THE LATE RICHARD D. HYNSON.

DIED JUNE 2, 1907.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The Vestry of Chester Parish, at a meeting held June 8th, 1907, passed the following resolutions in respect to the memory of Hiram M. Brown and Richard D. Hynson lately deceased:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in His wise providence to call from their earthly labors two of our fellow vestrymen and associates in the work and interest of the Parish Hiram M. Brown and Richard D. Hynson—We, the Rector and Vestry of Chester Parish, desire to, and do, put on record our sense and expession of sincere sorrow at the loss we, with the whole community has sustained by the removal of two of our number whose interest in the work of the Parish has been sincere, constant and helpful. We shall sadly miss in our future work the valuable help and sympathy these gentlemen have always manifested; they were ever ready to lend gladly their influence and material aid in advancing and promoting all Parish interests.

Resolved, that while we deplore their removal we will bow in humble submission to the will of Him who does all things well, and who gives and takes away, as to Him seemeth best.

Resolved, that we share most truly and sincerely in the great and general sorrow that has befallen this whole community.

Resolved, that we extend to the families of our departed friends most sincere sympathy in their bereavement, with the prayer that He who doth not afflict willingly the children of men, will grant them His comfort and peace, and give them strength to bear with patience and resignation this visitation of His will.

Resolved, That this minute be entered upon the records of the Parish, and a copy be sent to the families of the deceased, and to the county papers.

DR. HENRY B. MARTIN, Rector;
JAMES A. PEARCE, Registrar;

"SPEAK EASY" KIT CAPTURED.

A full grown "speak easy kit" in working order was captured by Sheriff Medders on Sunday in Chestertown. On Saturday Deputy Sheriff Startt placed Mary Silas Saul, a well-known colored character of Chestertown, under arrest charging him (her) with violating the local option law; he (she) was tried before Justice Hicks and held for the Grand Jury. He (she) is now in jail. Walter Bantam, colored, was also arrested charged with violating the local option law and is now out on bail to await the action of the grand jury. On Sunday Sheriff Medders made a search of the home of Mary Silas Saul, at the "apple tree" house in Santiago, and captured a "speak easy" outfit. Everything was there for the successful working of that class of trade and Sheriff Medders moved the outfit to the jail. This is an important capture as the "speak easy" trade in this vicinity has been very brisk. Others are being watched.

Washington College Commencement.

The Commencement Exercises of Washington College began Thursday by holding the last Chapel service in the old chapel of West Hall. The address of the morning was delivered by Marion deK. Smith, Esq., of the class of 1870. Dr. J. W. Cain made the closing remarks. The glee club furnished music.

The dedication of Wm. Smith Hall was held yesterday with imposing ceremonies. There is every indication that the 125th commencement of the old college will be a memorable one.

The Alumni reunion and banquet on Tuesday promises to be the best in the history of the college. Gov. Warfield and other distinguished guests will be present. Every alumnus of the College should make a special effort to be present.

Caterer Hughes, the best in Baltimore, will serve the banquet in West Hall.

A Fine Entertainment.—The "Sleeping Beauty" was played before a Chestertown audience on Saturday night in Stam's Hall by the children of Shrewsbury Church. The receipts were $100 clear of expenses. Mrs. H. H. Barroll managed the affair and did it well. A crowded house witnessed the entertainment. The play was dramatized by Miss Myra Edson and showed skill and art in arrangement. The "Sleeping Beauty" was staged as follows: King, Helen Comegys; Queen, John Comegys; Prince, John Sutton; Princess, Natalie Comegys; Court Jester, George Sutton. Little Misses Baxter, Barwick, Kennedy and Sutton also had leading parts and acted them well. Four illustrated songs were finely acted and sung as also a dance and chorus by Chestertown talent. Misses Addie and Eva Hurlock rendered the songs and the Washington College Mandolin Club furnished music.

Farm Sold.—The T. A. Hudson farm in Piney Neck, Kent county, containing 175 acres, was sold at public sale last Tuesday by H. H. Barroll, Esq., trustee to Capt. J. C. Ashley, who now commands the police boat "Anna B. Smith." The price paid was $8,300.00, over $47.82 per acre. Capt. Ashley expects to tenant the farm himself after this year.

Thomas Hill, Esq., offered the property in Chestertown on corner of Main and Queen street for sale on Tuesday, but withdrew it on account of low bid. The store building was withdrawn after a $3300 bid, the dwelling after a $1050 bid.

Mrs. J. K. Bosee, of Baltimore, has sold her farm in Morgnec to Mr. T. N. McGinnis. The farm contains 125 acres and has fine buildings. J. Waters Russ sell negotiated the sale.

Wet Weather Does Damage.—The continuous wet weather has played havoc with the farmers in this section of the state, and considerable damage has been done to crops of all kinds. The berry crop will not be over a half crop, and that of an inferior quality.

A number of farmers have not planted their corn, and quite a lot that has been planted has been washed out by the heavy rains. The wheat is slightly damaged, and there will not be over a half or two-thirds of a crop. Farmers state that this has been the worst season that they have experienced in many years, as all crops will be affected, with the exception of the grass or hay crop, which is expected to be quite large.

Mumps Galore.—The mumps are raging in and about Chestertown. It is said there are about 100 cases in the neighborhood. None are very sick, but it is awfully inconvenient.

A CARD TO THE VOTERS OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY of KENT.

When my name was first brought to your notice as a candidate for the State Senate, it was with the understanding that I was an earnest advocate of the Crawford system of nomination. Step by step I have pressed it upon the leaders and the people; now that we have it, it is upon this plan I stake my chances and ask the voters of my native county (and not the leaders alone) for their help and votes. I cannot see you all and personally solicit your support, but now that you have an opportunity to vote for your friends, I ask that you include George E. Noland for State Senate, and if nominated and elected, I promise to keep to the same method—a square deal to all.

STILL POND, MARYLAND.

TO MY FELLOW DEMOCRATS.

I am and have been for some time, as you already know, a candidate for nomination to the office of State Senator, at our primaries to be held on June 15th. Well-known and painful circumstances have greatly interfered with my personally meeting you and enjoying with you the exchange of views on the subject and obtaining, so far as I could, your personal assurance of support. I am happy to state that great encouragement has reached me, even as it is. I am sure you will all agree with me, whether you practice it or not, that undue excitement or factional prejudice and hate should play no part in a party canvas. Patriotism and love for our county demands our coolest judgment and best nature in the work of selecting candidates, selecting the fittest men for the places should be our first and main purpose.

The Crawford County System which you demanded and obtained, gives you the untrammelled priviledge, a way of voting your sentiments. I hope yet to see many persons before the 15th. Those I fail to meet will please understand, that my failure will not be due to lack of interest on my part, or want of appreciation of the fact that you, the Democratic people, are the jury, before whom the issues are to be tried and a verdict rendered on Saturday next. What, ever your verdict may be, for or against me. I pledge you now, that I and my friends, will accept it cheerfully and will abate neither jot nor tittle in our hearty support of all the nominees on the ides of November next.

Trusting these few words will be received as the best substitute at hand for a personal chat with each and all, and that whoever the verdict of the jury shall be against, and whoever wished to be a candidate but failed to receive such encouragement as he thought himself intitled to, will not conclude that the whole world is against him or necessarily any part of it.

I am as ever your brother Democrat.

WILLIAM M. SLAY.

A CARD TO VOTERS.

I take this method of informing my friends that I AM A CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF on the Democratic ticket subject to the result of the primaries to be held June 15th, and ask the support of every one.

Resolutions of Respect.

At the meeting of the Directors of The Chestertown Bank of Maryland, held on June 12, 1907, the following resolutions were adopted.

RESOLVED, That by the death of Richard Dunn Hynson this community looses and mourns a good, upright, public spirited citizen. In his life is to be found an example to be emulated, an object lesson of business fidelity and democratic simplicity. His private life; his private honor were pure and stainless. His business career honorable and upright. His benefactions a monument to his memory more lasting than marble. We offer to his bereaved family our sorrowful grief over the desolation which has come into their lives, and venture to express the hope that they will find consolation in the noble qualities of him who was son, husband and father. And further be it,

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be published in one of the county papers, and a copy sent to the bereaved family.

THE SAD REAPER

Franklin H. Harper and Dan'l E. Jewell Called to Their Eternal Home—Other Deaths.

Franklin H. Harper died at the University of Maryland Hospital, Baltimore, early Tuesday morning. He had been sick for about two weeks at his home in Still Pond, where everything possible was done for him, but he gradually grew worse and as a last resort it was decided that he be carried to Baltimore and undergo an operation. The operation was performed but his condition was such that it availed him not and he died shortly after.

Franklin H. Harper stood high among the citizens of Kent, whose esteem he had gained by his strict honesty in every transaction, as well as by his interest in matters pertaining to the advancement of the community. Since early manhood he has been a resident of Kent and has formed many warm friendships during the long period of his connection with its history. He was born in Kent county, Del., on November 30, 1838 and was a son of Charles Harper, a native of Delaware. He was educated in the common schools and began to earn his livelihood at an early age. When 20 he came to Kent county, Md., in 1858, and secured a clerkship in a store at Millington, in the first district. From there he went to Still Pond, where he purchased a farm and opened a general store. To the management of these enterprises he gave his undivided attention until 1895, when he was elected judge of the orphan's court. A Republican in politics his election was upon this ticket. He made an excellent judge. He was well informed regarding matters of public import and his opinions upon the issues of the day were formed as the result of careful study and thought.

The family of which he was a member consisted of himself and three brothers and one sister. One of the brothers, Edw. B. Harper, who was the president of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Insurance Association of New York, died in 1895. Another brother, Geo. W. Harper is the vice-president of the same association.

The first marriage of Judge Harper united him with Mrs. Martha A. E. (Webb) Merritt, widow of Thomas Merritt and daughter of Jos. W. Webb. They were members of the M. E. Church, in which he was a trustee and steward. Their only surviving child, Joseph W. graduated from Princeton in 1891, died a few years ago, his death having a sad and distressing effect on the fond father. Joseph W. Harper left a widow, who was Miss Lavina Baynard, and two children. Mr. Harper married his second wife a short time ago and this union was a most happy one indeed. She was before marriage Miss Laura Webb, of Baltimore.

He conducted one of the largest mercantile business in Kent county at Still Pond and his canning and farming operations were also extensive. He was a director of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland and of the Kent County Fire Insurance Company.

Mr. Harper will be missed in every walk of life. He was a leader in his church, his community and his home and many a heart is aching at his loss.

The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon from the home of his daughter-in-law, in charge of his pastor Rev. E. H. Collins, assisted by two ex-pastors, Rev. L. E. Barrett, of Elkton and T. F. Beauchamp, of Federalsburg, Md. and also Rev. Mr. Hooker, of the M. P. Church, Kennedyville, Md. The coffin laid beneath a mass of beautiful floral offerings of roses, carnations and sweet peas. Interment in the Still Pond Cemetery.

DANIEL E. JEWELL.

Daniel E. Jewell, one of Kent's most highly respected and aged citizens, died at his home in Betterton, on Monday evening, of general debility, aged 82 years. The funeral took place Thursday morning at eleven o'clock; interment in Old Union cemetery, W. H. Krusen undertaker. His home for many years was a nice little farm near Worton Station, where his numerous friends were always welcome to his hospitable board. Up to a few years ago he was prominent in Democratic politics and exercised considerable influence in his section of the county. He was for two years a collector of taxes under the old district system. Some years ago he sold his property there and removed to Betterton where he has since resided. He was a valued member of Union M. E. Church and a worthy citizen. He leaves seven children, Mrs. George R. Rouse, Mrs. Thomas Rasin, Misses Louise and Ida Jewell, Wm. and Harry Jewell.

MRS. ELIZABETH M. WATKINS.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Watkins, widow of John Q. A. Watkins, died at her residence, 1228 W. Lanvale street, Baltimore, on Tuesday, of paralysis, in the 78th year of her age. She is survived by four children and ten grandchildren. One of her sons, Mr. Charles B. Watkins married Miss Addie Brice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Brice, of this town.

THE Republications have selected August 14 for their State convention.
