SAVE your flags and bunting to celebrate Wilson's election.

SOME of our citizens went to the seashore for change and rest, but soon returned, stating that the railroad got the change and the hotels the rest!

CHESTERTOWN did herself proud this week. Why not have a parade every year? It might be on the water with launches or contests of various kinds on the College campus. Why not? We refer the matter to our Board of Trade.

THE Chestertown visitors to the Pocomoke Fair last week complimented the town on its growth and the Fair management on the beautiful grounds, etc., but they were astounded at the looseness of the local option law. The local paper says: "On Friday of last week the Steamboat landed at Pocomoke City one hundred and seventy barrels of Rikk and Beer, to say nothing of the large number of boxes labeled whiskey. How is that for a dry town (?) with over 20 Rikk and Beer counters in the corporation corrupting and ruining the youth and old alike."

CALL A HALT.

On another page of this issue will be found an article in regards to steamers coming into Maryland waters, during the Spring fishing season and taking hundreds of thousands of fish to Virginia, where they are converted into fertilizer. These industries are not permitted to exist upon fish taken from Virginia waters, so the steamers come into Maryland waters, buy up all kinds of fish and carry them to Virginia. If Virginia won't allow fish to be taken from her waters to keep up the existence of her industry, why should Maryland tolerate this practice? Steps should be taken to put an end to it before another Spring fishing season arrives.

THAT "INTERESTING CASE."

MESSRS. EDITORS KENT NEWS:

Under the caption of "An Interesting Case," in last Saturday's Transcript, that organ made a most unjust and vicious attack on Rev. Thomas B. Gardner, of New York. The question presented to the court on demurrer was as to the validity of the magistrate judgments referred to in the opinion, and the Court distinctly ruled at the hearing that the question of fees was not the point involved. Nor are they in any way alluded to in the opinion.

Now the "respectable colored man," whom the Transcript wishes us to believe is such a martyr, is none other than Wm. W. Jones, of Morgnec, who was kicked from the colored teaching force of this county by the late Professor Peterson on complaints of gross immoralities.

Now this Jones had borrowed $200 of Mr. Gardner's money at legal interest on note, to be secured by three magistrate judgments, and on the failure of Jones to pay any attention to this debt when due, and after he had been notified of the due date, an inspection of the judgments disclosed that they had been erroneously entered and the magistrate out of office, and to insure the safety of Mr. Gardner's money judgment was entered on the judgment note.

The Court's opinion, as rendered by Chief Judge James A. Pearce, follows in full:

"It is conceded by the demurrer that the three judgments entered by the Justice of the Peace for the same indebtedness as the note upon which judgment was entered in the Circuit Court, and it was expressly conceded by defendant's counsel that a written statement of the claim upon which each of said three judgments before said justice was based, was filed in each case. These judgments were, therefore, valid judgments, and the cause of action, which was the debt due was merged in said judgments. No suit, therefore, could have been maintained upon the $200 note, as the cause of action thereon was extinguished by the rendition of the judgments before the Justice of the Peace. Walsh vs. Canal Co., 59 Md. 427. The judgment on the $200 note was a nullity, and being a nullity it could no more be enforced against the plaintiff than could the note upon which it was rendered.

"Where the judgment is a nullity enforcement of it is properly restrained in Equity by injunction. Griffith vs. Clark, 18th Md. 457. In Gorsuch vs. Thomas, 57th Md. 335, the judgment was confessedly a valid judgment; and therefore was the distinction between that case and the present case. This case is not analogous to that nor to the ancient practice of audita querela, upon which the modern practice stated in 57th Md. supra, is said to be founded."

Test: JAMES A. PEARCE.

Now it will be noticed that in all this opinion there is not one word about excessive fees.

HOW LEADING PAPERS STAND.

Presidential Candidates Supported By The Principal Journals.

New York—The World, Times and Evening Post, for Wilson; the Tribune and the Sun, for Taft; the Evening Mail, for Roosevelt; the Press, anti-Wilson on the tariff, though claiming that neither Taft nor Roosevelt can be elected; the Herald, compliments Wilson, but also has good word for Taft, anti-Roosevelt; New York American, Wilson but anti-Bryan.

Brooklyn Eagle Wilson.

Philadelphia—Bulletin, for Taft; Record, Wilson; Ledger, Wilson; Inquirer Taft; Press, Taft, and North American, Roosevelt.

Boston—Globe leans toward Wilson; Transcript, apparently for Taft; Herald, Taft; Journal, Roosevelt, and Post, Wilson.

Washington Post, Wilson.

Springfield (Mass) Republican, Wilson.

Cleveland Leader, Taft.

Cincinnati Enquirer, Wilson.

Kansas City Star, Roosevelt, but highly commends Wilson.

Chicago—Tribune, Roosevelt; Record-Hearld, leans to Wilson; News, Progressive, but neutral, and Inter Ocean, Taft.

Indianapolis—News, Wilson.

St. Louis—Post-Dispatch, Wilson; Republic, Wilson, and Globe-Democrat, Taft.

TRANSCRIPT CORPORATION AND THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

There is no lie so dangerous as a half truth. The Transcript corporation came out on Saturday last with the declaration that there was $1,827.38 on hand at the end of Prof. Melvin's school year, and not a dollar of county money yet paid in. But it failed to state that this money was balance of the money paid by the State of Maryland received since the close of the schools and left after paying the debts of the Board. The State of Maryland, by direct appropriation and licenses, furnishes nearly half the money for our local schools, and instead of having all this money on hand to run the schools the coming year, there is left the pittance of $1,827 38. Whereas Prof. Melvin had, according to the published statement, to begin his year—

General Fund	$4 932 97
Book Fund	376 52
Total amount	$5,309 49

or Prof. Melvin had $3,482.11 more to begin the year with than Prof. Smyth.

Now, if the Transcript corporation crowd had not deprived the School Board of that $3,000 appropriation, Prof. Smyth would have been short of the fund held by Prof. Melvin but $482.11, to carry on the schools for the next year. The Transcript corporation acts towards its readers as if they would prefer to believe the false rather than to know the truth, otherwise it would have stated that this balance on hand of $1,827.38 compared with the balance on hand when the year before opened with $5,309.49.

JOHN D. URIE.

MR. TOWNSHEND LEAVES OLD PARTY.

"Support Taft or resign," was the ultimatum issued to the Republican Presidential electors Wednesday by the Republican State Executive Committee at its meeting in the Calvert Building, Baltimore.

The meeting was enthusiastic from the viewpoint of the President's campaign. There was only one ribble of opposition. This came from Sydney P. Townshend, of this county, who is for Colonel Roosevelt. When he found that he was hopelessly in the minority he left. His place was taken by John D. Urie, Republican leader of Kent county, who is in sympathy with the plans. Mr. Urie a member of the State Committee, said Mr. Townshend did not represent the sentiment of Kent county, the proof being the large majority given President Taft in the primaries, and as he was not in accord with the party management, it was no more than right that he sever his connection with the organization.

Mr. Townshend acknowledged this to be a fact and announced his purpose to tender his resignation. Then stating that the committee would probably discuss matters affecting the Republican campaign management, he felt that it would be indelicate on his part to remain and he would therefore withdraw, which he accordingly did.

Throughout the discussion these was absolutely no feeling shown and no heated language used. All the members of the committee deplored the loss of Mr. Townshend, who has always been held in the highest esteem, but all again agreed that as he persisted in bolting the nominee of the Republican party his usefulness as an executive had ceased.
