POLO BLOUSES AND BLAZER COATS.

New York, June.

Two garments are notable in the outfit of the girl today and whatever else her wardrobe may lack it will have one or more "Polo" blouses and a "Blazer" coat.

THE BLAZER COAT.

The blazer coat is the old time favorite revived in striped color contrasts as of yore, still there are many changes rung on this model of loose sack shape, and some very pretty coats are built of wool serges with large white pearl buttons and the customary patch pockets of this sporty garment which is useful to slip over a two thin frock at the shore or in the mountains.

FASHIONABLE FOOTWEAR.

Fancy combinations of black and white are very much worn in both high and low footwear, though these have a tendency to make the foot look large. Single colors in tan, white, gray or black, are also very much in the running and the use of contrasting rather than matching hose is notable, especially the wearing of white hose with black shoes, and of black with white low footwear.

The above design is by The McCall Company, New York, Designers and Makers of McCall Patterns.

FANCY PARASOLS.

Parasols not to be outdone by the novelties in other dress accessories, have taken strange and bizarre forms this year. Pagoda shapes abound, with curves that would astonish the original models. Flat outstanding types are seen in both the sun and rain varieties, which their makers claim give added protection from the elements, because of their wider spread. This point can surely not be urged in favor of the unlined parasols of lace which are the top notch of elegant expensiveness brought out by the most exclusive dealers.

SEED PEARLS AND HAT PINS.

It's the thing to use matching hat pins, and these of very moderate size, in enamel, or seed pearls or those of the fresh water variety, but as only imitation stones are used, at a cost of 50 cents to $1 each, these are not prohibitive luxuries to even a modest purse. The same style pins in all black in dull finish are used for mourning headwear. Seed pearl necklaces, brooches, earrings and other jewels, are greatly desired by up-to-date dressers, and accord well with the fussy styles in vogue. Silver shoe buckles are another fad for Colonial pumps and slippers, and these are rivaled in favor by the rather more costly buckles of cut steel.

"Wash rag" hats are the latest thing for outing wear, and are worn like panamas with any costume. Panamas are very large and trimmed with a band of velvet or ribbon.

VERONA CLARK.

D. Ross & Son, 206-210 Market St., Wilmington, Del., are the exclusive agents for the McCall Patterns and Publications, and carry in stock over 10,000, dress patterns of the latest Paris, London and New York Styles, from which the ladies of Chestertown and vicinity can supply their pattern wants immediately at popular prices, 10 and 15 cents. Mail orders given prompt and careful attention.

EASTERN SHORE IS SINKING.

Washington, June 9th.—The Eastern Shore of Maryland is slowly sinking to sea level.

Of course it will be a million years before a canoe is needed to navigate that now garden spot of Maryland. The Geological Survey has issued a bulletin describing a survey made of the Choptank area. It says millions of years ago the Choptank and other rivers were above-tide streams and not estuaries of the sea, as at present. The bulletin treats the Choptank area as follows:

"In tracing the geological history of this area through the various uplifts of the land and submergences beneath the sea during the many millions of years of the earth's history the author states that the last movement was downward and that, in fact, slow subsidence of the land is probably in progress.

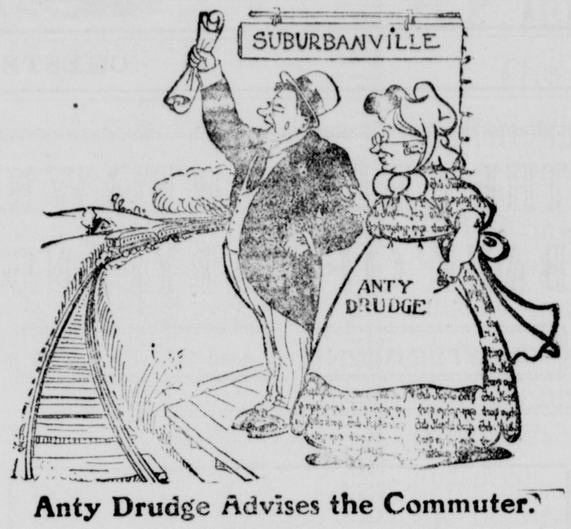

"Before this subsidence of the Choptank and adjacent areas began, the Patuxent, Potomac and other rivers of the region, instead of being estuaries, as at present, were undoubtedly streams of varying size, lying above tide level, and emptying into a diminished Chesapeake Bay. An area many miles in extent that had been land before this subsidence commenced is now beneath the waters of the Chesapeake Bay and its estuaries."

Anty Drudge Advises the Commuter.

Mr. Suburbanite—"Missed my train! And not another one for an hour!"

Anty Drudge—"That's too bad. What was the matter? Clock stopped?"

Mr. Suburbanite—"No. It's the same thing every Monday morning. I never can get my breakfast till the last minute. Washboilers on the range and no room to cook breakfast."

Anty Drudge—"How silly. Tell your wife to use Fels-Naptha. Then she won't have any use for a washboiler. She need only rub the clothes with Fels-Naptha and soak them in a tub of cold or lukewarm water."

When you take medicine you go by the directions, don't you?

Well, that is just the way we want you to use Fels-Naptha soap—according to directions on the wrapper. You don't expect medicine to cure unless taken rightly, and you shouldn't expect Fels-Naptha to do everything claimed for it unless used in the way it is meant to be used. Given a chance, it will cure your wash-day ills.

Here is a prescription in the case of white clothes: Soap the clothes with Fels-Naptha, roll, soak in cold or lukewarm water 30 minutes, rub lightly, rinse and hang on the line. That's all. By all means don't boil the clothes or use hot water. Fels-Naptha was made to save you from the trouble of boiling, heating water and rubbing hard.

For washing colored clothes, flannels, and many other uses of Fels-Naptha, directions are printed on the red and green wrapper.
