SATURDAY, JULY 20, 1912

THE Roosevelt "Bull Moose" Party will hold a State Convention in Baltimore Thursday. Sidney P. Townshend, Esq., is the representative from Kent, and has a number of influential Republicans with him. The NEWS has not heard of any Democrats joining him.

GOV. OSBORN, the Republican Executive of Michigan, urges his fellow party men who are indignant at the action of the Chicago convention, to vote for Wilson. The Governor argues that by so doing they will in no way sever their connection with the old party, the Governor recognizing the fact of the frauds practiced which gave the nomination to Taft. He says a third party is not necessary.

TAKING for his text "Righteousness exalteth a nation," Rev. C. H. Richardson, pastor of Garrett Park Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore, urged his hearers to rebuke at the polls the frauds of the Chicago convention. The conduct of that convention, the pastor said, was shameless. "It made the word Republican a reproach. After 40 years' affiliations with the party I shall vote against Taft and Sherman as a protest against successful fraud."

GOV. WILSON, our candidate for President, is kept busy daily receiving the scores and hundreds of visitors, who journey to his home. On Tuesday, H. H. Barroll, Esq., took his son, Wethered, to Sea Girt, who was introduced, explaining as he did so that the son, Wethered, was president of the Woodrow Wilson Club of the Johns Hopkins University. Others from Chestertown had seen him a few days before and paid their respects.

HON. WM. M. SLAY evoked considerable applause at the recent meeting of the Wilson and Marshall Club of Kent county, when he made this pertinent statement in reply to the suggestion that the club be called "The Progressive Wilson Club":

"Gentlemen, in my opinion, the name Wilson means Progressive, so that in its use it would be superfluous; therefore, I move that the name be 'The Wilson and Marshall Club of Kent county.'"

This name was adopted and the members enrolled are increasing daily.

A UNITED PARTY.

We do not recall a time when an American political party went into a campaign more united than is the Democratic party today. The nomination of Governor Woodrow Wilson was the result of so many different conditions, most every element in the party is bound, by one consideration or another, to support the Democratic ticket.

In 1896, the party was disrupted over the silver question and other issues put forward by Mr. Bryan. Governor Wilson's sympathies were with the people who followed Palmer and Buckner and they are bound to his support. On the other hand, he was Mr. Bryan's personal choice and, but for Mr. Bryan, he never would have received the nomination. All loyal Bryanites must therefore support him.

Already certain people who care more for their own interests than for those of the Democratic party are beginning to speculate upon the distribution of the patronage by Governor Wilson and they are figuring out to their own satisfaction that certain elements, elements that are always Democratic are to be ignored. This sort of talk is all foolishness and, if indulged in, can only lead to dissention in the party and to the party's defeat.

Governor Wilson can only be elected by the support of the regulars and the earnest and enthusiastic support of the regulars. The co-operation of all elements of the party is welcome, but the people who hold themselves up to be above anybody else are a small minority and they must remember that the party can get along much better without them than without the regulars.

There should be no more talk about the "originals" or offices until after the election. Let the Democrats of all shades of opinion, and all they can induce to go with them, unite in making Governor Wilson's election a certainty and in running up the biggest majority possible. It will then be ample time to talk about distributing the loaves and fishes.

IT is not always the women who want to get married. Mrs. Clara Lee Brown, of Kansas City, Mo., the mysterious widow whose quest for a husband not "western" or "corn fed" has stirred up excitement in Boston and New York and congested the mails at Congress Hotel, has announced the rejection of all her suitors. There are 1,500 of them but she thinks possibly some other woman might care to give one of the applicants a chance. The 1,500 letters are about as varied a lot as ever were gathered together. Among the widow's rejected suitors are: Harvard graduates, 66; Yale men, 10; Oxford graduates, 13; scions of nobility, 150; men who estimated their fortunes between $10,000 and $50,000, 200; clergymen or students for the ministry, 10; men separated but not divorced, 23; widowers, 208.

IN an epoch-making order, announced on Monday, the Inter-State Commerce Commission presented a new schedule of express rates to be extended to all points in the United States. It is estimated that the average reduction in these rates from those at present charged by the express companies is 40 per cent. on the packages up to 25 pounds, and 18 per cent. on all classes of packages carried.

The rates are not to go into effect at once. The commission desires first to hear from shippers and express companies concerning any criticisms they have to make, and for this purpose a hearing will be given by the commission on October 9 next. The burden of proof, however, is placed upon the express companies, which are required to show cause before that date why the new rates should not go into effect.

It is not believed that the express companies will make objection to this order but rather welcome it as a means to prevent the passage of the Parcels Post bill.

THE Republican party, with a constitution already weakened from an overindulgence in High Tariff and Special Privilege champagne, is now, after a nearly four years long debauch with William H. Taft as toastmaster at the gluttonous feast of the fat Bosses, so totally rotten and ruined as to be palpably moribund. To be precise about the matter, its demise will occur about November 5th, 1912.

And since the once great party, in wanton disregard of all the warnings of its patriot adherents, the Progressives... among whom the editor of the Transcript claims the honored distinction of being a humble member—has chosen to enter upon its fatal course wilfully, we say once more "it's no funeral of ours." —Middletown Transcript.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

Rock Hall, July 17, 1912

MESSRS. EDITORS:

I notice that in every issue of all the daily papers there are definitions of the terms "reactionary" and "progressive," as now applied to the political parties.

In our humble judgment every fellow of them is simply giving vent to his views from the standpoint that best appears to suit his selfish motive. These definitions may be seen daily in the Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York papers. In the Sun of last Wednesday one scribbler dubbed the President, ex-President, Governor Wilson and even Col. William J. Bryan as all being Reactionaries. Great Guns and Little Pistols! What small pop-gun minds some would-be-smart-Alecs have. But, as the writer fully expected, it remained for the Chestertown Transcript — the smallest pop-gun now known—popped its poisonous, sneaking pop in its last issue, when it characterized the Democrats of Kent county in the same class.

Yours truly,

FIFTH DISTRICT OYSTERMAN.

Summer colds are hard to get rid of, and frequently lead to asthma, bronchitis and hay fever. Do not let your cold get a hold on you, but use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for quick relief. W. H. Allen, Chelsea, Wis., says: "We prefer Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to other cough medicines because it quickly cures coughs and colds. It will ward off a cold if taken in time." Contains no opiates. Sold by M. A. Toulson.

PUBLIC SALE —OF— Personal Property

THE undersigned, intending to discontinue farming, will sell at public sale, without reserve, on the farm known as the Wm. H. Spry Farm, 3 miles southwest of Sassafras, on the road leading from Wilson's Point Cross Roads to Massey, on

THURSDAY, August 1st, 1912

At 10 o'clock A. M. sharp, the following Personal Property, to wit:

7 Head Horses & Colts

No. 1. Norman, gray percheron horse 8 years old, will weigh about 1300 lbs; the best work horse I ever had hooked by the neck; sound and quick to move.

No. 2. Elmer, gray Percheron mare, 4 years old, sound, will work in all harness. This mare will weigh about 1300 lbs. This pair of horses makes a nice wagon team or any kind of team you want; you need not be afraid of getting stalled with this pair.

No. 3. Bessie, bay Percheron mare, 8 years old, will weigh about 1250 lbs., kind and gentle, will work anywhere and a good brood mare; has had 4 colts in four years, and with foal now by Roy Caulk's black Percheron horse. This mare is a prize for some one.

No. 4. Samuel T., bay horse, 4 years old, sound and gentle, will work anywhere and will weigh about 1100 lbs.; a stylish driving horse and a good driver, too.

No. 5. Brownie Wilkes, brown horse, 6 years old, 16 hands high, will weigh 1100 lbs.; a good driver, any child can drive him, and a good worker.

No. 6. Prince May Day, brown horse, 16 hands high, 12 years old. This is what you call a driving horse, no road too long for him, and can pull a carriage over the road at a 2.30 clip; a hard horse to pass; will work anywhere, quiet and sound.

No. 7. Florence, sorrel filly, 16 months old. This is the largest colt I ever saw for its age.

14 HEAD OF Guernsey Cows and Heifers

Nine of which are milking now, and the rest are close Springers and Yearlings. This herd of cattle is well worth the attention of a good dairyman. They test higher than any one that goes to the creamery. The test of each cow's milk will be given the day of the sale.

5 HEAD OF HOGS,

will weigh about 275 lbs.; TWO BROOD SOWS, with pigs by their side. These are beauties.
