She is a full blood darkey, 16 years old last January. would sell her for $1000, we have raised her from a child, she can read but not ~~write~~ write, she has naturly a spirited mind, a pretty bad temper, coolers in her habbits, knows well how to do house or garden work, and says if I will let her go that she will be a good girl and do right.

I will give her some clothes, and pay her passage to Baltimore or if the society will beat the expence of sending her from there then I will give that amount to her. More I would do, but I have done a good deal more for her than her labour has repaid. Now if you can consistantly answer my inquiries and will take her and send her to the black-mans native home under the auspicies of the Maryland colonization society you shall have her safely put on the cars at Fairmont and notice given to you, by letter, and the sooner you take her the better as I will have to git her a home about the first of April next.

Yours Truly

March 16. 1844. Moses Fitchenice

~~P.S. Would you~~ P.S. Would you take one two or more from this place.
