My Dear Sir,

I duly received your favor of the 25th of last month & have sought to make its contents useful (in a private way) among the friends of missions. The Board meet at Norwich next week, & probably the difficulties in their African will be brought under consideration. Our cause has several very warm Friends in that Board, & I believe they will adopt (or rather induce the Board to adopt) the mildest & most conciliatory measures they can without abandoning what they deem great principles. But my main object in writing now, is to give you a copy of a letter addressed to me by Mr Tracy after he had perused your letter, & I do this the more readily because this Gentleman is fully acquainted with the views, policy, & history of the American Board. — I was (says Mr Tracy) much pleased with the general spirit of Dr Halls letter of August 25, which you kindly put into my hands. One point however, I think he need to look at, from a different point of view.
