as may be necessary for such emigrants as they may from time to time transmit to this place.

2nd. What of the public buildings known as the Society's property. Will they agree to part with them, or any part thereof for the purposes of government? Will their dwelling houses, warehouses, school houses, offices &c, be retained for their agents occupancy and use, or may it be hoped that these buildings or a part of them will be relinquished to the government by purchase or gift.

3rd. Will they part with their coasting boats? To secure them, if possible, is altogether important to a favorable result of the matter in progress.

4th. How about the cannon, munitions of war &c. Will they be appropriated to the government?

5th. Will the department of medicines be entirely withdrawn from the use of the Colonists; and will the Society's Physicians no longer continue their services toward the relief of decrepit, invalid and indigent persons of this place?

6th. Will the School operations hitherto supported by the Society cease, or may we hope that through their instrumentality, appropriations will be made by encouragers of learning in Maryland to organize institutions for the education of the Youth of this Colony.

7th. What about the territory of Garroway already ceded to the Society, but not settled for. Will the obligation which
