Dear Sir.

The enclosed were recd this morning. The letters from your Son I took to the house & gave to your daughter, who opened them & returned them to be forwarded to you. The drafts (first & second) I retain here, lest this should fail to reach you. The letter from Mr Pinney I leave for you to answer.

Your letter containing matter for the Journal came to hand this morning — Mr Toy's boy was here — so I gave him the article & instructions. Nothing doing. Hoping you will be able to push that bill through I remain

Yrs Respectfully
