My Dear Friend

Inquiry has been made for a colored resident of Cape Palmas of good business talent and general administrative ability. He must be a man of tried integrity and capacity, as he is desired to act for others. A member of the Episcopal Church preferred, but this is not deemed indispensible.

I have suggested Gibson of Cape Palmas. What do you think of him in this connection? Perhaps there are some other persons at that place just approaching denominationally who have not been connected with the Episcopal Church operations in Liberia who are even more capable financiers and traders than he. Please consider this matter and give your views at your earliest convenience.

Your very respectfully,
Wm Coppinger
