Dr Hale

Dear Sir

In the last letter addressed you, I appended a note, asking you to inform me when another Vessel would probably sail for Liberia. In reply to my letter you unintentionally omitted to reply to my note and give me the desired information, Will you therefore please allow me to trouble you again, and ask you to inform me when another Vessel will sail sails for Africa, From letters received from that Coast by the last Arrival I feel particularly anxious to know owing from former favours bestowed upon me, I feel assured you will take pleasure in imparting to me the desired information if within your present reach

Your Very Respectfully

David Rupell
