SATURDAY, MAY 18, 1889.

GROWTH OF THE MILITIA.—The War Department at Washington in a receipt daily of requisitions for ordnance and quarter-master stores for the equipment of the militia of the country under the annual appropriation of $400,000, not only from old organizations, but from those which have recently come into existence. In the Territory particularly are there signs of activity among the militia force. The old organizations are gradually changing their equipment to conform to that of the regular army. It is said that there were fully 50,000 militiamen in New York on the occasion of the centennial celebration. The fact is thought to be significant of the wonderful efficiency of the present organization, making it possible to concentrate an army of well drilled and well equipped soldiers within a day at most any of the most important points in the country. In the Territory nearly 75,000 soldiers could be gathered.

DEFENSE IN A "HULL-LESS OATS" CASE.—The first case in the "Hull-less Oats" suits came up for trial last Thursday and attracted considerable interest. It was a note on Wm. H. Frazier given to E. N. Hook, for the sum of $200, payable to the Kent National Bank, and assigned by Hook to Messrs. Price & Busted, and by them assigned to Dorens & Ritter, phosphate dealers of Baltimore. Messrs. Price & Busted assigned about $4,000 worth of "Hull-less Oats" paper to the same party. DESTRUCTION OF THE QUEEN ANNE'S COMMISSIONERS.—Instead of saying in so many words that they do not intend to purchase the Chester River Bridge at the stockholders' price—and they know that it cannot be had for anything less—the Queen Anne's commissioners are still dilatory in carrying out the matter. At their meeting on Tuesday last week Mr. Wm. W. Busted was appointed an agent to visit Chester and enter into negotiations with the Chester River Bridge Company or its duly authorized agent or attorney for the purchase of said bridge and report the result of his negotiations to them for further action. Their whole proceeding reads like romance and we give it in full for the benefit of those readers who like that style of composition.

DEATH OF DR. L. A. ADKINS.—A Well-Known Eastern Shore Physician and Farmer's Career Ended.

Dr. Isaac Leonard Adkins died at his residence in Easton, Md., on the 10th inst., after a lingering illness. He was born at Milford, Delaware, in 1823, and came to Kent at the academy in that town. He studied medicine and attended lectures at the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, graduating in 1848, and beginning practice in that city. He was at the head of the Hospital at Moyamensing in 1849, where the Asiatic cholera ravaged Philadelphia and his labors then broke down his health. In 1852 Dr. Adkins married Mary Hughtell, daughter of Colonel William Hughtell of Talbot county, settled in Talbot county and engaged in agricultural pursuits on a large estate, farming several thousand acres of land. In 1857 he was elected a director in the Eastern National Bank, and in 1859 became its president. His position he continued to hold with great acceptability until physical prostration compelled his resignation last year. Dr. Adkins was a vestryman of St. Peter's Parish P. E. Church, a member of the diocesan and general conventions, and held other important church offices and trusts. Mr. Adkins survives him, and he leaves two sons and two daughters. His funeral will be held at the residence of the P. E. parish at Greenboro, Caroline county; William Hughtell Adkins, of the Baltimore bar; Mrs. Mary Hughtell Adkins, wife of Daniel M. Henry, Jr., of Cambridge, and Miss Virginia Lee Adkins. The funeral took place at the residence of St. Peter's Church, on Sunday, and was largely attended. Bishop Adams and a number of clergymen officiated. Rev. E. H. Adkins, son of the deceased, read the committal service at the grave. The pall-bearers were Gen. E. F. Hardecave, Dr. John C. Earle, Robert H. Dixon, Dr. J. E. M. Chamberlain, Dr. Jas. H. Anderson, Dr. J. M. H. Batesman, M. T. Goddard and Henry Hill Cemetery.

ALARMING PANIC IN BARBORN'S SHOW.—During the exhibition by the Barbarn show at Williamsport, Pa., on Friday afternoon last week, a violent storm suddenly came up and a panic was created in the large tent. The canvas began to give way and it began to look as though it would come down bodily. Many of the poles were lifted three or four feet from the ground, and three cages of animals were overturned and some valuable specimens were injured, an antelope being so badly crippled that it had to be killed. The elephants, finding themselves fast under the canvas, began to make violent demonstrations, and the people were greatly alarmed.

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE SHOW estimate the loss to their outfit at $10,000, not to speak of the loss by having to dispose with the evening performance. A number of the performers were more or less injured.

GALENA.

ONE OF KENT'S PRETTIEST VILLAGES.

Within sixteen miles of Chestertown, in the midst of Kent's most productive lands, is located the village of Galena. By the terms of its charter it does not mean to imitate little, dreary, lonesome, forsaken-looking place, with a half dozen or more houses. We use the word in its best sense. When we compare the advantages that larger towns have over Galena, we are surprised at its progress and appearance. It has that look of coziness which might be applied to a village of country homes, which it really is. In one's approach to Galena from the direction of Chestertown a very unpromising view meets the eye, but when on the Main street a redeeming sight disabuses the first impression.

Galena consists principally of one main street and one cross street. In 1887 the population was estimated at four hundred, but the next census will have to add a great many more, judging from the young generation which now seems so numerous. A town hall, which will seat from three to five hundred, hotel, a good grocery, store, two of which—Messrs. Whittaker & Horsey's—have galleries within; jeweler, harness maker, (Mr. H. Parr) are establishments of which this town can boast. Her machine shops, conducted by Mr. W. A. Hyland, are the largest in the village; Messrs. Hicks & Bro. carry on a blacksmithing, wheelwrighting and undertaking business. Mr. Colin F. Taylor is the proprietor of a nursery. Street lamps furnish light. Her school cannot be surpassed, either in its management or in the convenience of its buildings. It is noteworthy that plenty of light, roomy play grounds and is supplied with a bell and shade trees. The efficient teachers of this school are, principal, Prof. B. Long; first assistant, Miss Nora Inley; second assistant, Miss F. S. Jones. This village is certainly well provided with religious teaching, if we may judge by the number of steeples that lift their gilded spires to the heavens, there being three churches immediately in the village, viz: the Protestant Episcopal, Catholic and the Methodist Episcopal churches. The latter is under the Rev. Mr. Batte; the Catholic church is in the northwest section of the town and is largely attended. Rev. Father Murphy, rector; the Methodist Episcopal Church is one of the prettiest and most tastefully furnished churches in the county. It has recently undergone a thorough renovation and was rededicated about a year ago. The structure is a gem of beauty, with tower and spire in front, Gothic windows in stained glass, several of which are memorial windows; with a tastefully and neatly furnished interior, a rich-toned, 1000-pound bell in the tower, a present from Mr. Frank Ruth. It is beautifully furnished and carpeted throughout, and is seated with folding chairs of an attractive pattern. The whole cost was about $4,200.

It is worthy of notice that the church is on the suburbs of the town, in a chapel in the center of the village, in which are held Sunday school, social meetings, etc. The beloved pastor of this congregation is the Rev. I. G. Fosnotch.

The main street is a good illustration of the village attractive, but the public comfort and health also are increased by the abundance of air and perfume so redolent. Most of the houses are set well back from the street, with pretty yards of flowers and shade trees, and in the evening, when the sun sinks low in the many-hued west and the eastern sky is clothed in royal purple, it is a pretty view to walk along this main street. Or at noon, when the thermometer registers ninety, the hammocks swinging beneath the maple look cool and inviting.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The county commissioners of Queen Anne's county are still dilatory in carrying out the matter. At their meeting on Tuesday last week Mr. Wm. W. EVESVILLE LOCALS.

ON SATURDAY EVENING LAST WEEK,

at the Swan Creek school house, Miss Mary Price, the teacher, together with scholars and friends, gave an entertainment for the purpose of raising or procuring money with which to enclose the school grounds with a suitable fence. The weather was pleasant and the house was filled with the people in the immediate neighborhood and some who came long distances, Worcester being strongly and intelligently represented. Miss Minnie Stevens presided at the organ and conducted the singing by the school. Program as follows: Singing by school; dialogue by five boys, "Trial for Blowing," in which the criminal was severely rebuked for such bad habits; recitation by Miss Mary Jewell; reading, by Miss Ella Stevens; dialogue, by several girls, playing singing school; vocal solo, by Mr. Richard S. Diehl—I do not know the name of the song, but know that Richard snatched his mother most violently a number of times as he progressed singing; school recitation; Miss Lillian Stevens, recitation by Nelson Stevens; dialogue, "Vanity Vanquished," by a young gentleman and four young ladies—the gentleman failed finally, after so many winks and blinks, to marry any one of them, and properly so; singing by the school; ice cream and cake, free of charge. Everything passed so pleasantly and so successfully that I am led to remark that Miss Price and co-laborers may feel proud of the enterprise and industry they have manifested in that connection. I deem it proper to state further that Messrs. W. B. Stephens, Jesse Usilton and Lou. Ulrich, all of whom being present, very kindly consented to be used, in addition to the above mentioned program, and thereby added greatly to the enjoyment of all in the several pieces recited. I, therefore, by this means express thanks for my part and know it is ratified by all connected with the school. I cannot help loving these old school grounds, for I have spent many happy days, months and years thereon, skipping, jumping, corner-ball and leap-frog. Since which time, however, I have been made to feel sad when I begin to count up the then future. Swan Creek school can always get a quarter from me for any enterprise in its interest.

THE LANKFORD BASE-BALL CLUB came to this place last Saturday and defeated our club by the score of 72 to 13.

MR. J. FRANK WHEATLEY is making quite an improvement by repairing and adding to his residence. It is noteworthy that the church is on the suburbs of the town, in a chapel in the center of the village, in which are held Sunday school, social meetings, etc. The beloved pastor of this congregation is the Rev. I. G. Fosnotch.

ME. BRYSTON, curvator and tin merchant, made a visit to Smyrna on Tuesday last and returned home last Wednesday evening with his bride. They occupy the house made vacant by Samuel Dudley, who goes to Wilmington to follow his trade. The bride is the daughter of a good carpenter in the town of Mr. Duling.

A visit was paid us by Attorney-General John Biggs on Wednesday. He thinks the peaches around Millington promise a good crop. Joseph W. Hazel, of the Baltimore bar, paid his relatives and friends a short visit last week. He has been practicing in that city for several years. Benj. M. Hazel returned home early last week from Chicago where he has spent four months as superintendent of a Baltimore electric machine.

A horse belonging to W. H. Ford was badly injured on Sunday last by running into a barbed wire fence.

THE LADIES OF THE M. E. Church South held a festival at McWhorter's Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of last week and realized $55 net. The farmers complain of the wet ground, and many who planted early want to turn their corn. Mr. James R. Jones at this writing is delivering timothy hay in Millington. He is about the only farmer we know of who sells hay here. It must be a paying crop when compared to the low price of corn. Politics are at a low ebb. The home of Mrs. Blackiston has been newly repaired and thoroughly painted on Sassafras street. A back building is being added to the hotel here occupied by Samuel Mallalieu. Wm. Loper left here Monday to attend court in Wilmington as witness in the case of Dr. Parry, who was killed by a passenger train on the Delaware road last fall. Mr. T. was an eye witness of the accident and his testimony is very important. Cans are out announcing the marriage of Miss Emily Boyer, of this place, to Henry Roberts, Esq. of Delaware City, on the 22d instant. (Occasional.)

KENNEDYVILLE NEWS.—REV. R. B. TREDWELL, of St. James M. P. Church, preached here last Sunday night to a full house. Rev. Dr. J. H. Egleman, the gentleman who is to take charge of the Change and Creamery, has returned from a week's visit to his parents. Mr. Ebleman visited several creameries while at home. The Kennedyville base ball club defeated the Sassafras Club at Kennedyville Saturday by a score of 22 to 5. The boys are quite elated over their victory and will return the game Saturday at Sassafras. COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, May 14.—Full board present. An order for $652.50 was drawn upon Eugene's Groceries, collector, by Wm. H. Finley, contractor, for the iron bridge over Cypress branch. The board, in its individual capacity, made a note to obtain $753.00, to pay for work on Sandy Hook Hill and Galena road as it progresses. Wm. H. Colehan, collector of fifth district, presented his bond, which was approved. A certified copy of the resolutions passed by the board of county commissioners for Queen Anne's county relative to the purchase of the Chester river bridge, was received. Petitions were granted as follows: A. F. Rockwell 10, V. T. Cohee 10, Jas. Brown and wife, colored, $12. Harry Thompson, colored, $10. OBRAHS' WORK, May 14, 1889.—Present, Judges Walker, Fisher and Moffett. The last will and testament of Geo. W. Christfield was admitted to probate. R. C. Smyth, adm'r of Robert H. Lead, passed his second and final account. Wm. M. Slay and Mary A. Clotier, adm'r of E. S. Clotier, passed their second and final administration. Wm. H. Bowers, exec'r of Wm. L. Bowers, passed his first adm'r account. Wm. H. and Robert A. Bowers, exec's of Thomas L. Bowers, filed account of sale of personal property of their decedent.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

FRIDAY, May 10.—Joseph Basin vs. Robt. H. Smith. Jury trial. Basin sued Smith for $165, with interest on a covenant in lease. Smith brought in a bill in bar of $413, and claimed the difference in the accounts. Smith's bill consisted of claims for laying bed, board of servants, balance of proceeds of corn crop and wages of hands. Verdict for Smith for $125. Harroll and Smith for Basin, R. D. Hyson and Eric for Smith.

SATURDAY, May 11.—French, Richards & Co. vs. Richard D. Hyson, administrator of John F. Whittington. Harroll for F. R. & Co., Hyson for Hyson. French, Richards & Co. held a judgment of $180 against A. R. Todd, and had an attachment in the hands of Richard D. Hyson, administrator of John F. Whittington, to condemn the same assets, and offered the judgment of $43 before Eugene Burgess, which he had already executed. The attachment of French, Richards & Co., however, was laid in the hands of the administrator on Dec. 29, 1888, and the same before the magistrate on the 10th of January, 1889. The court entered judgment for French, Richards & Co. for $43 and costs. D. M. Osborne & Co. vs. John C. Sutton, R. D. Hyson for Osborne & Co. An injunction issued for $277.08 damages and $24.44 costs. Injunction granted for $125.00 damages and $12.44 costs.

ON FIRE IN MID OCEAN.—The Hamburg American Line steamer Rugia, from New York May 2, for Hamburg, which arrived Plymouth at 2 P. M. on Sunday, reports that the cotton in her hold was spontaneously ignited on the 8th. The fire burned fiercely but was quenched after five anxious hours, during which everything had been got in readiness to abandon the steamer. One hundred and thirty burning cotton bales were jettisoned. Great fright prevailed among the passengers, who remained on deck for forty-eight hours. Through the efforts to quench the fire, the cabins were flooded, and two-thirds of the passengers' luggage was spoiled. Much property was lost. The captain and crew for their exertions. After the fire gained considerable headway the captain ordered the passengers to desert the ship, but were prevented from doing so by the captain, who, through the efforts to quench the fire, the cabins were flooded, and two-thirds of the passengers' luggage was spoiled. Much property was lost. The captain and crew for their exertions.

Prices that will teach you in the silent logic of truth that we are selling goods at rock bottom. Hence we throw out among the masses these specialties—these matchless goods and matchless prices—to check this insane and criminal practice of wasting money. We buy our goods for the cash, and the house that wants the trade of the people must go beyond this advance line—must beat our prices—for if there is anything in good goods at low prices, we mean to be masters of the situation—the LIVE PIONEER who dives down to ROCK BOTTOM.
