POTASH

in the soil puts corn on the stalk and money in the bank

The natural process of plant growth is simply one of chemical conversion. Potash, the raw material, is cheap; but when converted by nature into corn, it is valuable. The use of Potash is not an expense, but an investment.

THE SEWING ROOM.

How Mrs. Newlywed Fitted Up Her Sewing Room With No Place To Put It. The Triumph Of A Woman's Wit And Desire For Convenience.

From time to time I have been giving the readers glimpses of Mrs. Newlywed's furnishings in her modest little home, with the idea that other women may be interested in her schemes and find occasional suggestions that will help them to make their homes attractive and comfortable after the latest methods but without extravagant outlay.

THE SEWING ROOM.

Mrs. Newlywed had seen in her girl hood home how much more easily the household sewing was accomplished where there was a room set aside for that purpose.

The sewing room there had been so large that it had been utilized as a general work room as well. One sister having her corner arranged with the tools for wood carving, another having space for the "studio" as she dubbed her special painting place, while Mrs. Newlywed and her mother had room in the rest of the space for their no less artistic and attractive stitching.

THE LITTLE NEW HOME.

Her own little house offered no such spacious accomodation, in fact at first sight there was no room available to set aside for the purpose. There was however a jut about 6 feet square at the end of the second floor hall with a long window door that opened out on a small balcony and this she determined to utilize for her sewing room.

THE MACHINE SELECTED.

The machine was the most expensive and important purchase to be made for this cosy and profitable corner and with her usual good sense, she selected a No. 7 of the same make that she had been used to running in her old home. It was a great improvement on the older machine, had all the latest and most up-to-date attachments, was especially light running yet would answer for any requirements she was liable to make upon it from the most substantial sewing to the tuckings, new puffings, etc., that would ornament her prettiest blouses and other garments. She felt that it was safer to buy from an old established firm, than to risk purchasing a machine of a non-descript, cheaper sort.

A SCREEN THE NEXT FITTING.

Next in importance was the screen which she meant should do Yeoman's service for many things beside screening her little work room from casual observance.

A rather heavy old-fashioned clothes horse, with square frames was selected for this and cheap but substantial brass hinges replaced the cotton tapes that held the parts together.

THE COVERING.

Some of the pretty green Sanitas that had been left from the hall wall hanging was utilized for covering this, and was brought over the edges of the frame and neatly tacked inside.

Upholstery nails with large dull, brass heads, were tacked at intervals outside, more for ornament than utility, though they also helped to keep the covering trim and taut.

Inside that screen was a wonder of ingenuous devices for holding the many conveniences that are needed in a sewing room. Bags of green denim that resembled shoe bags and laundry bags with pockets of various sizes, all labelled, held patterns, cotton, linings, silks, trimmings, etc.

BRASS SCREW-HOOKS.

Brass hooks screwed into the stained wood of the frame held smaller button and tape bags and a hinged board attached to one fold that could be made into a cutting table, did duty for all the many things that are demanded of such a convenience.

THE BALCONY.

On warm days the screen was often shifted out onto the balcony, placed where it would shield from the sun, as well as from too inquisitive neighbors and made to do duty in very many ways. Additions to its store of conveniences were from time to time suggested and added and Mrs. Newlywed's sewing room was a pronounced success.

ELEANOR FRANCES.

STOP SUFFERING.

A very large percentage of the prescriptions druggists are called upon to compound are intended to relieve cases in which rheumatism figures and the physician who is successful in the treatment of such cases is assured a comfortable practice. A treatment which is a result of careful study of rheumatism, and which has been found eminently successful in the practice of capable medical men, consists of tablets compounded of 2½ grains Sodium Bi-carbonate, 3 grains Salicylic Acid and 1 minim Wine of Colchicum. One of these should be taken before each meal, followed at once by a glass of water. After each meal is taken a tablespoonful of a mixture of ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Buchu, 1 dram Fluid Extract of Horse Nettle, 1 oz. Amet Cordial, ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Liverwort and 14 ozs. water. Faithful trial of this treatment for one month is said to give really remarkable results. Any good drug store can put up these prescriptions.—X

Perfect Womanhood

The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from some derangement of the feminine organs.

Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their health, barely in time to save their lives.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, irregularities or the "blues," she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as the great woman's remedy for woman's ills, made only of roots and herbs.

It cures Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements Inflammation and Ulceration, and all Organic Diseases, and is invaluable in the Change of Life. It dissolves and Expels Tumors at an early stage. Subdues Faintness, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, and invigorates the whole female sysem. It is an excellent remedy for derangements of the Kidneys in either sex.
