PORTION OF R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY'S PLANT 1906

The Largest, Best-Equipped and Cleanest Flat Plug Tobacco Manufacturing Plant in the World

The Reynolds factories, equipped with every modern appliance for producing the best chewing tobacco by a clean, sanitary and healthful process, under the direction of men who have made the business a life study, are located in the centre of the Piedmont tobacco belt, known to the world as the best productive soil for tobacco with an aroma so delightful, pleasing and appetizing that it created and popularized the fondness for chewing tobacco.

Only choice selections of this well-matured, thoroughly cured leaf are used in SCHNAPPS and others of the high-grade Reynolds brands, and expert tests prove that this tobacco requires and takes a smaller amount of sweetening than any other kind, and has a wholesome, stimulating and satisfying effect on chewers.

SCHNAPPS is the brand that made the Reynolds factories famous as the manufacturers of the best and most popular brands of chewing tobacco, and made necessary the enormous growth from a small factory in 1875 to the largest flat-plug factory in the world. The men who started the Reynolds Co., in 1875, are directing it to-day. There are a greater number of manufacturers making imitations claimed to be just as good as SCHNAPPS than any commodity manufactured; yet there are more pounds of SCHNAPPS chewed than the total amount of all imitative brands, or tobacco of similar appearance.

ENGINEER KILLED AT TOWNSEND.

Randall A. Spindler Jumped From His Train to Instant Death.

While the fast freight train of which they had charge was speeding down the Pennsylvania railroad about 1 o'clock Thursday morning, Engineer Randall A. Spindler, aged 45 years, of No. 228 West Twenty-second street, Wilmington, and his fireman, Charles Ellengworth, of 417 East Fourth Street, also of that city, jumped off at Townsend, the engineer meeting instant death, his neck being broken by the fall and the fireman sustaining cuts and bruises about his entire body which will confine him to his home for sometime. Spindler leaves a widow and two children. He has been in the railroad service for twenty-five years and has been operating an engine for twenty years.

The accident is the most peculiar and mysterious that has ever occured on the Delaware division. It is peculiar from the manner in which the engineer went to his death and the fireman to such serious injuries, and mysterious from the fact that the motive that caused the engineer to leap to death will never be known. Ellengworth jumped from the engine because he saw Spindler jump off. He can give no other reason for his action. The train of which they had charge is a fast freight and is known as D. 1. As the freight approached the station at Townsend another freight train, but one which was slower than the D. 1, had pulled into a northbound siding to permit the other to pass. It is thought that Spindler imagined he saw a red light which he took to be the rear end of a freight train just ahead of his own locomotive.

However, as the freight drew into the station Ellengworth saw the engineer suddenly shut off the power, apply the brakes with all the force of which they were capable and then spring from his seat in the cabin and jump to the ground. Ellengworth was busy about the fire box at the time and thought his engineer had seen a train directly ahead of them. As the freight was moving at high speed, he knew they could not stop within a very short distance, so not wishing to be caught in any wreck, he, too, jumped to the ground.

Spindler was killed instantly. His neck was broken by the fall, and it is thought that he struck the ground on the back of his head. Ellengworth was tumbled along the tracks for some distance and was cut and bruised in numerous places about the body. The train came to a stop of its own volition after it had slipped along the rails for several hundred feet, with the air brakes clamping the wheels and causing showers of sparks to fly from them.

Transformed to Millionaire.

Having, it is said, refused $1,800,000 for his simple little invention, a well-known Delaware locomotive engine driver has been transformed to a millionaire, John H. Parsons, on a Delaware cross country of the Pennsylvania Railroad, drove his engine through Milton, Del., a few weeks ago with a peculiar device upon it. "I'm just seeing if we cannot do without smoke and gas," he said to some inquiring and smiling friends who pointed at the contrivance. "I got permission from the compony to use one on my engine if it did not interfere with our movements. Since then some of the best engineers in the Pennsylvania system have been examining the invention and getting their heads together, for it seems that at last a device has been invented which will consume every atom and vestige of smoke, gas and odor from the locomotive, at the same time act as a fuel saver to a marvelous extent. Last week, high Pennsylvania Railroad officials went into the Delaware state-house and filed a charter with a capital stock of $5,000,000 for the "Parsons Engineering Company," "to acquire letters patent for burning and consumption of carbon and gases and for the prevention of smoke." This is evidence that the Pennsylvania roads intend to take care of this inventor, for he is not only named as the principal incorporator, but is to be president of his $5,000,000 concern for which the charter fees of $1,000 were paid in cash.

It developed, with the filing of the charter, that Parson's device will not only be a public benefaction in disposing of all the black smoke and noxious gases but will save the coalburning company fifty per cent. of its fuel. "It has demonstrated that one-half the fuel can be saved by its use," said the counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad, and one of the incorporators.

To send flowers by mail, take a long potato, bore a hole through it lengthwise for a holder, and shave the outside down with a sharp knife until it can be easily handled. Place the stems of the flowers in the potato, and wrap around this a piece of wet sheet cotton. Over this wrap a sheet of tinfoil, carefully covering every part of the holder. The moisture cannot penetrate the paper, and will be retained for a long time.

WAS IN POOR HEALTH FOR YEARS

Ira W. Kelley, of Mansfield, Pa., writes: I was in poor health for two years, suffering from kidney and bladder trouble, and spent considerable money consulting physicians without obtaining any marked benefit, but was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure, and I desire to add my testimony that it may be the cause of restoring the health of others." CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.
