Emma C. Wright, George E. Wright, her husband, versus

Thomas H. McWhorter, Tereva M. McWhorter, his wife, Ola J. Catts, Richard D. Hynson, James D. Lucas, The Chestertown Bank of Md, Martha J. McWhorter.

The object of this suit is for a partition of the real estate of Ethel C. McWhorter, deceased, or if a partition cannot be had without loss, then for a decree of this honorable court for the sale of the said real estate.

The bill states, that a certain Ethel C. McWhorter, departed this life on or about the 6th day of June in the year 1906, and was in her life time seized and possessed of a certain tract of land, situate and lying on the north side of the public road leading from Millington to Clayton in the first Election District of Kent county, Maryland and containing 203 acres and one rood of land more or less, and conveyed to the said Ethel C. McWhorter by Martha J. McWhorter by deed dated the 6th day of April in the year 1906 and recorded in Liber J. T. D. No. 13, folio 242, etc.

And, that Martha J. McWhorter, the mother of the said Ethel C. McWhorter is entitled to one third of the net rents and income from the above described property during her natural life.

And that the said Ethel C. McWhorter being so seized and possessed of said real estate, died intestate, unmarried and left a mother, the said Martha J. McWhorter, a brother, Thomas H. McWhorter, and two sisters namely, Ola J. Catts and Emma C. Wright.

That the said Thomas H. McWhorter intermarried with a certain Tereva M. McWhorter.—

That the said Emma C. Wright intermarried with a certain George E. Wright.—

And that the said Ola J. Catts intermarried with a certain Robert M. Catts, but are now divorced a vinculo matrimonii.—

That the said Thomas H. McWhorter and Tereva M. McWhorter, his wife, Ola J. Catts, and Martha J. McWhorter are now residents of the State of Maryland and reside in the city of Philadelphia and state of Pennsylvania.

And the bill states that the said Ethel C. McWhorter being in her life time indebted to James D. Lucas in the sum of four hundred dollars executed a mortgage on the 12th day of April 1906, with interest from date.

And that Richard D. Hynson holds a mortgage against said property for eight hundred dollars dated the 19th day of —— 1906.

And that the Chestertown Bank of Maryland holds a judgement for twenty two hundred dollars against the said Ethel C. McWhorter jointly with Martha J. and Ola J. Catts, dated the first day of November 1905.

And the bill further states that the said real estate is not susceptible of division among the aforesaid parties and that it cannot be divided among them without loss and injury.

To the end therefore, that a decree may be passed for a partition of the aforesaid real estate among the parties aforesaid or in case a partition cannot be had without loss and injury to them, then the same may be decreed to be sold, and that the proceeds thereof be distributed among the persons entitled according to their respective interests.

It is thereupon this 7th day of December 1906, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent county in equity that the Plaintiffs by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Kent county, Maryland once in each of four successive weeks before the 7th day of January, 1907, giving notice to Thos. H. McWhorter and Tereva M. McWhorter, his wife, Ola J. Catts and Martha J. McWhorter, who are now residentdefendants of the State of Maryland and who reside in Philadelphia, state of Pennsylvania, of the object and substance of this bill and warning them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 25th day of January 1907, to show cause, if any they have why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

JAMES T. DIXON, Clerk.

CURIOUS INSECT.

A Butterfly That Enjoys Only Five Hours of Life.

It is in August that the naturalists observe the marvelous insect which is born, reproduces and dies in the period of a single night on the banks of the Marne, of the Seine and of the Rhine. It is the ephemere of which Sirammerdam has written and which is spoken of in Aristotle.

The life of this insect does not last beyond four or five hours. It dies toward 11 o'clock in the evening after taking the form of a butterfly about six hours after midday. It is true, however, that before taking this form it has lived three years in that of a worm, which keeps always near the border of water in the holes which it makes in the mud.

The change of this worm in the water to an ephemere which flies is so sudden that one has not the time to see it. If one takes the worm in the water the hand cannot be taken away before the change is made unless by pressing the worm slightly in the region of the chest. By this means it can be taken from the water before the change takes place.

The ephemere, after leaving the water, seeks a place where it can divest itself of a fine membrane or veil, which entirely covers it. This second change takes place in the air.

The ephemere assists itself with the point of its little nails as firmly as it can. It makes a movement similar to that of a shiver; then the skin on the middle of the back breaks apart, the wings slip out of their sheath, as we sometimes take off our gloves by turning them inside out. After this stripping the ephemere begins to fly. Sometimes it holds itself straight up on the surface of the water on the end of its tail, flapping its wings one against the other. It takes no nourishment in the five or six hours which are the limit of its life. It seems to have been formed but to multiply, for it does not leave its state of a worm until it is ready to deposit its eggs, and it dies as soon as they are deposited.

In three days' time one sees appear and die all species of ephemere. They last sometimes until the fifth day, for the reason that some malady has affected some of them and prevents them from changing at the same time as the others.

A STUDY IN EYES.

Michael Angelo had hazel eyes.

Mohammed had coal black eyes.

Milton had gray blue eyes, clear and round.

Beethoven had small brown eyes, very mobile.

Dante had, according to Boccaccio, large black eyes.

Isaac Newton had blue eyes, small, bright and piercing.

Cowper, physically timid, had weak blue eyes devoid of animation.

Harvey, the discoverer of the circulation of the blood, had small eyes, full of spirit.

Carlyle's eyes were described as "the very handsomest ever seen in a man's head—dark blue."

Bismarck had eyes of steely gray, deep sunken, almost hidden under bushy eyebrows.

Dr. Johnson's poor health so affected his eyes that they were dull and lifeless, of a watery blue.

Richelieu as an Editor.

The first reporter of France was Louis XIII. The National library possesses the manuscripts of thirty-six articles written by that king. Almost all are accounts of his military operations. These articles were published in the Gazette de France. The "copy," however, did not go directly to the printer. Louis XIII. wrote abominable French, and he had vague notions of orthography. His articles were corrected and often entirely rearranged by a secretary named Lucas, who copied them, sending to Richelieu the new manuscript. Richelieu examined it in his turn and often introduced additional corrections. At the siege of Corbie the king wrote a few lines eulogistic of the cardinal, but afterward crossed them out of his article. Richelieu wrote them in again, and so they appeared in the Gazette de France.—Revue de Paris.

The "Man" Who Minds the Cows.

In the Basque country the children begin to work at an early age. They learn to tend and guide the oxen, which are used entirely for agricultural and draft work, and as if by instinct obtain complete control over the animals while barely able to reach their heads. The sturdy urchin of four years is up at daybreak, and barelegged and bareheaded he goes with the cows to the pastures. If one should stray on to a neighboring patch he is after it with his long stick and Basque adjurations and brings it scampering back, generally holding on to its tail meanwhile.—Strand Magazine.

The Huns.

The first mention of the Huns in history is in China B. C. 210. They conquered that country and were afterward driven out by the Celestials and marched clear across Asia, penetrating the country now known as Hungary in 376 A. D. For a time they threatened to overrun the whole of the continent, but were defeated in the heart of France and driven back to the banks of the Danube.

Did Some Hard Thinking.

"Yes, he was nailin' a board on his front steps, and he hit his thumb an awful swipe. And what do you think! He didn't say a word."

"He didn't."

"Nope. He's deaf and dumb."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Dyspepsia of Women

Caused by Female Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has a peculiar tonic effect on the female organism.

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Maggie Wright, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had failed. She writes:

"For two years I suffered with dyspepsia which so degenerated the entire system that I was unable to attend to my daily duties. I felt weak and nervous, and nothing that I ate tasted good and it caused a disturbance in my stomach. I tried different dyspepsia cures, but nothing seemed to help me. I was advised to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and was happily surprised to find that it acted like a fine tonic, and in a few days I began to enjoy and properly digest my food. My recovery was rapid, and in two weeks I was a well woman. I have recommended it to many suffering women."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female troubles, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
