Our Reductions

Are Reductions

i. e., prices reduced from former low quotations. This is the cause—'tis and has been our getting rid of plan for a number of years.

We still have some good things left, yet we advise

CHESTERTOWN, MD.

LOCAL NOTES

DUCKERS killed several pairs of canvas back ducks at Comegys Bight Monday.

THE Caldwell sale in Galena Thursday was a big affair. More than seventy-five head of horses were sold, besides a carload of mules. The rain prevented many from attending.

THE Bohemia farm in Cecil was sold last week by Mrs. Maria G. Knight to Wm. H. Boulden for $13,500. It contains 300 acres.

THE 3-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moffett gave the parents a scare Wednesday by drinking some lye left in a cup. The prompt attendance of the doctor brought the little fellow through all right.

The sale of Mr. J. T. DeCorse's personalty Monday was attended by at least 500 persons and everything brought big prices. A 22-year-old mare brought $70 and mules went soaring. The sale amounted to about $3,000.

THE residence on Mr. Walter Harris' place, in Still Pond Neck, is being greatly improved by Staveley & Bowers. The outbuildings are also being thoroughly repaired by this hustling firm.

THE fishermen at Cliff's made some fine hauls of rock fish Saturday. Capt. Emory Crouch set an old net around Nichols' marsh and caught ten boxes of fine rock which sold for $250! He had new drift nets but caught nothing in them. This catch set the boys agoing and any kind of a net has been put into service.

THE greatest curiosity in the shape of an egg was brought to the NEWS office Wednesday by Mr. Charles Kirby. It was perfectly round and weighed 4 ounces. Mr Kirby got 197 eggs Tuesday from his chicken farm. Charles Brookens, a fancier from Pennsylvania, has on exhibition an egg laid by one of his black Minorca hens. Its circumferences are 8¼ and 6¼ inches and weighs 3¼ ounces.

A BAND with about twenty-five members was organized in Centreville Thursday evening, with Prof. W. C. Orrell as leader. When the organization is completed Centreville will have the largest band on the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

THE fine stallion, "Russell Dewey," owned by Mr. James G. Beck, died of spinal meningitis on Monday. This horse was bred and raised by Mr. Beck, being foaled in 1907. He was a finely proportioned brown trotting stallion, 15 3 hands high, with qualities and disposition unsurpassed

THE sore throat epidemic seems to have reached Chestertown, but the young men affected declare the cause is from milk rather than from kissing!

THE surveyors are at work this week on the proposed road between Still Pond station and Betterton.

THE colored women of the Bethel A. M. E. Church had a debate on whether women should be allowed to vote and the affirmative won. This congregation is raising money with which to build a new church and various means are adopted. A boys' day brought in over $25 and a girls' day, over $32. They are working hard for a new church.

THE sportsmen of near Warwick had fine sport killing geese last week. On Wednesday J. Cavender Rowan, John Stephens and Wallace DuHamel killed eight in Mr. Stephens' wheat field near town. On Thursday Irving Burke, Wm. Brown, Jr., and Joe Short killed six in William Luthringer's wheat field and on Friday Morning, at same place, killed nine. On Saturday John Stephens and Wallace DuHamel killed seven in Mr. Stephen's field. Mr. Allen killed four on Saturday, this making thirty-four killed in four mornings.

THE intensely interesting and well-performed play, "Phyllis' Inheritance," recently rendered with such eminent success by the senior class of the Chestertown High School, will be repeated in Stam's Hall next Thursday evening, March 28th. See adv. in this issue.

For Athletic Boys—Invitations are out to the school boys of Maryland to attend the annual track and field meet, to be held at the Maryland Agricultural College, College Park, Md., on the eleventh of May. The meet last year at the Agricultural College was a great success, and the boys from a number of county schools throughout the State won gold medals in the different events.

Running and jumping represent a good healthy sort of out-door exercise, and the boys would do well to train for the Agricultural College games, and enter the contests on May 11th.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded as last year. Any of our school boys who may want a booklet on "How To Train" may secure it free of charge upon application. The entry blanks will be mailed to all the country schools. Extra copies and the book on training may be secured free of charge by applying to Professor C. S. Richardson, College Park, Md.

Wild Swan and Geese Killed.—On Tuesday Mr. Buckworth, on Bohemia Manor shot and crippled a wild swan, which flew away till it fell in a field near Warwick where a colored man killed it. Mr. Harvey Jewell near Chesapeake killed 8 wild geese Wednesday of this week.

$17,000 Public Sale.—The large public sale of W. H. Collins which took place at Smyrna on Thursday was attended by 1500 persons. In all 105 horses and mules were sold, which netted Mr. Collins nearly $17 000. D. P. Hutchison the auctioneer talked for eight consecutive hours and handled the large crowd in his usual good style.

A Success.—The entertainment given Friday night by the Senior Class of the Chestertown High School was a great success and about $40 was realized. The characters of "Phyllis's Inheritance" as presented was as follows: Clyde Tarbutton, Charles Smith, Russell Wheatley, William Tarbutton, John Newnam, Norman Hirons, Bernice Clymo, Myra Wheat, Barbara Willis, Elizabeth Connelly, Merle White, Daisy Ford, Daisy Clark, Nettie Smith, Carmeta Russell. The acts were interspersed with Instrumental Duet, Misses Dorothy and Bernice Clymo; Imperial Quartette, Messrs. Ciminera, Madden, Bordley, Dashiels; Violin Solo, Mr. Kemp Bordley, accompanist, Mr. James L. Bacchus.

Devil's Punch Bowl.—Every county in the State seems to be jealous of the reputation attained by Still Pond by the report circulated all over the country of its wonderful Pond. Dr. Joseph Lane Finley, of Church Hill, writes: "Having read with interest about Still Pond in Kent county, I thought it might be interesting to hear something of our mysterious pond in Queen Anne's county.

The "Devil's Punch Bowl, which forms a perfect basin and is about 90 feet in diameter, is situated on the south side of the State road leading from Centreville, Queen Anne's county, on a farm owned by Mrs. James Brown. This mysterious basin or pond never holds water, no matter how much rain or snow falls, and, by many persons back in the sixties the water was supposed to be taken by "Old Nick," and kept in sight of his inmates just to tease them. Then, too, in those days others thought there was gold to be found in the hollow, and many have gone there at midnight with pick and shovel and dug until the scream of the then much hoodooed owl would frighten them and they would scurry away to their homes to reinforce their numbers and try again another night. But those that thought they would get rich quick never realized their wishes.

Anyone traveling from Chestertown to Centreville could locate the same if he would look to his right or south of the road just after passing the second woods. Many theories have been advanced why this bowl should not hold water, but none seem to give satisfaction. I think this pond is as mysterious as the still pond of Kent county."
