CHESTERTOWN - JULY 13, 1889.

HON. GEORGE M. RUSSUM will be the Republican candidate for State Senator next fall in Caroline. To get a bigger place?—He may lose both.

THE shipyards on the Delaware river at Wilmington and Chester are crowded with work and have contracted for a number of vessels of various patterns to be built in the near future. Shipyards throughout the country are having a boom.

STATE SENATOR THOMAS V. COOPER has been appointed collector of the port of Philadelphia and has arranged to enter upon duty next Monday. Collector Cadwalader sent in his resignation on Monday, and, having been elected president of a newly organized trust company, asked to be relieved by July 15.

THE long-talked of fight between John L. Sullivan, of Boston, ex-champion, and Jake Kilrain, of Baltimore, holder of the Police Gazette diamond championship belt, for twenty thousand dollars and the heavy-weight championship of the world, came off on Monday at Richburg, Miss., 103 miles from New Orleans, and resulted in a victory for Sullivan in the seventy-fifth round. Time, two hours and eighteen minutes.

NEW REVENUE COLLECTOR.—Mr. Henry Clay Dodson, of St. Michaels Talbot county, has received from Collector Hill his appointment as deputy collector of internal revenue for the fifteenth division of the district of Maryland, embracing Dorchester, Talbot, Caroline, Queen Anne's, Kent and Cecil counties. The transfer of the office to him by Mr. G. E. Haddaway, the present incumbent, will be made July 15. Mr. Dodson will have his office in St. Michaels.

THE barge Lone Star arrived at Baltimore on Saturday from Bangor, Me., with 2,748 tons of ice consigned to the Cochran-Oler Ice Company. Upon the authority of Capt. Jackson, of the Lone Star, this is not only the largest cargo of ice received in Baltimore, but also the largest ever shipped from any port in Maine, the great ice-grower of the United States. The Lone Star is built of iron, 275 feet long, 281 feet long over all, 38 feet beam and 20 feet depth of hold.

FROM one point of view the prohibition defeat in Pennsylvania is not so discouraging. The prohibitionists polled 296,617 votes. The "wets" polled 484,644, making their majority 188,027. But 296,617 votes for prohibition in June, against only 20,756 for Fisk last November, is a rapid increase. It shows at least that there are a quarter of a million persons in Pennsylvania who are prohibitionists in sentiment, though they deem it unwise to vote for prohibition as a national issue.

THE DROWNING SEASON.—Baltimore is having its full share of drowning accidents. On Saturday and Sunday there were six. Two met their death by the overturning of a boat. Three fell from wharves, and one was in swimming. It is probably useless to repeat the well-known warnings, but it would be a good thing if all people could be induced to remember them. Swimming and boating on our rivers and creeks are now among the most enjoyable sports. Boys, be careful!

WILL laws or sermons ever keep the people from betting? It seems that the heart, of the average man delights in nothing so much as in a wager.—American.

The truth of the above was forcibly illustrated in Chestertown last Sunday night. As we passed out of the door of a prominent church we heard this conversation between two young men who had just emerged from the sacred precincts: First young man—I'll bet you a dollar it was not her. Second young man—Well, I can't do that, I'll bet you half a dollar. That's all money I've got!

O ROLLING-MILLS in what is known as e lower yard of the Dupont Powder Works, situated about three miles from Wilmington, Del., exploded at 10.15 Friday night, 5th instant, with terrific force. The concussion shook houses in that city and caused considerable alarm. The mills, which were built of heavy masonry, were demolished. Each contained about three tons of powder. No one was hurt, but ten minutes later the men would have been changed and some would probably have been killed. The explosion was caused by a spark from friction with the roller in one mill, and the other, being near, the flying sparks ignited it. Explosions in the rolling mills are not uncommon, but this was of unusual severity.

THERE is a decided impression in Washington that the President will call an extra session of Congress prior to November 1. The impression is strengthened by the fact that a Western Senator who intends leaving for Europe called at the White House on Monday to say farewell. The President in taking him by the hand said, "You will be back in October." The Senator replied that he had expected to protract his visit beyond that period. The President then, with much earnestness, proceeded to give various reasons why it was essential for Congress to resume its sitting in October. While he was in the midst of his arguments Chief Justice Fuller came up and the conversation was interrupted, but the Senator left the White House convinced that the President will issue his proclamation for an extra session.

THE CECIL DEMOCRAT is offered for sale. It is one of the best country papers in the State.

THE STRAWBOARD MILL.—There was some uneasiness in the community recently by rumors of the sale of the Strawboard Mill, located near Chestertown—the apprehension being that if it fell into the hands of distant capitalists the works might be closed. The rumored sale proved true, but fears of a shut-down groundless. Wilbur Eliason, Esq., who took charge of the mill in 1886, and by the expenditure of a large additional sum for improvements lifted the concern from a stagnant condition to a successful enterprise, has sold the mill to the American Strawboard Company of Chicago, Ill. This company has a monopoly of the strawboard business in this country; with a capital of six millions, and owning every large mill in the United States except three or four, it is in a condition to make anything desired out of the Chestertown mill. Our community interested in the mill will be glad to know that Mr. Eliason continues as general manager of the mill, though now as a salaried officer of the company, and that there will be little change in the employes. The grist mill was not included in the sale.

PICNICS.—The Protestant Episcopal and Methodist Episcopal Sabbath schools of Chestertown held their annual picnics on Thursday—the former in Baker's woods, and the latter at Queenstown per regular trip of steamer Emma A. Ford. A heavy thunder storm about five o'clock in the afternoon greatly marred the pleasure of the woods picnickers and drove them home, while down the river there was but little rain and the school remained on the ground until the arrival of the steamer. The school was accompanied by the Kent Military Band, led by Geo. B. Twilley as drum major both going to and coming from the boat. The band played quite a number of excellent pieces while on the grounds. During the day there was a game of baseball which was composed of two picked nines under the captainships of Messrs. Walter T. Pippin and L. Bates Russell in five innings, the score stood 16 to 8 in favor of Pippin's nine. Prof. T. N. Williams and Rev. R. W. Todd each made a short speech. Besides the good dinners taken along there was a plentiful supply of ice-cream and cake, and a very enjoyable day was spent.

The Methodist Protestant Sabbath school will hold their annual picnic in Baker's woods next Wednesday.

HEALTHFULNESS OF THE EASTERN SHORE.—Dr. Chancellor, secretary of the State Board of Health, was present at a meeting held in Easton last week looking to the foundation of a stock company for the purpose of building a new hotel in that town, and by request made a brief statement from statistics gathered, of the healthfulness of the Eastern Shore. He said the health of the people in this section was remarkable, almost phenomenal. There is but one place in the world where the health of the people is better, and less susceptible to pulmonary diseases, than is this peninsula, it being located in Asia. Consumption is foreign to the Eastern Shore, and is only developed by inheritance from an alien to our climate. The climate here seems providentially adapted to invalids, and the people have a natural blessing of climate which is worth to them more than words can express; it is unexcelled.

He then went on to explain some of the causes of this remarkable atmosphere. The gulf stream has a wonderful influence in carrying off the impurities in the air. It is nearer the coast of this peninsula than any other place north of the southern coast of Florida, being within sixty miles of the coast. The isothermal line of the Eastern Shore of Maryland is the same as that of Madrid in Spain and Florence in Italy. The slope of the land is southward, which has a tendency to increase the standard of health. The sun's rays in winter strike this section at an angle, as it does no other place in the world. This accounts for an almost even winter temperature. The sum of $23,500 has been subscribed towards the erection of the hotel and the success of the undertaking seems to be assured. The doctor said there would be no trouble to fill the house with guests ten months out of the twelve.

OF INTEREST TO YOUNG MEN.—Young men desiring a successful start in business life should write to Palm's Business College, 1709 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, for handsome circulars, which will be sent free, provided you name this paper. This institution issues a Life Scholarship for Fifty Dollars, and secures situations for its graduates. This is a rare chance for those who wish to become bread winners.

ABOUT one hundred and twenty-five veterans, principally Marylanders, of the federal forces engaged in the battle of the Monocacy, on July 9, 1864, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of that event Friday by visiting their old battle-field. Incidentally, too, they formed a permanent national organization, the object of which is to erect a suitable monument in a conspicuous spot on the field to the memory of those of their comrades who fell in the battle.

THE Clayton Call states that the Baltimore & Delaware Bay Railroad Company is having built a float with a capacity of nineteen cars. It will ply between Woodland Beach and Bay Side, N. J. The company will also furnish the towing power in the shape of a tug.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE has the prettiest campus and the most beautiful situation of any college in Maryland. Every Eastern Shoreman should patronize it.—JOHN Y. TODD in Easton Democrat.

Pleasant Outings.

The advantages that Plum Point offers as a secluded summer resort have heretofore been described at length in the NEWS. On Thursday a party consisting of Misses Sallie Carroll, Mary Chapman, Lottie Russell, Hattie Bacchus, Messrs. W. Bradford Copper, D. Arthur Bacchus, Irving L. Twilley and Fred. G. Usilton spent a most delightful evening at this point. Bathing, crabbing, fishing, sailing and a substantial evening meal by moonlight were among the pleasant and enjoyable pastimes. Mr. Wm. B. Stephens, Messrs. Theo. Pennypacker and H. Keyser spared no pains in making everything as pleasant as possible. While other places in Kent were having heavy showers this company were out on the bay enjoying the fresh air, as but very little rain fell at this point.

A company consisting of Misses May Price, May and Gulie Parrott, Irene Covington, Mamie Norris, Sue and Bertie Jump, Nellie Covington, Nettie Lederer, Fannie Sekeles, Lucy Chandler, Jennie Webb, Mary Stokes, Lulie Stevenson, and Messrs. Henry Turner, Chas. Norris, John Norris, Cowgill Austen, T. D. Bowers, Jno. Parrott, Will Price, Harry Casey, started from Betterton at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning for a day's outing. Captain Jack Owens had charge of one skiff and Captain Wheeler the other. After spending the morning at Stony Point, they went to Spesutia Island and spent the remainder of the day in various amusements. They sailed home by moonlight and landed safely at Betterton at 9.30.

A party of Baltimoreans pitched their tents on the bay shore, near Mr. Percy Skirven's, yesterday. They number about twenty, and will be camped there for a week or more.

WHAT TO DO IN DROWNING CASES.—The unusual number of drowning cases recently reported suggest the idea that if the public generally understood the best manner of resuscitating those who have been rescued from the water in a drowning condition the death rate from this cause might be somewhat lessened. The method adopted by Dr. Sylvester, a celebrated English physician, for producing artificial respiration is regarded by Dr. Steuart, commissioner of health, of Baltimore, as the best known, and he fully indorses it. Sylvester's method is as follows: "Lay the person to be treated upon the back, then kneeling behind the head seize each arm near the elbow and move them round horizontally, first away from the body then over the head until they meet above it, when they should be given a steady pull for a few seconds. This fills the lungs with air by drawing the ribs up and so enlarging the cavity of the chest. The second maneuver consists in returning the arms to their former position alongside the chest, and making strong pressure against the lower ribs, so as to drive the air out of the chest and effect respiration. This should occupy but a second of time, and be repeated about sixteen times per minute for some time, and not abandoned until it has been certainly ascertained that the heart has ceased beating."

A LAWN PARTY.—Mr. and Mrs. Harrison W. Vickers gave a lawn party at their beautiful residence near Chestertown on Saturday last, in honor of Miss Barber, a popular young lady of Charles county, who is their guest, which proved to be one of the most pleasant social events of the season. The company commenced gathering about half-past six o'clock, and when all had congregated it embraced quite a multitude of the youth and beauty of town and country people. The grounds were beautifully lighted with long rows of glittering transparencies, and sweet melodies greeted the ear on every hand. Games and other pastimes were indulged in, and during the evening the visitors were invited to tables bountifully laden with fruit, ice-cream and other refreshments. The evening was delightfully pleasant, which made the occasion all the more enjoyable.

A REGATTA.—A regatta will be held next Friday in which twenty or more boats will participate. The races will take place on Chester river at Chestertown. Already a good purse has been raised and a big time is anticipated. The start will be given at ten o'clock sharp, and all boats not here at that time will not be waited for. Two skiff races and a bateau race will be the classes, and if the wind should be stiff a good race will be witnessed, as Chestertown boasts of some of the swiftest sailing crafts on the river. Come up Quaker Neck, Kent Island, Grey's Inn, and everywhere and bring your sailing crafts rigged with white wings as large as they will carry. The course will be from the bridge around the bouy at Primrose's Point and return. Subscriptions will be gladly received by either Mr. Frank Duyer or Mr. Edw. Lambert.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.—The Baltimore Olive Branch, (Geo. Colton's paper,) pays the following compliment to a son of Col. A. P. Sharp, of Rock Hall: We are glad to see that the faculty of Yale College has conferred upon Mr. George M. Sharp the degree of Master of Arts. Mr. Sharp is one of the most promising young members of the Baltimore bar. In politics he is a Republican, but conservative and liberal in his sentiments. Skilled in his profession, gentlemanly in his deportment, and possessing literary attainments of a high order, he is destined to reach the highest point of his profession. We congratulate him upon this deserved mark of esteem from one of our most distinguished institutions of learning.

THE big trees in front of the market house have been cut and trimmed to such an extent as to raise the query whether it would not have been better to take them up altogether? Officer Duyer found the job greater than he expected when he undertook to rejuvenate the old giants. The cutting brings into better view the graceful (?) proportions of the old armory and makes an awkward appearance of things generally about that section. The trimming was not commenced any too soon as the numerous dead limbs had become dangerous.

REMEDY FOR CHILLS.—The Anne Arundel Advertiser gives the following remedy for chills, which is recommended as a certain cure. The following are the ingredients: Five cents worth of cream tartar, teaspoonful of ground cloves, mixed well together in molasses. Dose—one teaspoonful three times a day. The afflicted should try it.

BLACKISTON'S CROSS ROADS is to have a postoffice shortly. B. F. Graham is to be postmaster, and the mail will be carried from Clayton by James Burris for $175 a year. The name of the office will be "Blackiston," and will be open for business in a week or two.

REDUCTION IN COAL.—It will be seen by reference to Dr. Twilley's coal advertisement that his prices for July will be $5.25 for egg and nut and $5.50 for stove.

READ Friedman's new clothing advertisement in this issue. He has marked down to bottom rock.

ROWDYISM IN MILLINGTON.—Whiskey seems to be plentiful in Millington, especially among the colored population. Saturday night rows and daily drunkenness are now disgracing the fair name of our sister town and rendering many of its respectable citizens unhappy in their quiet homes by reason of the brawls which occur at their very doors. There is no constable or other peace officer in the town except Justice Wm. M. Johnson, and he has more than his hands full to perform the duties of both magistrate and constable in the condition of affairs above named. Yet, this worthy officer seems determined not to allow drunken negroes to entirely over-ride the town. On last Saturday night he interposed his authority to quell a disgraceful row, and, assisted by Mr. J. P. Hearn, arrested one of the leaders—a man named Wm. Moore. A crowd of the negroes, led by a white man from Queen Anne's, rescued the prisoner before the officers had taken him fifty yards. State's Attorney Smith has been informed of the occurrences and Justice Johnson has full authority to arrest the guilty parties and hold them for court. Lloyd Simmonds, one of the parties engaged in the Saturday night row, is now in jail and it is to be hoped that all the others will be taken soon. Who are the free license whiskey sellers in Millington?

Death of a Well-Known Lady.

MRS. EMMA M. HURTT, wife of James H. Hurtt, Esq., of the Voshell House, Chestertown, died on Tuesday morning at 8.35 o'clock, aged 46 years, after a lingering illness of several months. Mrs. Hurtt was a daughter of William and Susan Austin, of Easton, Md., and was married to Mr. Hurtt January 14, 1868. Since her residence in Chestertown Mrs. Hurtt had made many friends. The funeral services were conducted at her late residence by Rev. S. C. Roberts, of the P. E. Church, Thursday, at 2 P. M., and the remains were interred in the cemetery at Millington. The pallbearers, selected by deceased, were Senator W. D. Burchinal, Marion deK. Smith, Jas. S. Bradley, Benj. F. Fleming, Samuel Vannort and Frederick Fountain.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.—Thos. Wilkins, col'd, aged about 15 years, was committed to jail for a further hearing on Wednesday last on the charge of stealing a horse and certain articles of clothing from Wesley Cannan. Mr. C. who lives on the Porter farm in Quaker Neck, states that the boy came to his house from Queen Anne's on the evening of July 4th, and was allowed to stay all night. Next morning he was gone; a valuable young iron-grey horse was missing also, together with a pair of boots and other clothing. Mr. Cannan at once started in search and succeeded in tracking the fugitive to a farm near Cecilton. The boy owned up and told the route he took to reach that point which, if true, gave him a bare-back ride of about seventy-five miles in eight hours! Mr. C. was certainly fortunate in recovering his property and showed his pluck and skill in tracing up and capturing the thief.

THE school taught by Miss Mary A Stephens held its annual picnic in the mill woods on Friday, June 28. It was well attended by the children and patrons with a few invited friends. The literary program consisted of declamations and singing by the children, also an appropriate reading by Miss Georgia Porter and a recitation by Miss Elsie J. Stephens, students of Swarthmore College. A comic song was gracefully rendered by Miss Davidson, after which the exercises concluded as usual with cream and cake. Three prizes of merit were awarded to Alice Gemmill, Walter Hickman and Clarence Miller.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Paul Russell, the seven-year-old son of the late A. M. Russell, while amusing himself with an ice-cream freezer at Mrs. Cummings', on Tuesday, caught the forefinger of his left hand in the cogs, entirely severing it from the hand, and the end of the middle finger was also torn off. Dr. Hines dressed the wound and says it will necessarily be very painful for some time.

Mr. S. F. Smith chipped off a piece of his right thumb while using a beef chopper last Monday, but has not been greatly inconvenienced thereby.

WHEAT.—Farmers are availing themselves of every fit day for wheat threshing. The crop in the county is seriously hurt by the "scab," and the turn-out is far below the average in every case we have heard of thus far. A few exceptional yields have been as high as thirty-two bushels per acre. Prices in the Baltimore market have ruled about as follows during the week: 80 and 85 cents for wet, damp and garlicky; 90 and 92 cents for fair to good; 95 cents for prime. Buyers in Chestertown have been offering 80 cents per bushel.

SALE OF A HARDWARE AND STOVE STORE.—Marion deK. Smith, Esq., as trustee, offers at private sale the stock, as a whole, of Wm. A. Wheatley's hardware and stove business in Chestertown. Mr. Wheatley, having made an assignment of all his property to Mr. Smith for the benefit of his creditors, it is necessary that the goods shall be disposed of at once. Any one desiring to engage in the hardware and stove business in Chestertown will do well to call on the trustee before the expiration of the thirty days named.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The July term of the Circuit Court for Kent county was called last Monday, Judge Stump on the bench. The appearance docket was smaller than usual and the business of the term was concluded the first day. A jury in lunacy was impaneled in the case of George W. Tetter, and he was declared a lunatic and pauper and committed to the Maryland Hospital for the Insane.

SALE OF A FERTILIZER FACTORY.—The well-known fertilizer factory of Messrs. C. W. Kennard & Co., located on Chester river, near Chestertown, together with machinery was sold at the Court House door last Tuesday. Several bidders were in competition for the property and it was knocked off to the Rasin Fertilizer Company, Baltimore, for $3,250. Mr. John S. Lusk was present to represent that company.

A PARTY of young men while enjoying a quiet sail on the river in front of Chestertown last Monday night were surprised at seeing a large pike fish leap out of the water, strike one of the young men in the breast and fall into the boat. He was served for breakfast.

FEW of our county people have been to Bay Ridge, and the excursion from Tolchester to that place on Thursday, July 18, advertised in this issue, will afford them a favorable opportunity to visit the famous resort. Tickets for the round trip 50 cents.

SALE OF MILL PROPERTY.—Mr. J. W. Jarman has sold his mill property at Millington, including grounds and dwelling, to W. C. Reese, for $9,000. Mr. R. will take possession at once.
