy, salutatory, Flowers; Thomas A. Mallalieu, Education in America; May Green, Habit; Lola Staats, Ambition in Woman; Mary E. Taylor, The State we Love; Anna Talbot, Past, Present and Future; Ella D. Smith, valedictory, Beauties of Nature. Mr. E. F. Perkins, our efficient county examiner, presented the diplomas to the graduates after some trite and pertinent remarks, which reviewed the inauguration and the working of our present school system. By special request the Fan Drill was repeated and the exercises closed with the benediction by Rev. W. H. Sanders, of Chesterville. The graduates did themselves much credit, both in the skill with which they treated their subjects and in the manner of delivery, and were the recipients of many handsome bouquets and other testimonials from relatives and friends. Colonel George H. Raymond, of Smyrna, Del., was present in the evening. He is president of the school board of Smyrna. When the school exercises were over he called on his old friend, Joseph Mallalieu, and requested an introduction to the principal, Mr. Tonkin. He very kindly took an introduction to the lady teachers, Miss Power and Miss Price. His congratulations were profuse. J.

Base Ball.

BETTERTON, June 30, 1888.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—There was quite an exciting game of base ball here between two clubs of this place. Mr. Wilmer, the young twirler of the Independence, was quite effective in his box, as was also Mr. Tucker, of the Lone Star, who was well supported by Jack Owens, the catch of the Still Pond Club. A long run and one-hand catch by Vandegrift, and a hot one from the bat of Mr. Owens was brought down by Mr. Crew, the first baseman. After nine inning had been played both sides showed their willingness to stop the game, so they called a draw. Umpire, Jones; time, 1:55.

THE inaugural of the Salisbury Board of Trade was celebrated at Salisbury, Md., on Friday of last week. Many hundred people from the Eastern Shore of Virginia and other parts of the Peninsula were present to witness the very creditable display made by the business men. There were over fifty floats, representing the various industries of the city. The streets were lined with people, and there was fully 3,000 strangers in the place. The procession was a mile long and was headed by the Salisbury Cornet Band and under the direction of W. M. Remington, Chief Marshal.

NOT A SOREHEAD.—A correspondent of the St. Louis Republican interviewed Gov. Gray at Indianapolis Monday last. He requested the correspondent to say: "There is no sorehead about me. I am for the ticket, and will work sixteen hours a day for its success from now until election." Governor Gray expressed the utmost confidence in the election of Cleveland and Thurman, and has not the slightest doubt about a democratic victory in Indiana on the national and State tickets. Ex-Senator McDonald was equally decided in expressing his faith in a democratic victory.

COL. LEVI BIRD DUFF, a prominent lawyer and republican of Pittsburg, Pa., has come out for Cleveland and Thurman. He says: "After a careful study of the two party platforms I find that the democratic party advocates a judicious readjustment of the tariff; the republicans maintain and emphasize their high-tariff principles. Between the two I choose the former because I see that the latter idea has been carried too far already. I want the tax taken off raw materials because it will benefit the American manufacturer, and through him the workingman."

COMMENTING on President Cleveland's reply to the formal notification of his nomination the New York Times: "The reply was singularly manly, dignified and impressive. No American citizen can read it candidly, we should say, without feeling that the President has a profound sense of the responsibility of his office, and an honest desire to discharge his duty faithfully and honorably."

MRS. S. N. BROOKS, mother of Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, the chloroformer, and her daughter Annie, had an interview in St. Louis on Sunday with young Brooks at the jail. They will be at Jefferson City on the 9th inst. when Gov. Morehouse will hear an appeal for commutation of sentence by Brooks's attorneys, and will make personal pleas for the life of their son and brother.

WHEN you visit Baltimore stop at the Maltby House, where will be found first-class accommodations and exceedingly low rates.

BALTIMORE MARKET. — The Baltimore papers to yesterday quote as follows:

WHEAT—Fultz, 83c @86c. for fair to good; Longberry, 93c.@97. CORN — White, prime, 63c.@65c. Yellow, 58½c. OATS—42c.

The Peach Exchange.

STILL POND, MD., July 2, 1888.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It is remarkable that some steamboat companies still continue to fight with persistency and determination the Baltimore Exchange movement. Farmers are convinced that it is to their interest to ship their fruit to the Exchange. They have canvassed the subject well; have discussed it calmly and deliberately, and have come to the conclusion that their fruit must and shall go to the Exchange. They speak with no uncertain sound. They are determined to fight all odds against them and have their own way in this matter. Why should they not? The fruit is theirs and they should have the say in the manner of its sale and distribution. They have watched the rise and progress of this enterprise with great interest and are proud of its results so far, and they look forward in the future to a development that shall far outstrip the most sanguine expectations of its conservative friends. But henceforth they will trouble themselves but little about this opposition. They desire to have done with this dispute and controversy; they have no time to waste with such a small matter; they have other and greater work to do; they will manage their own business after their own fashion. This, they think, is the most wise and independent course; and having reached this conclusion, they are prepared for the issue despite all opposition.

To be of any value or use in the world, men must be largely independent; and they have no apologies to offer in this case or long-winded explanations to make, as such a course never accomplishes anything. They have been offered any amount of instruction and advice, which, if heeded, would leave their work undone. But let me add that fruit growers would gladly patronize established lines, and will do so, if such lines meet the requirements necessary to the success of this enterprise. Some lines, I understand, will co-operate with the growers and land fruit at the Exchange, and I hope all other lines interested will soon fall in line.

I see some claim that buyers and shippers of fruit will be better accommodated in Kent county by shipping by rail direct to northern and western markets. I will admit that fruit shipped from stations on the road, leaving such stations about noon, will make northern and western markets in as quick time as that shipped by steamers at the same hour to the fruit exchange. But after the noon trains leave the fruit picked after that time is kept for next day's shipment by rail, while the steamboat fruit will be shipped that night, leaving the wharves as late as 9 o'clock P. M., probably, and arriving at the exchange by 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, sold and on the cars by 6 o'clock, and can reach any market within three hundred miles of Baltimore by noon of that day, while the railroad fruit picked at the same time is on the cars in Kent county just ready to start for its destination, 10 or 12 hours behind the steamboat fruit in point of time.

Dealers and shippers will do well to look this matter up. It strikes me it would pay all interested in fruit to patronize the exchange, as time and dispatch in the marketing of this perishable article are of the utmost importance.

I deem it but just to correct an error that has crept into many of the papers on this peninsula, and in some of the city papers also, to the effect that the Henderson wharf property in Baltimore, (the place of operation of the fruit and produce exchange of Baltimore city,) was leased by Mr. J. P. R. Polk on account of the Bureau of Information and Distribution. This is an error and Mr. Polk, no doubt, will bear me out in this statement, as both he and I know to a certainty that said premises were leased for ten years by the incorporated organization known as the "Fruit and Produce Exchange of Baltimore city;" said lease was signed by the president of the last named organization, Mr. J. W. Corey, and the proper officer of the Balto. & Ohio Railroad Co., on or about the 1st day of June, 1888.

We have contracted with the Sassafras River Steamboat Co. to carry our peaches to the exchange wharves, making two trips daily, meeting important trains, and these boats will not run to Light street.

EUSEBIUS.

Notes from Rock Hall.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—We can now boast of our new wharf and daily steamer, which is a long needed convenience. We are glad to learn that they are doing an encouraging business, which gives confidence that it will be a permanent enterprise and largely advance the material interests of our village. We have also our boarding house in full swing, which we hope will be a success to the lady who is running it.

We still have the Ascher jackass making night hideous with his discordant serenades. Will he ever, ever die?

And now we have our base ball club, called the Chesapeake nine, which we feel confident in saying will be hard to beat. Last Saturday they had a contest at Queenstown with the Sluggard (perish the name) club of that place, who are considered some pumpkins. The game was conceded a tie with ten scored on each side, yet our boys claim the loss of one run by foul play and one by turning to the left instead of the right, as per rule on which they were not posted. They had become much demoralized by their long sail in a canoe from Grey's Inn and the lateness of their arrival forbidding them to attempt a second game, which, however, they will be glad to do at any time at Rock Hall if their friends will come over, when they will treat them hospitably and beat them handsomely. Considering every thing, the boys feel well satisfied with their prowess and are ready to accept any challenge addressed to the secretary, G. H. Glants, Rock Hall. And now a word about the manly pastime, which we cannot recommend too highly to our boys; yet we protest against these hard and heavy balls which we find in use at the present day by which we hear of young men getting more or less crippled and disfigured for life, by broken fingers, disjointed thumbs and smashed noses. It is an axiom that no brave man will expose himself to unnecessary dangrr; then by all means let our recreations be made as safe from accidents as possible. SCRUTATOR.

SPEAKER CARLISLE was one of the speakers at the great mass-meeting in New York on Thursday night of last week under the auspices of the County Democracy, to ratify the nomination of Cleveland and Thurman for President and Vice-President. In referring to the tariff he said:

"The democratic party does not advocate free trade, but it believes that the interests of all our manufacturing and other industries would be advanced, that the wages of all our laborers would be increased and the general welfare of the whole country would be greatly promoted by repealing as far as possible the tax upon raw materials, and reducing or repealing the tax upon the actual necessaries of life; and upon these simple propositions it proposes to stand or fall in the great contest now before it."

JOHN McDOWELL GOLDSBOROUGH of Talbot county has presented to President and Mrs. Cleveland a handsome pair of peafowls. The present was accepted and Mr. Goldsborough has received a letter from Mrs. Cleveland acknowledging the receipt of the fowls and returning thanks for them. The birds were taken out to the President's country seat near Washington where they will be kept.

PERSONS still indebted to me for Taxes for 1886 or 1887 are hereby notified that unless the same are paid on or before THE FIRST DAY OF AUGUST, 1888, I shall AT ONCE proceed to collect according to law. I cannot possibly wait any longer and this notice may be regarded by all as final.

PRINCIPLES NOT CANDIDATES.

So far as candidates go, Cleveland and Thurman challenge comparison with Harrison and Morton; but the campaign is really to be decided on issues of principle. The one great question is whether Democracy or paternalism shall be practiced in the conduct of the government, but the chief distinctive issue joined by the two great parties is that of revenue reform. The Democracy stands for the masses; Republicanism for the millionaires. That able Republican journal, the New York Commercial Advertiser, puts and answers the question thus pointedly:

"What are we— the people of the United States—going to do about it? We will tell you plainly, gentlemen, monopolists who desire to tax us for your enrichment, and to make of yourselves our aristocratic rulers. We are going to enforce the American idea, which all great parties in this country have hitherto respected, and to which only cranks, Anarchists and Communists have ventured to oppose themselves. We are going to stand by the American doctrines of individual liberty, personal equality of right, the economical administration of a government that confines itself to the legtimate purposes of government, and the right of the people to be relieved of taxation. We are going to oppose your schemes to tax us for your benefit. We are going to contest your right to make use of our government for our oppression and your advantages."
