Respected Sir

I embrace the present moment in penning you this hasty letter not having written you before since I returned here from Hanover. Having learned from Dr Phelps to day that in the last quarterly account sent to you in November, there was specified in the document the sum of seventeen dollars due to the Society which caused some misunderstanding. ~~to wich~~ I will now explain it. That amount was included in my amount of expenditures; yet it had not been paid, by Mr Hubbard; in consequence of his being short. or not having the money at the time. And as Dr Phelps had not received it he told me to place in my account that amount due to the Society, as I did. The amount of my expenditure up to the 31 January will be forwarded to you by Mr Hubbard or an account in full. as he is now bring up ~~th~~ his account to that effect.

There has been some very cold days this winter yet I believe I have fared very well considering that I am not used to such weather; but I must say that there is no event that so really anticipate as the time that I shall leave for home. Were it not for the ardent desire I have to graduate; I would be miserable. I hope you will not consider me so ungrateful as not to be able to rightly appreciate the inestimable kindness conferred upon me. For when I shall have arrived at a location where I can exhibit its ~~my~~ the trade, I am trying to acquire. as prominent as my Coloured Brethren can their; here in America, then will I endeavour to convince you that I am not devoid of gratitude
