New York April 14 1846

Dr James Hall.

Dear Sir

I arrived in New York this morning, and hastily wrote to you saying that I should be on Friday, but find by enquiry that there will be some difficulty in my arriving there in the night not knowing where to go. ~~after arr~~ I have thought best to write again, and request you to write and inform me, and also which rout would be the best for me and children having considerable baggage.

Please direct to the care of [redacted]
B & R James York St. No 1.

I will wait for an answer

Yours very truly

Dr Hall.
