people this fall &c. &c. They have only voted to give us $7,500. which would but little more than pay the Charter of a vessel to carry a hundred people according to law — and to send those people now — would nearly use up our funds, & would interfere with the possibility of our sending the Golconda next Spring. It would take away so much of our money — & so many of the certainest of our emigrants. I think consider that the breaking up of our prospect of sending a good Company in the Spring. While we have a ship I think we are bound to reserve for her all the work we have. I think the whole impression would be bad if we come to Charter a vessel & send a small Company. The difference
