Kent News.

CHESTERTOWN - JAN. 19, 1889.

Folly Exemplified!

To prove the folly of the State and at the same time the reason for the non-enforcement of the oyster law, it is only necessary to state this fact: The powder furnished Capt. Kerr—or rather a large quantity of the article that had been furnished his boat, and probably all the other boats—was found to be utterly worthless. A full charge in the cannon would not throw a ball FIFTY YARDS! It was experimented with over and over again and this fact fully proven. Captain Kerr then tried his own hand in the powder furnishing business; he obtained a good article, and with the same quantity, in the same gun, he threw a ball SIX MILES!

Is it any wonder that the police failed to cope with the dredger pirates under such circumstances? And what our people want to know is, who is to blame for the criminal folly?

The six-mile-powder is to be used hereafter. Let the law-breakers take warning and govern themselves accordingly.

Recognition Asked For.

...iference of colored Maryland republicans was held in Baltimore last Wednesday night—Wm. Perkins representing ...t which it was decided to urge the ...ment of at least one colored man to ...dential office in Maryland. The resolution declares that the race is entitled to ...because "more than half the Republican ...of Maryland is composed of colored men." ...s statement will not be denied, but ...whether the recognition asked for will be granted remains to be seen. Wm. Perkins is one of Blaine's most ardent admires in Maryland; he keeps his picture prominently displayed in his place of business, and should the Maine statesman be the "power behind the throne" with the incoming administration he will most likely take care of this one colored man at least.

To Teach Infidelity.

An "infidel Sunday school" is proposed in Baltimore. The school is to be composed of those who disbelieve in the churches, who are opposed to religion and religious teachings. It is to teach infidelity. The whole thing seemed so infamous that some persons in the city were disposed to seek the intervention of the law to prevent such a school—arguing that the only effect of such doctrines taught is to make criminals, and finally compel the State to bear the burden of their incarceration in penitentiaries or more frequent hangings. But there is no law to prevent the meeting. And it may be well that there is not. The motley gang that will herd together in such a cause will certainly disgust all decency and react in the interest of good morals.

A Traveller Asserts His Rights.

The example of the man who recently refused to give up his ticket on a Reading railroad train until the conductor furnished him with "a first-class seat" as the ticket called for, is likely to give the railroads trouble for a time. And ought to. They have no right to crowd people into cars like sheep, and expect the same fare. If the tartar they caught in this case should give relief all travellers would rejoice. But it will not. The railroads have too strong a grip upon this country. They will change their tickets to suit their needs, and then get legislation to back them up. The man above referred to not only refused to pay his fare but sues the company for damages for not carrying out its contract. Good for the old Scotchman!

Office-Seekers.

Dispatches from Washington state that the army of office-seekers are already beginning to crowd that city. Bitter disappointment is in store for the vast majority. If every office could be newly assigned at once not one-tenth of the applicants could be provided for. A correspondent under date of Jan. 16, says "the impression in the highest republican circles here is that the Harrison administration will go slow in the matter of appointments and removals. A Senator of long service, who knows the President elect as well as any one can, was asked if Harrison was not a great deal like Cleveland. "Yes," he said, "only more so."

MR. ANTHONY HIGGINS CHOSEN.—The Republican caucus of the Delaware Legislature on the forty-third ballot selected the Hon. Anthony Higgins, of Wilmington, as their candidate for United States Senator ...o succeed Mr. Saulsbury, and he was subsequently elected. Mr. George V. Massey, ...Dover, received the next highest vote, ...ing only one of an election on several ...'s. Mr. Higgins is a prominent lawyer and one of the ablest men in Delaware. ...s been the leader of that faction of ...epublicans of Delaware who have ...vorable to Blaine.

...Higgins graduated from Yale College ...d with the degree of A. B., and was ...ted to the bar of New Castle county ...y, 1864. He is a man of fine appearance and genial manners, but his features ...rather rugged than handsome. Socially, he has always been much esteemed for ...is bright ways and ready wit, and can more than hold his own in any company. Since leaving college he has maintained correspondence with many of his early associates, many of whom are now in public life, and his acquaintance with well known men throughout the country is probably exceeded by few men of his day. The congratulations which come to him will be from all parts of the Union. Mr. Higgins comes of Quaker stock, but in his late years has affiliated with the Presbyterians. He is a bachelor and lives in good style in Wilmington.

UNITED STATES SENATORS RANSOM of North Carolina, Harris of Tennessee, Hoar of Massachusetts, Manderson of Nebraska and Frye of Maine have been re-elected this week, and E. O. Wolcott was elected U. S. Senator from Colorado.

THE House committee on invalid pensions has decided to report a bill making an increase in the amount of the pensions allowed for amputated limbs. The committee has also agreed to report favorably a bill proposing to increase the rate of pensions for total inability to perform manual labor from $30 (the present rate) to $60 per month; for loss of arm, from $30 to $36; for loss of an arm below the elbow, from $36 to $42, and for loss of an arm at the shoulder, from $55 to $50.

A NOVEL public sale took place in Centreville last week. Mr. E. B. Vandyke sold at public sale a lot of turkeys, roosters and pullets. The gobblers averaged $2.50 and the roosters $1.50 each.—Record.

A POSTOFFICE has been established at McGinnis, Queen Anne's county, Md., with James T. McGinnis as postmaster.

Decided to Sell.

The stockholders of the Chester River Bridge Company met last Monday. Wm. N. E. Wickes, Esq., president of the company, stated the object of the meeting. Five hundred and thirty-eight shares of stock, out of a total of 760, were represented and it was unanimously decided to sell the bridge to the two counties if proper arrangements are made. Par value is the price fixed—$15 per share—total $11,400. Messrs. W. N. E. Wickes, J. A. Pearce, C. T. Westcott, S. Vannort and Maj. E. F. Perkins were appointed a committee to report the action of the meeting to the boards of commissioners for the counties.

Mr. John L. Spry, of the Queen Anne's board, and Mr. Wm. Morris, of the Kent board, had a conference yesterday with the bridge committee, and a joint meeting of the two county boards will be arranged to be held as soon as possible, which will be about the 31st inst., to consider and definitely dispose of the matter.

Both counties having voted in favor of a free bridge, and the stockholders of the company now having acted favorably, it is thought there will be no further hindrance to the speedy consummation of the desired object. The equal division of the cost between the two counties is the only proposition considered here.

Appeal Taken.

Bradley S. Johnson, Esq., a Baltimore lawyer, and son of Gen. Bradley T. Johnson, was in Chestertown on Wednesday evening to look after the case of the dredge boat, R. J. McAllister. He learned, as stated in another column, that Justice Davis had condemned the boat and ordered her to be sold. He took an appeal to the Circuit Court, filing a bond for $2,000, with R. J. McAllister and Patrick Corbett as securities, which State's Attorney Smith accepted. Mr. Johnson then took possession of the boat and placed her in charge of Capt. Joseph B. Downey, whom he brought with him for the purpose.

Thus is the boat disposed of until next April. The poor hands who were caught on the boat have no one to intercede for them, and must lay in jail the intervening months until the Circuit Court can look into their cases.

Rumors of Another Battle.

Some excitement was caused here on Thursday by rumors, apparently well authenticated, that the worst battle of the season had taken place somewhere about the mouth of the river during the previous night. Heavy and continuous firing was heard from that direction and it was thought that the steamer McLane and Capt. Kerr's boat both must have a hand in it. But diligent inquiry failed to confirm the rumors. The Helen Baughman has been faithfully guarding the bars and at noon on Wednesday the McLane was at Kent Island wharf and a number of our citizens—Messrs. J. K. Aldridge, Harry Rickey, C. W. Kennard, Wm. H. McFeely, William Ford, J. Lloyd McFeely, and others—who were passengers on the Ford for Baltimore, had the pleasure of taking a look at the now noted vessel and her gallant commander, Captain Tom Howard. The captain said there had been no fight, and we have learned of none since. As stated in the NEWS last week, the fact that men like Tom Howard and Charley Kerr have the power to enforce the laws is worth more than the whole State force together under a negative policy.

A HOME VIEW—Does it Touch Kent Counties Too?—The Queenstown News has a lengthy editorial on the oyster war, and winds up as follows:

"After a careful study of the oyster question in all its various phases, we have come to the conclusion that it is not well to try and take the "Mote out of your brother's eye while you travel around with a beam in your own." We have noticed through all the excitement that oystermen who howl the loudest against the Baltimore dredgers are themselves not free from blame. About every other canoe that enters our creek now, carries a scrape; this is in open defiance of the law, as we have no scrape law in this county, and as soon as one of these fellows land on our wharf he will begin abusing the dredger, officers and politicians. The dredgers for violating the law, the officers for not arresting all violators (if they happen to be citizens of Baltimore), and the politicians for appointing bad officer, and winking at the violations. And while he is thus virtuously engaged in denouncing everybody, he has evidence in his boat tied to our wharf that would send him to the House of Correction."

Will our cotemporary's reference to the Queen Anne's oyster grounds apply also to Kent? Do any of our county tongers violate the law with scrapes while they cry out against the others for the use of the dredge? We hope not.

THE BALTIMORE SUN ALMANAC for 1889 was received with the issue of last Saturday. It is as usual a perfect work—worth in itself more than the cost of a year's subscription to the DAILY SUN to any business man. Every subscriber gets one free. It compiles and condenses in its hundred pages more useful information for all classes of the community than any publication of its size we know of. Indeed there is no other such publication for Maryianders.

A MAN has been arrested in Tunis who is believed to have perpetrated the recent revolting murders of a number of women in the Whitechapel district of London. The supposed Whitechapel murderer is charged with having committed in Tunis a murder similar to those committed in Whitechapel. The man has confessed that he recently lived in Whitechapel.

A NEW FIRE ENGINE for Pocomoke city was received there last week and the event was celebrated by a parade through the town attended by a brass band. The necessity for such fire apparatus was manifested in the great conflagration of November last, when the town was saved from utter annihilation only by the timely arrival of the Crisfield and Salisbury fire companies.

HIGH LICENSE RECOMMENDED.—The grand jury of Baltimore city in their report say in reference to the violation of the Sunday liquor law, "which have been more numerous than any other class of offense," that they believe that high license would do much to remedy the whole evil by reducing the number of places where liquor is sold. It would wipe out and exterminate the low groggeries, where more than one-half of the crimes of murder, robbery and assault either occur or originate. It will make the saloon pay for the support of the victims in the almshouses and prisons, provide for the orphans it makes and lessen taxes to the people.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.—MRS. Margaret B. Porter, an estimable widow lady of Burrsville, Caroline county, was found dead Sunday morning in her room. She had retired the night before in her usual good health, and her death was not known until Sunday morning, when the servants called her for breakfast, and getting no response opened the door and found her dead in bed. She was about 68 years of age and leaves seven grown children, among whom are F. A., P. W. and A. G. Porter, prominent citizens of that county. Heart disease was the cause of her death.

THE Smyrna hotel property has been purchased by Garrett Foxwell, one of the heirs, for $6,500.

REV. QUINCY L. MORROW, the noted evangelist, will be in Chestertown next week, and will assist in revival services which commence in Christ Church on Sunday Jan. 27.

THE "white caps are about!" comes the report from towns near by. In this land of law and order no one should be alarmed at their coming. If such outlaws do come their reception will not be gratifying.

BENJ. B. PRICE was last week appointed bridge tender of the bridge between Kent, Md., and Cecil counties by the county commissioners of Cecil county. The appointment is alternately made by the Cecil and Kent county commissioners.

A FALSE REPORT.—It was rumored on the street early Thursday morning that prisoners had escaped from jail the previous night. We are authorized by Sheriff Casey to say that the report is false, and that no evidence of an attempt to escape can be detected.

THE several public sales advertised to take place next week will no doubt attract large crowds. Prof. Hulme's sale includes not only valuable horses and cattle, but his farm implements, which he says are all nearly new. Dr. Phelps' personal property sale takes place on Friday, the 25th.

THE CLAY PIGEON SHOOTING which was advertised for the 9th on the "River View Trotting Grounds" did not take place that day because of the rain. On Friday of last week, however, the shooting took place with the following result:

Chestertown wins supper and purse by two birds. Cooper gets much credit for good shooting.

SABBATH SCHOOL OFFICERS.—We mentioned last week that the Sabbath School Association of the M. E. Church had re-elected Prof. T. N. Williams superintendent and Mr. M. A. Toulson assistant. Mirch, assistant, Prof. R. K. Pippin.

The teachers' association of Chirst Church Methodist Protestant Sabbath School, Chestertown, held its annual meeting on Wednesday evening last. Twenty-three teachers were present, and the pastor of the church, Rev. W. R. Graham, was chairman ex-officio. All the old officers were re-elected, except the treasurer, Miss Mary Davis, who refused to serve longer:

A MOST brutal and unprovoked murder occurred last Saturday night on Columbia avenue, in Baltimore. A young man named Edward Lepsom, not quite twenty-one, was walking with three companions on the street, when, without the slighest provocation, a negro, named James Sample, or Pembroke, who seemed to be intoxicated and was in company with a woman, drew a pistol and fired three shots at him. Two took effect, and the victim died half an hour after the shooting.

DEATH OF AN ESTIMABLE OLD LADY.—Mrs. Sarah A. Walraven, relict of Joseph Walraven, died last Monday morning at the residence of Mr. H. M. Stuart, her son-in-law, in Chestertown. She had been ill but a day or two. Her husband died at the same ripe age, eighty-three, about five years ago. The deceased was a native of Port Penn, Delaware, but came to Kent with her husband over forty years ago. She has long been a member of the M. E. Church, and was a lady of genuine Christian piety. She leaves five children living—Mrs. Wm. Morris, Mrs. H. M. Stuart, Mrs. J. W. Patten; James Walraven, of Salem, N. J., and William Walraven, of Queen Anne's. Her remains were interred in Chester Cemetery last Wednesday.

THE CREAMERY BUSINESS.

We notice by our exchanges the establishment of new creameries at different points on the peninsula. One is about to be started at Chesapeake City, which will be known as the "Spring Lake Creamery." The Kennedyville creamery, run by Messrs. Shafer & Davies is a success—not only profitable to the managers but also of great advantage to the agricultural community surrounding. The improvements to be made in this enterprise will soon enable it to use six hundred gallons of milk per day! The cost of buildings, machinery, &c., is about five thousand dollars. The concern now uses an average of three hundred gallons of milk, daily, which yields about 125 pounds of butter. The average price paid for milk is about ten cents per gallon. Sale for the butter is found in the city markets, most of it now going to Baltimore and Philadelphia. It has been selling for about 30 cents per pound for the best. We have had this butter on our table and can certify to its excellent quality.

Now, what we want to know is, why should we not have other creameries in Kent? It will pay a company to conduct such institutions at Chestertown and other points. Farmers can make nothing out of wheat and corn. Why not try milk, butter, stock and poultry upon a large scale?

PERSONAL MENTION.

C. T. Westcott, Esq., was in Centreville last Wednesday on business.

Miss Emma Greenwood, of Elk Neck, Cecil Co., is visiting friends in Kent.

A number of our citizens went to Baltimore this week to hear the celebrities, Booth and Barrett.

Lemuel Dunbracco and William J. Price, Jr., of Queen Anne's, spent Sunday with friends near Chestertown.

Thomas Hill, Esq., president of the Baltimore Real Estate Exchange, was in town this week on business.

Mr. Fred. Fountain and bride returned from their bridal tour on Tuesday and have settled down in their apartments at the Voshell House.

P. B. Hopper, Esq., State's Attorney for Queen Anne's county, and Edwin H. Brown, Esq., of Centreville, were in Chestertown on Monday.

Miss Lillie Hynson, daughter of Mr. A. J. Hynson, of Chestertown, is visiting at the residence of the Danish minister in Washington.

Mr. C. W. Kibler has been appointed postmaster at Catlin, vice Margaret R. Tucker, resigned.

Mr. Robert B. Dixon, of Easton, has been elected president of the bank in that town in place of Dr. I. L. Adkins, who resigned on account of continued ill health.

Mr. James H. Straughn, of Centreville, has removed to Denton and taken possession of the Brick Hotel, which he will hereafter conduct.

Rev. A. T. Melvin is able to be out again, and expects to attend the approaching session of his conference in March, though he will hardly take an appointment for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Colescot, of Philadelphia, spent last Sunday in Chestertown. The latter is making her first visit home at Mr. Joseph Price's, Lankford, since her marriage.

Wm. M. Busey, a prominent Baltimore lawyer, who has had an income of $10,000 per annum from his practice, has left the city because of "crooked practices." His failure is attributed to speculation.

Rev. E. L. Hubbard, of New Castle M. E. Church, has been granted a vacation of three months on account of his health and will sail to-day from New York for Europe. His physician told him that his only hope was in an entire change of climate.

Harry Chapman, son of Engineer Chapman on the Kent railroad, was hurt on the 5th of November last by a fall on the turntable while reaching up to the engine to hand his father his dinner basket. The left leg was hurt between the knee and ankle, and the little fellow has had a serious time of it since. He is still flat on his back but hoping to be better soon. Dr. Catlin attends him.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Emma J. Lambert, daughter of Mr. W. H. Lambert, of Chestertown, and Mr. Frank M. Miller, formerly of Cherry Hill, Cecil county, now holding a responsible position in the straw-board mill. The interesting event will take place next Wednesday evening at the residence of the parents of the bride on Queen street, and the ceremony be performed by Rev. J. D. Kemp.

Mr. Clinton Cook, of Denton, and well known in Chestertown, having graduated at Washington College, has been appointed railway postal clerk between Philadelphia and Crisfield. He will no doubt make a very competent officer and his friends here are much pleased at his appointment. The salary is $1,000 a year. He has already entered upon his duties.

Two live young Chestertown business men kept their places open last Saturday night as long as "the next one"—which means full midnight—and were in Baltimore bright and early next morning. They drove to Betterton and took the Ericsson steamer. V.'s anxiety to spend the Sabbath in the city is easily explained, but Mr. S.'s is not so easily accounted for—sympathy with his friend, possibly.

MATRIMONIAL.

SHALLCROSS—MILLER.

One of the most brilliant matrimonial events of the season took place in the Elkton M. E. Church on Thursday evening of last week. At that time Mr. THOMAS W. SHALLCROSS, a young farmer of Queen Anne's, and son of ex-Judge T. J. Shallcross of this county, led to the altar the beautiful and accomplished Miss MARY MILLER, daughter of Mr. Samuel H. Miller, a well-known citizen of the vicinity of Elkton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. Prettyman, a relative of the bride, assisted by Rev. Chas. Hill, of the Elkton Methodist Episcopal Church. The bridal party stood under a floral horseshoe. The bride was dressed in white silk and wore a bouquet of Niphetos roses and orange blossoms. The bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Miller, sister of the bride, and Miss Jeannette Shallcross, sister of the groom. The former wore white albatross, with a bouquet of Marechal Neil roses. Miss Shallcross was dressed in white satin tulle. The groomsmen were Mr. Serick Shallcross, of New York, cousin of the groom, and L. B. Morrow, of Wilmington, Del. The ushers were Walter L. Butler and W. C. Murgatroyd, of Wilmington, Del., Frank B. Harvey, of Dickinson College, and W. G. Shallcross, of Dover Del.

Mrs. Daniel Harvey, Jr., presided at the organ with her usual skill. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played as the bridal party entered the church. The organ was played softly during the ceremony and afterwards the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march broke forth. A reception was held after the ceremony at the residence of the bride's father near Elkton. The presents received by the bride were very handsome. Many of the guests wore handsome costumes.

A DARING HORSEBACK RESCUE.—Near Kingston, N. C., one day last week, Richard West was out with his sweetheart horseback riding when her horse became frightened and dashed away at great speed. The young man seeing her perilous condition at once lashed his horse, and although her horse was several feet ahead of him he soon overtook her, and calling out for her to loose her foot from the stirrup, in an instant while both horses were running at breakneck speed, he caught her about the waist and snatched her from the jaws of death. When he had stopped his horse the young lady was completely overcome with fright, and medical attention was necessary. Otherwise she was not injured.

CHARLES F. MAYER, the new president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, inherited a large fortune and carned another, but makes no display, because he has no time to indulge in luxury and extravagance. Not only a tireless worker himself, he inspires all who surround him to be industrious.

REAL ESTATE IN BALTIMORE.—The annual report of Thomas Hill, Esq., president of the Baltimore Real Estate Exchange, shows a decrease in the number of buildings erected during 1888, as compared with 1887, but a decided increase in the number of costly bank and business improvements, indicating that capital, always the first to grow timid, has implicit confidence in the future growth and prosperity of the city. He thinks the accession of the Belt offers a fine field for enterprise to real estate dealers and builders, and that as soon as it has been officially laid off, a strong impetus will be given to house-building.

REPRESENTATIVE GIBSON has had Moses W. Legg, of this county, appointed assistant keeper of the light at Love Point, at the mouth of Chester river.
