WHITE PLAGUE IN SCHOOLROOM.

Timely Advice To Kent County Teachers—Address Delivered At Chestertown By H. Wirt Steele, Executive Secretary Of The Maryland Association For Prevention And Relief Of Tuberculosis—Pecuniary Loss To The County On Account Of This Disease Placed At $50,000 Annually.

H. Wirt Steele, executive secretary of the Maryland Association for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis, delivered an address in Stam's Hall last Tuesday evening upon "The Responsibility of the Community in Preventing Tuberculosis." The address was given before the County Teachers' Institute. He said, in part:

"Tuberculosis, or consumption, is a preventable disease. Why, in the name of common sense, do we not prevent it? It costs Kent county over half a hundred perfectly good human beings every year, to say nothing of the financial and economic loss to this county. At a most conservative estimate, the economic value of a human life is $1,000, so there is a pecuniary loss to the county of over $50,000 a year. Then one must add to that the cost of supporting the sick consumptives and the burial of the dead, for someone besides the patients must bear that burden, as a consumptive soon loses his earning power and usually lingers months or years, dependent upon someone else.

"It is possible that much of the tuberculosis in the human family is acquired in early life, to become active and virulent in later life. Should we not then pay more attention to our growing children?

"The period of the childs's school life is a most critical one. Every child should be guaranteed a normal childhood. He should have a rational playtime, preferably under wise instruction.

"The schools should be the especial care of every man and woman who sends a child to school.

"Tuberculosis can be, and often is, contracted in the schoolroom. Do your children have clean schoolrooms in which to spend their days? Do they have proper ventilation and heating in those schoolrooms? Are they required to take proper physical exercises during school hours? Has your school proper facilities for organized play? And how about the drainage of your school premises? Is any provision made for the supervision or segregation of any children who may have tuberculosis? These questions do not permit of negative answers if you are determined to help stop this awful scourge.

"One of the chief reasons why we have not prevented the spread of tuberculosis before this is that we have not known enough about the disease and its cost. With such knowledge comes the desire to end it all, and we begin to act rationally. Such information may be had for the asking, or you can even get it without asking if you do not run away from it. Such knowledge is being spread broadcast throughout the whole civilized world today.

"This movement to wipe out the white plague is the one great humanitarian effort in which the whole race is uniting. In Maryland the program of prevention is being worked out by the Maryland Association for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis, a body of, at present, 3,000 earnest citizens, who contribute something each year, of time and money that the future suffering and waste in the state may be minimized."

HIGH PRICES FOR HOGS.

The old saying that some people take some but a hog takes all might be changed to read that a hog brings all, if the testimony of Elmer Outten, Dover's large breeder of thoroughbred cattle and swine is taken. Mr. Outten, who is the only Delawarean who has ever mustered up nerve enough to pay $200 and upward for a single hog, has just returned from some breeders' sales of thoroughbred swine in the middle West. In Vandalia, Illinois, sixty-six Berkshire hogs averaged $472 a head, and at Whitehall, Ill., forty-two head averaged $427. At this sale one boar sold for $5,500, the highest price ever recorded for one hog. From the Rockford, Ill., sale, Mr. Outten brought home several beauties in the swine kingdom, forty-three of which sold there for an average of $184 each.

As She Heard it.

A fashionable woman had a bit of statuary bearing the inscription "Kismet." A housemaid dusting the room asked the mistress:

"Shure, ma'am, what's the m'anin' of the writin' on the bottom of this?"

"Oh, you mean 'Kismet'. It means 'fate.'"

Bridget was limping painfully when out with her sweetheart not long afterward and apologetically explained, "Faith, I have the most tirrible corns on me kismet."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Ate Father's Pills; Dead.—John, the 18 months old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, Laurel's wealthiest residents, died Saturday in great agony after swallowing some tablets which his father had been taking and left on the stand in the little fellow's reach. He was rushed to a physician but all efforts were fruitless to save his life.
