judicious terms, but I shall draw the country of bread stuffs especially. Now I want to say, despatch back the Brem and the other nine vessels with Bhop. For what am I to do? I have made requisition of the Masters of both Prizes and very low of provisions is a landed which was lost, but I have been obliged to share Capt. Brent of the Marion now in port 6 lbs. Beef and now lay aside the rest of the stores last year among so many. Perhaps Mr. Gillespie will write to you and advise the same thing. Send us provisions!!!

We are well, save a bad sore leg which I have, but that even is getting well. Mrs. Gray shares the climate most nicely.

Most kind regards to Miss Hall, Mr. Sergeant and yourself from Mrs. Gray & Ann as ever

Most respectfully
& affectionately
Your old friend
