HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL OUR READERS

MINER HICKS' MERRY XMAS

SO HUNGRY THAT HE WANTS TO EAT A WHOLE TURKEY.

Dr. Stinchfield, Who Stood at the Shaft Opening For Fifteen Days, to Supply the Fowl, and the Rescued Man Promises to Eat All the White and Dark Meat—Further Details of His Fifteen Days' Entombment With Debris and Corpses of Companions.

Bakersfield, Cal., December 24.—Lindsay B. Hicks, the miner who was rescued Sunday morning from the tunnel of the Edison Electric Company, talked almost merrily of his 15-day living entombment. He said there were times when he really enjoyed himself, imprisoned though he was in the bowels of the earth. Hicks, in adding to his story, says:

"It was awful close in there. At first I thought I would die like the poor fellows above did. God! it was awful to hear them moaning and twisting in the debris, dying by inches from suffocation. But after a while a cool draft of air came sweeping up from below, and I knew then I would never be without air, as there would always be a current through the crevices.

"When the crash came I started to run up the shaft, keeping along the right rail. A falling timber struck me and I fell to the floor. When I tried to get up I was closed in. The timber did not hurt me much, and in a few days I will be all right again.

"I never had any fear. The death struggles of the other men were awful enough. After the fifth day I knew that I would be saved. A feeling came over me that God was with me. I am grateful to God, and I will never go to hell if praying can save me.

"And of course, you won't believe me, but if it hadn't been for that tobacco I would be in there, a cold corpse, right now. The rats became thicker each day. Sometimes it gave me a shudder when I felt one run across my face. Then sometimes I amused myself with the bell wire, which fell right in front of me. By pulling a long time I broke this, and then I would play tunes with it on my teeth or tangle the ends together. At last I got so I could play a good tune on the wire, and many weary hours passed in this amusement. I don't understand why my limbs are not all swollen. Only my knees are a bit sore.

"I was so cramped in there that I couldn't stretch my legs out. When I wanted to rest I would stick one of my legs down a crevice and stretch. You see, the seat of my trousers is worn from shifting about. When I wanted to sleep I just put my hat on a wheel of the car and rested my head on it."

"It will be the happiest Christmas I ever experienced," he said. "People generally have a lot to be thankful for on Christmas, but I guess my debt will be larger than anyone else's. I can't express what I feel, the gratitude I owe all the fellows who worked so bravely and so hard to pull me out of that black hole. But I hope I will live long enough to show some of them how I fee toward them."

Dr. Stinchfield, who worked with the rescuers all along to dig Hicks out, will provide the miner's Christmas dinner. "The Doc boasted once too often about that turkey," explained Hicks in telling why he favored the doctor. "I am going to take him at his word about eating all the white and dark meat. I guess I can do it, too."

Packages from different parts of the country are coming into Bakersville to be transferred to the miner. Chewing tobacco from San Francisco, whisky from Kentucky, his native State, and other presents from Los Angeles have reached him. Telegrams are being received containing liberal offers to appear on the stage or to enter business houses on the Coast. Several of the messages offered him $1,000 a week to appear with well-known vaudeville teams.

The Edison Electric Company began today to clean out the caved-in shaft. Plans had already been drawn by engineers, but it will take 30 days to get to the bottom. Coffins are placed about the head of the shaft, and as a dead body of the miners who were killed at the time Hicks was entombed is recovered it will be placed in the casket and brought to Bakersville for burial. The disaster will cause a delay of six weeks and an expense of $50,000. All who were engaged in the rescue work were heartily complimented and had their names placed upon the roll of honor, also being paid double time.

WILL BREAK THEIR HEARTS.

By request the Anne Arundel County Commissioners have conferred authority upon Sheriff Linthicum to work the prisoners who may be in the county jail from time to time on the county roads. The Sheriff recently told the commissioners that often there are prisioners in the jail able to labor and their services could well be utilized in the road work. This would not only pay for their board, but would also make saving enough to pay the salary of a deputy sheriff.

It is a well known fact that many lazy negroes, when the winter months roll around, get into trouble and rather than pay fines are content to live in jail for a month or two. Thus with the new condition they will not have things as easy.

THE residents about Betterton filled their ice houses this week with six inch ice.

TO REDUCE CRIME.

Convention at Easton to Devise Plans—After the Idle and Shiftless.

A convention of people of African descent from the nine Eastern Shore counties of Maryland and counties of Delaware has been in session in Easton M. E. Church (colored), Rev. A. L. Henry, pastor. The purpose of the convention is "to discuss such phases of the negro question as stigmatize us as a race and to devise such plans as will reduce the present rate of criminality among our people."

The most important business transacted at the session was the appointment of a committee, which drafted the following memorial which is to be presented to the next legislature:

"We, the colored citizens of the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Delaware, give expression to the following principles in relation to existing conditions.

"We are deeply concerned regarding the prevalence of crime among the people of this section. Crime has no color. Every capital crime is deserving of capital punishment. We call upon our parents to teach their children to be law-abiding, industrious and moral; to avoid idleness and corner lounging; to conduct themselves decently and orderly in places of public convenience. We urge them to take full advantage of the public schools for the education of their children, to be economical, to connect themselves with the church and apply to their lives the essential principles of Christianity. We call upon the churches to exercise more diligence in making a sentiment against crime and immorality and caring for the moral development of the young boys and girls.

"We memorialize the legislature to enact some law by which the idle and shiftless young men who shoot crap and lounge on street corners may be declared vagrants and made to work under the direction of the State after proper conviction.

"To pass a compulsory educational law applying to all children between the ages of 6 and 14 years.

"To pass a law to prevent common-law marriages.

"To pass a more stringent law against the illicit sale of intoxicating liquors by what is known as 'speak-easies'."
