Engaged in Orange Culture.—Dr. Howard R. Hopkins, formerly of Queenstown, Queen Annes county, who removed to California about a year ago, is visiting friends in the East. Dr. Hopkins has recently bought a tract of land in his adopted state and will engage in orange growing, which he is confident will pay him handsomely on the investment. The doctor says: The beauty of orange raising is that there is no hurry about harvesting the oranges. You have from January to June to gather your fruit. One man can cultivate a 15-acre farm with two horses, a plow and cultivator and then have time to cultivate his neighbor's ranch. He can gather the entire crop himself." At present Dr. Hopkins and his family are residents of Claremount, a suburb of Ponoma. Ponoma has a population of 12,000 and does not have a saloon or policeman. The only officer is called the town marshall.

NO NEED OF A VETERINARY

"We run a Livery, Feed and Sale Stable, have a city transfer and handle hard and soft coal and consequently we need a good many horses," say Bedell Bros. of Mount Carmel, Ill. "We have used Sloan's Liniment and Veterinary Remedies for years and find they give perfect satisfaction. As long as Sloan's remedies are in our barn we do not need a veterinary surgeon. We are never without them and conscientiously recommend them to all horsemen."

Colby Bros. of the Mineral City Livery, Fort Dodge, Ia., write:—"I have used Sloan's Colic Cure, Liniment and Fever and Distemper Remedy for the past ten years and since I have been using them, I have never had a veterinary in my barn, and have not lost a horse from either colic or distemper, and will say that any man with a horse or horses who keeps Sloan's Liniment and Veterinary Remedies in his barn will never have occasion to call a veterinary."

Sloan's Treatise on the Horse, sent free to any horseman. Address Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass.

These women are only a few of thousands of living witnesses of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. Not one of these women ever received compensation in any form for the use of their names in this advertisement—but are willing that we should refer to them because of the good they may do other suffering women to prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable and honest medicine, and that the statements made in our advertisements regarding its merit are the truth and nothing but the truth.

Low Premiums — Annual Dividends

On completion of a thorough and searching examination of the John Hancock during 1908 by The Massachusetts Insurance Department, it referred to the Company's methods and relations with its policy-holders as follows:

"To conserve the best interests of the present and prospective policyholders and their beneficiaries is the one object which the officers of the corporation appear to have always in view."
