C. C. JONES The Shoe Man

CHESTERTOWN, MD.

Local Brevities.

Xmas day comes on Saturday.

THE State Central Committee for Kent County have recommended Mr. A. S. Crawford for the position of justice of peace in place of Andrew Medder's, resigned.

E. H. CHRISFIELD, of Galena, gathered 200 bushels of potatoes from an acre of ground.

Mr. Wm. Hudson brought to the NEWS a basket of white potatoes containing 18 potatoes. Who can beat this?

IN a series of nightly conflicts owls have slaughtered nearly all of a flock of guineas belonging to Mrs. Smith Keithley, of Rock Springs, which roosted in the same tree with the wild birds. A big owl was seen about Chestertown Sunday night.

J. WILLIAM KIRBY has been doing some fine stone work in Chester Cemetery. There is no need for going to the city with such a competent workman in our midst. He can give just as good work as the city man and at lower prices.

THE milk route heretofore conducted by Walter T. Morris was discontinued Monday on short notice. Mr. Albert Story, with commendable spirit, purchased milk from neighbors and is trying to serve the town. Mr. Morris has contracted with the Albert Alderney Dairy, of Philadelphia, for the daily supply of milk from his dairy same to be sent from Worton Station every afternoon.

CAPT. WM. CROUCH, of Piney Neck, is the champion turnip raiser of Kent. He sent to the NEWS this week a turnip which weighed 11½ pounds. Sheriff Medders says he could eat this vegetable at one meal, if he was hungry!

IN another column will be found the advertisement of M. FOX & SONS CO., wholesale horse market, who are moving from 318-322 North street to 20-22 S. Paca street, Baltimore. Instead of auctions taking place every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday in the future they will be held every Wednesday.

MR. COOPER TARBUTTON killed five hogs this week which netted 1700 lbs.

PORK is selling in Chestertown at 7 cents alive and 9 cents dressed; eggs 40 cents per dozen.

WILLIAM A. HYLAND, who has successfully conducted the blacksmithing and farm implement business at Galena for a number of years, will discontinue business at the end of the year and the business in the future will be conducted by his son, William A. Hyland, Jr.

THE annual meeting of the State Grange was held in Baltimore this week. Among the officers elected were: Overseer, H. Parks Rasin; chaplain, James T. Anthony; ceres, Mrs. Acca Crew. Nearly 100 representatives from the State were present.

THE sale of S. W. Brown personalty was largely attended and stock brought fine prices; a 100-pound hog brought $14. J. D. Urie, Esq., took the notes and J. Greenwood was auctioneer.

ALL LADIES of the town and county interested in the success of the Firemen's Carnival to be held in January are requested to meet in Firemen's Hall on Monday afternoon next, Dec. 6th, at 3 o'clock for the purpose of discussing plans for holding same.

THE Xmas display of M. A. Toulson is worthy a visit. Books and other useful presents for old and young are found in his Chestertown drug store.

THE contractors of the State road near Chestertown expect to finish their contract next week.

AN Indian show will be given in Stam's Hall next Wednesday evening. They have 3 wolves.

Improves With Age.—This office was in receipt of a dollar bill this week from Mr. William Hague, of Still Pond, who has been a subscriber to the NEWS for 50 years. He says he can still see to read it without glasses and enjoys it like an old friend. Mr. Hague is a remarkable man in that although 74 years of age he has husked over 100 barrels of corn this fall. He was born in Rock Hall, May 23, 1836, and has been used to hard work all his life. He is a sterling citizen and Democrat having voted the Democratic ticket without a scratch for fifty years and believes in a white man's government. As a cap sheaf to his career, he is a christian having been a consistent church member for 56 years. May he enjoy many more years of usefulness is the sincere wish of his many friends and the NEWS editors.

Just for Fun.—The King's Daughters of Chestertown presented to a large audience Tuesday evening one of the most delightful plays ever given in Stam's Hall. As a whole the comedy "Just for Fun" was a great success and the characters well taken. In the cast were Mrs. J. Lane Finley, Misses Hallie Westcott, Barbara Anthony, Louisa Urie, Messrs. Hynson Rogers and John Hessey. To Prof. E. J. Clarke is due much of the credit for the training of the characters. The superb dressing was a striking feature of the play and the ladies certainly presented a fine appearance, while the "foreigners" were hard to excel. The Chestertown orchestra composed of Miss Lillian Matthews, Warren Hurlock, Thomas Dixon, Hynson Rogers, Foster Cannan and Arthur Bacon furnished enjoyable music. The ushers were Mrs. J. G. Beck, Mrs. E. J. Clarke, Mrs. W. W. Beck, Miss Blanche Constable. The company showed in Centreville Thursday to a fair audience.

Sold at Public Auction.—The gasoline steamer Giovato was last Wednesday sold at public auction in Baltimore, under a United States marshal sale and was purchased by the Pennsylvania Iron Works, who will use the vessel on the Delaware river. The purchase price was $1000. The Gaivota was owned by the Chesapeake Tributaries Transportation Company, of Baltimore, who operated the vessel between that port and landings on the Chester River, in the transportation of grain, vegetables and other farm products. The company began operation last May, with the purpose of inaugurating a line of fast gasoline boats between the Eastern Shore and Baltimore. The initial trip of the vessel was made on May 6th. The owners of the wharf at Chestertown with othere were left minus their bills. The Company have sued the Standard Oil Company for $25,000 damages for tying up the boat.

Prize Winners.—The Peninsula Horticultural Society won twenty-eight prizes out of thirty-three exhibits at Council Bluffs, Iowa, in competition with Idaho, Washington, Oregon and all the rest of the United States. Colonel Brackett, United States pomologist, said the exhibit of apples was the finest he had ever seen shown by a horticultural society. Kent was well represented in this exhibit by Messrs. Walter Harris, W. F. Wink and others. Messrs. Albert Story, H. P. Skipper, R. I. Walker, across the river also joined in the exhibits.

Fires.—The building on the property of Mr. C. H. Hudson, in Piney Neck, was destroyed by fire last Friday night together with several tons of hay. The hall belonged to the Knights of Pythias and cost $300.

A small tenant house and shed on Mr. James Brice's farm in Morgnec, was destroyed by fire Monday night.

Property Sales.—Mr. J. Waters Russell has sold his interest in the Handy Point farm on the bay to Mr. Albert Jervis, of Still Pond. It is reported that the price agreed upon for the farm was about $11,000. This farm was bought at public sale in 1908 for $8500.

New Company Incorporated.—The Deep Point Motor Boat Co. has been incorporated with a paid up capital of $5,000. They will deal in engines, motor boats, supplies, etc., with headquarters at Deep Point. Mr. Claude Parks is president; J. G. Westcott, secretary and treasurer; Louis K. Stam, manager; George B. Westcott, Thomas Massey, H. W. Vickers, Jr., Wilbur Elason, Jr. A marine railway and other structures will be put up in the spring.

Announcements.—The wedding of Miss Addie Skirven Hurlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hurlock, Chestertown, to Mr. Frederick Gleaves Usilton, is announced to take place quietly in Christ Methodist Protestant Church, Chestertown, next Wednesday morning, Dec. 8th, 1909, at 7.15 o'clock. No cards.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Beck have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mabel Browne, to Mr. Romie Younger, on Wednesday evening December 8th, at seven o'clock, at their home near Hanesville. A reception will be held from 7 to 11 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Ruth announce the marriage of their daughter, Anna May, to Mr. Robert Temple Jarrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua R. Jarrell, of Kennedyville, to take place at the home of the bride's parents in Broad Neck, December 8th, at five o'clock.

The approaching marriage of Miss Florence Grise and Mr. Edward McCabe, of Shelbyville, is announced. Miss Grise is a charming young business lady of Snow Hill. Miss Grise is the daughter of the late Rev. Charles A. Grise, who for a number of years was the pastor of Chestertown M. E. Church.

Change in Firm.—Mr. Jesse T. Graham, a member of the firm of H. R. Graham & Bro., of Chestertown, has retired to accept the position of assistant chemist at College Park, Mississippi. This is quite an honor for Mr. Graham, but we are certainly sorry to lose him and his estimable wife. Mr. George Brice will assist in the store for the present.

Mr. Merrick Clements, book-keeper in the Chestertown Bank of Maryland, has purchased the interest of Mr. Jesse T. Graham beginning January 1, 1910. Mr. Clements does not expect to relinquish his position in the bank at present. He is thoroughly familiar with machinery, etc., and will make a valuable addition to this hustling hardware and implement house.

School Notes.—The Chestertown Public School will reopen next Monday.

The Betterton and Morgnec schools will remain closed another week on account of sickness.

Miss Addie S. Hurlock has resigned as teacher in the Chestertown High School and Miss Ruby Ahern has been appointed in her stead. Miss Wheat takes the Colt's school.

It is reported that the public school at Church Hill has been closed on account of diphtheria which has made its appearance in that town.

Gunning Notes.—Messrs. James W. Lambert, John F. Howard, George S. Biddle, three "young" sportsmen of this vicinity started gunning a few days ago as guests of Mr. Wm. Hendrix. The day was warm and Mr. Hendrix walked the "young" gentlemen too much. They returned with six rabbits but Mr. Hendrix did all the shooting!

Mr. Joseph R. Usilton bagged three wild geese Monday morning on his farm in Worton.

Mr. Wm. Hendrix caught 7 partridges in a fike set up on shore Monday. Four of them had died.

A dispatch dated Lansing, Mich., Nov. 28th, says: "An attempt by market hunters to ship 500 partridges in a coffin from Upper Michigan to Milwaukee, in violation of the state game laws, was frustrated by a keen nosed hunting dog, according to a report reaching the state game warden today. Deputy Game Warden Harrington was at the railway station at Flatwood, Dickinson county, when a rough box containing a coffin was brought in for shipment. While the intending shipper, armed with a death certificate duly signed by a physician, was talking with the ticket agent, the warden's dog scented the birds and came to a "point," focussing his gaze on the box. Finally, becoming impatient, the dog began pawing at the box. The deputy's suspicions were aroused, and an investigation followed. Opening the coffin, he was surprised to find, instead of the expected body, 500 plumb partridges. In the mean time the man who had brought them to the station had disappeared.

NEW COUNTY OFFICIALS

The Barroll Faction Change Clerk And Attorney in Commissioner Board—Mr. Davis President.

Messrs. Charles D. Wood, of the Fifth district, and Benjamin T. Cree, of near Betterton, the newly elected county commissioners for Kent county, were inducted into office Tuesday afternoon and Messrs. John E. Morris and Wm. Wagner retired. The board organized by electing Mr. Harry Davis president in place of Mr. A. C. Loud. Hope H. Barroll, Esq., was elected attorney in place of Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., and Mr. Samuel Hicks was elected clerk to supersede Mr. Charles L. Dodd. Messrs. Loud and Dudley voted for the old officials.

Register of Wills Jesse R Copper gave bond for $7,000 and will take charge of his office next Tuesday. He will retain Mr. Thomas Matthews as clerk.

Andrew Medders gave bond for $10,000 and was sworn in as sheriff of Kent county. He appointed Mr. James C. Bolton, a most excellent citizen and officer, as his deputy.

Treasurer Tarbutton will not assume his position of treasurer until April or May.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

MISS ELIZABETH HOSSNER.

At an early hour Thursday morning, Nov. 28th, ended one of the sweetest lives it has been our privilege to know. In that stormy night her spirit passed quietly away. So softly did the messenger come that those who kept vigil by the couch of the patient sufferer heard not his wing. She seemed dying while she slept and sleeping when she died. With a sweet sad smile her spirit left earth's loved ones to join the celestial chorus of the redeemed and purified. For eight months or more her health has been greatly enfeebled but her friends were hopeful. She was laid to rest in the quiet cemetery on Sunday, Nov. 28th. In conformity with her desire everything connected with the last attention of her friends to her mortal remains were quiet as possible. People in all the walks of life came to pay the last tokens of respect to the departed. Even the colored people came to take a sad farewell of their benefactress, for the poor found in her a true friend. The funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. Reynolds. The beautiful casket was surrounded by flowers. The pall bearers were: Chas. Hague, Clarence Kelley, Harry Johnson, Eddie Pennington, Eddie Wallace, Elwood Baker.

GEORGE BOLTON.

George Bolton, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of the First district, Cecil county passed to his rest on Friday last, after a lingering illness. He is survived by a widow and four sons, John B., George, James and Ollie Bolton.

Mr. James Roe, a farmer tenant on the Kerr farm, died in Cecil county last week. He was a brother of ex-sheriff Bedford Roe and 79 years old.

MR. JOHN J. SHEPPARD.

Mrs. John H. Hughes, of Chestertown, received a telegram last Friday conveying the sad information of the death of her father, Mr. John J. Sheppard, at his home in Chicago, on Thanksgiving Day. The deceased leaves a widow, who was the daughter of Mrs. W. J. Vannort, and two daughters.

JOHN MEREDITH.

Mr. John Meredith, 87 years old, a well-known farmer, died at his home near Elkton Monday after a long illness. He was a native of Millington, Kent county, but for many years had been a resident af Cecil. He is survived by two children—Mr. John P. Meredith and Miss Ada Meredith, of Elkton.

MISS ELMIRA E. JONES.

Miss Elmira E. Jones died Monday afternoon at the residence of her brother Mr. George D. Jones, on Queen street, Chestertown, aged 79 years. Funeral services held Wednesday conducted by Rev. Dr. H. B. Martin, interment in Chester cemetery. The bearers were: Edward Robinson, J. W. Lambert, Frank Leary, J. B. McIntyre, John F. Howard and Joseph Guest. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd in charge.

Fined.—Capt. Scott Crownhart, of Betterton, was tried before Justice Nickerson, Kennedyville, on Monday on a charge of shooting ducks from boat in Chesapeake bay. He was found guilty and fined $25 and costs. Through his attorney, S. Scott Beck, Esq., he took an appeal.

Mr. J. W. Russell lead the Christian Workers in Christ Church Sunday. A reading by Miss Bessie Wheatley and solo by Miss Ida Smith were features.

At the third Quarterly Conference of Chestertown M. E. Church held last Friday evening, the pastor, Rev. L. E. Barrett, D. D., was unanimously and enthusiastically invited to return for another year.

The Methodist Protestant church at Georgetown, Del., was burned last Sunday morning, the fire occurred while the congregation was at worship.

A pleasing feature of the Epworth League services last Sunday evening was a duett by Misses Hallie Toulson and Edith Dunbracco.
