Gentlemen II A 24

After a long & exceedingly pleasant intercourse with your board & business for over 20 years, I am compelled to resign my seat among you & to ask you to fill my place —

Among the many troubles & vexations of business, I have always endeavoured to meet my share of your labours, and so pleasant have they been that I have held my seat long after I have resigned all like responsibilities.

Being thus about to part with you, I must thank you for the kind consideration you have always shown for my views and express the pleasure I have always felt in meeting your board.

I am I believe one among your the oldest members of y and after meeting so many years with you it is pleasant to reflect that there has been no occurrence in our deliberations calculated to leave a a disagreeable feeling behind it

There has been so much gentlemanly deference for one anothers opinion & feelings, and so much kindness & respect towards each other, and at the same time so much unanimity of views & promptness of action
