A MEETING of the Chestertown Relief Association will hold a special session at the home of Mrs. W. C. Peregoy, Tuesday evening, June 4th. Mrs. Harry B. Rote, president, is anxious for a large attendance.

THE School Board yesterday named John C. Davis a trustee of the Chestertown school in place of D. Arthur Bacchus, bachelor. The trustees now are Thomas S. Bordley, C. S. Smith and J. C. Davis.

THE statement of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Kent County is published in this issue. The "home" company continues to furnish absolute security at low cost, showing careful and competent management.

THE summer season at Tolchester opens today. Supt. Noland has everything looking fine. The boats have been repainted, preservers overhauled and special attention given the safety of the crowds who patronize the company's steamers.

A TERRIER, owned by James Lively, bit Miss Effie Townsend, sister of Mrs. Dr. H. G. Simpers, while passing along Maple avenue Saturday. Dr. Simpers cauterized the wound. The dog will be killed after a time has elapsed sufficient to prove whether it was mad.

JUSTICE SKIPPER had his first case across the bridge Thursday. There were 22 witnesses. A party of girls and young men in a dearborn got into an altercation with white and colored men late Saturday night and the Justice fined two of the parties $10 and $5 each.

THE Town Commissioners have raised the wall at foot of Water street and laid a new cement walk near Mr. James W. Crouch's new home. The traveling public would respectfully call the Town Fathers' next attention to the awful condition of the walk near the Chestertown Laundry.

AT the regular meeting of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society last Saturday evening the following subject was debated: Resolved, That "Factions in Political Parties Are Detrimental to Society." On the affirmative were Messrs. Kidgely and Crouch; on the negative were Messrs. Burris and Pardew. The judges decided in favor of the negative.

ONE of the bird dogs owned by Mr. E. S. Valliant, of Church Hill, went mad suddenly Thursday of last week. It bit several dogs before it was learned that it was suffering with rabies. The rabid dog and all those that were bitten have been disposed of. The Town Commissioners of Church Hill have issued an edict making it mandatory for all dogs to wear muzzles for the next thirty days.

CARDS have been issued announcing the approaching nuptials of Miss Helen Elizabeth Brown, daughter of Mr. James Brown, of near Church Hill, and Mr. Madison B. Bordley, associate editor of the Centreville Record, to take place on Saturday, June 1, at St. Luke's Church, Church Hill. Miss Brown is one of the county's most popular young ladies and Mr. Bordley has many friends in Queen Anne's.

J. T. BRIGHT, of Centreville, has purchased the Hall property in Centreville, now occupied by Mrs. Sallie I. Hall, widow of Hersey Hall, of Centreville. This property originally cost $17,000 and is considered one of the prettiest and most desirable in the town. Mr. Bright will not occupy the house until probably the first of next year. It is understood that Mrs. Hall will erect a home on the lot adjoining the property she formerly owned.

Hines Objected to Uniform.—Thomas Hines, chief inspector of the Street Cleaning Department, has tendered his resignation to Commissioner Larkins. Mr. Hines, resigned, it was stated, because he did not care to accede to an order issued by his superior that all inspectors wear a uniform with brass buttons and a cap. Mr. Hines said he would rather sacrifice his position than wear a uniform.

LAST week a dangerous washout happened upon the section of State road, now under construction by Contractor Gonders, directly opposite the residence of E. S. Valliant, Jr., in Church Hill, several automobiles getting stuck and requiring mule teams to pull them out. Representative W. Irving Walker's team also got in it, and the harness breaking he was pulled out of the carriage trying to keep his horse from getting away, but suffered no serious injury.

THE Rich Neck Farmers' Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baxter, near town, last week. Among the addresses was one by Mr. Harry P. Skipper, President of the State Sanitary Dairy and Live Stock Board. "In order to aid in the advancement of dairying and live stock production, we will have to be on the alert. There is no doubt but that there is a large field for their activities, and in order to show the people of the state the value of this new addition, we propose to wage not only a war of suppression against all stock diseases, but also a campaign of education which will very materially aid in preventing stock epidemics which oftimes are prevalent with such great loss to the farmers of the state." A splendid dinner was served as Mrs. Baxter knows how to do so well.

A SINGULAR accident occurred at the home of Mr. C. S. Smith, on Washington avenue, one day recently. While the female members of the family were away Mr. Smith had a small colored girl to assist him about the house. He returned home at noon a few minutes early and found the "cook" asleep on the portable oven of the gasoline stove a few feet from the lighted stove. Over the first burner was a can of Boston baked beans, over the second were the potatoes while over the third burner was a bunch of asparagus. Mr. Smith hardly had time to view the scene before a tremendous explosion took place. The stove was turned over and everything on it scattered to the four corners of the room while the "cook" awoke and thought she had been killed! Upon investigation it was found that the can of beans had caused all the trouble by exploding. It was fortunate that Mr. Smith arrived when he did.

Mr. Hudson's Will.—To his wife was left the "Home Farm" during her life or so long as she shall remain his widow; also all household and kitchen furniture and one horse. At the death or marriage of his wife the farm goes to his son, George Raymond, subject to the payment of $3,000 to his daughter, Ida Moss Lee. George R. Hudson is also devised all real and personal property consisting of cash, notes, bank or other stock, horses, cows and all other personal or real property, except that bequeathed to his mother. The $3,000 to Mrs. Lee is to be paid within six years from this date. Mrs. Hudson is named executrix. It is reported that Mr. Hudson leaves $5,000 life insurance which under the will goes to his son, Raymond. The will was dated Feb. 14, 1911 and witnessed by H. H. Barroll, Esq., and W. B. Copper.

Back To Ireland.—Mr. Daniel McKee, father of Sheriff William H. McKee, left New York this week on the steamship Mauretania for his old home in Ireland. He left Ireland when 19 years old and has been away nearly 60 years. He has two sisters and a brother in the old country. Mr. McKee sailed in company with his daughter, Miss Katie, of Chestertown, and two nieces and nephew, of Nebraska. Mr. McKee had no idea of going abroad when he started to see his people off but when he reached New York he was persuaded to join them and away he went! Sheriff McKee was in the scheme.

Public Sales.—S. Scott Beck, Esq., trustee, sold at public sale Tuesday the Chestnut Ridge farm, Flatland, to Mr. Harry C. Willis, of Betterton, for $10,000. This farm was tenanted for 18 years by Thos. Davis and at present by Jesse Sheppard. It contains 205 acres. Mr. Willis bought the farm for Mr. Harry K. Legg, tenant on Mr. Chapman's fine Pearce farm, near town.

W. W. Beck, Esq., sold at public sale the Thos. J. Shallcross farm, situated near Locust Grove, to the Kent Land Co. for $9,150. This farm contains 157 acres, is located on Sassafras river and has a wharf at which the Tolchester boats stop.

Compromised Damage Suit.—The suit of Capt. William Wilson against the B. & O. R. R. for $20,000 for personal injuries received when the new bridge across the Susquehanna river collapsed in September, 1908, was set for trial at Centreville on Tuesday last. This case has been pending for a long time, Capt. Wilson having received a verdict formerly for $20,000, which was set aside by the Court of Appeals, and the case remanded for a new trial. Before the trial began on Tuesday opposing counsel reached a compromise, whereby the plaintiff was to receive $17,500, and the railroad company was to pay in addition $500 of the taxed costs. Wm. T. Warburton appeared for the B. & O. R. R. Co., John E. Semmes, Jr., for the American Bridge Co. and Albert Constable, John Young and Michael Fahey for the plaintiff.

Rev. J. A. Arters Hurt.—Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock while Rev. J. A. Arters, accompanied by a small colored boy, was driving on West Green street, Middletown, his horse became frightened at an automobile in front of the Shallcross Garage and ran away. The boy was driving a horse recently purchased by Mr. Arters, and started at a rapid gait out Green street, and turning the corner near St. Joseph's Church the wagon was upset, throwing both occupants out. The horse, free from the wagon, continued his race towards Townsend, and completely exhausted was stopped by a small girl. Mr. Arters was considerably shaken up, his face and head being cut and bruised considerably, but Dr. D. W. Lewis, his physician, does not think anything very serious will develop. He rested very nicely last night, and unless something develops later internally his patient will soon be entirely recovered. The colored boy escaped without any injury. It was a most fortunate narrow escape from a serious and fatal accident.
