Mr. Harry Vickers, of the well-known commission firm of Stevens Bros., Baltimore, is visiting his brother, Mr. Charles Vickers, in Broad Neck.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

The Wesley Chapel and Social Circle will hold an interesting entertainment in Mechanics Hall on Thursday evening next. An elaborate program will be rendered.

The Patriotic Order Sons of America are planing a fine entertainment to be held in Mechanics Hall in the near future which promises to be one of the best of the season. The program will be rendered by ten or dozen parties from the city with some home talent.

Mr. A. Alexander attended the Feast of Purim in the city the past week.

Mrs. Alexander has returned from an extended shopping tour with a large consignment of millinery goods which she is now getting in shape for Easter. Her stock is the best ever. This is saying much, but the lady says it is true nevertheless.

Fishermen here are quite busy in their rigging up for the coming season, which promises to be a flourishing one.

Two-thirds of the oystermen here will quit Swan Point bar and shanty along E. N. Island shore and work Wickes' Beach, the side shoals and Strong's bank the remainder of the season.

Old winter is loathe to let go his grip. He is still handing out to us cold and snow to our disgust. We're all tired of him and the sooner he gives up the better.

The Epworth League Chapter which was a flourishing adjunct to the M. E. Church and an uplift to this community years back has lately been reorganized with a good membership and still growing. This is a happy move by the young people of this place. May it prove one of the brightest orbs in the firmament of Rock Hall. The League will hold a supper in the hall next Wednesday.

G. E. Leary & Son are sending out large lots of building material this week.

The proposed effort to permit Methodists to dance, play cards and attend theatre plays is causing some of us to perk up

MADISON BROWN, of the Centreville bar, was named attorney for the Centreville National Bank at a meeting of the Board of Directors, vice Thomas J. Keating, who was elected a director of this institution to succeed the late Dr. S. E Ford.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Charles England died at his home near Chesterville on Thursday last. He was about 73 years of age and leaves one daughter and three sons. He was one of Kent's best known citizens, kind hearted and generous. He was an old-line Republican. The funeral will be held Sunday at 11 A. M. from Chesterville M. E. Church, South; interment in Chesterville cemetery.

Edward Smith died at his home near Chestertown on Feb. 23rd. He was 59 years old and leaves one daughter, Marion. Funeral was conducted by Dr. F. T. Little on Monday, February 26th; interment at Union cemetery. The bearers were J. P. Price, A. S. Crouch, Walter Hogans, John Newsome, Medford Jones and C. L. Dodd. Undertaker Chas. L. Dodd.

Mrs. Helen Comegys, widow of the late Spencer Comegys, died at the home of her son near Black's Station on Tuesday night last after a short illness of apoplexy, aged 77 years. She leaves two sons, John and Spencer Comegys, both prominent farmers near Chesterville. Funeral was held at Shrewsbury P. E. Church on Friday afternoon at half past two o'clock, Rev. Mr. Robinson officiating; interment was in the cemetery adjoining. Undertaker W. H. Krusen had charge of arrangements.

GRANGE NOTES.

There were a few men present last week at our regular meeting of the Still Pond Grange but three-fourths were women. The programs being prepared now are of especial interest to the men, and it is really a pity that they must take all these things second hand. The men should try to plan to attend these meetings, they can get pointers and information which will go a long way towards paying for the afternoon's work which they think they are neglecting. It is especially unfortunate at this time, as the ladies are preparing one of their famous supper next Tuesday, but really you know the meeting begins at 2.30 p. m., and late comers stand poor chance of any potato rolls or chicken salad.

Still Pond Grange expects to be well represented at the Domestic Science class at M. A. C. held from 18th to 23rd of March. They are all tremendously interested in home-making and intend to fully appreciate Mrs. Patterson's efforts to help the farmer's wife.
