100 lbs assorted Nails, 1 dinner-pot, 1 bake-oven and 1 small frying-pan, or with such portion thereof as the Agent in charge may deem necessary. That said articles when furnished shall be charged to the emigrants, but that the Agent for their distribution be directed in cases where he may deem it proper from the circumstances of the emigrant to advise the Society to remit the debt.

4. Resolved That in cases where the actual illness of the emigrant requires medical attendance and food beyond the term of six months, the Agent may in his discretion extend the time not to exceed fifteen months from the time of his landing.

5. Resolved That this Board, impressed with the care taken by the Executive Committee in the selection of emigrants, as exhibited in their Statement read at this meeting, rely upon the Executive Committee to exercise the utmost care practicable in the selection of emigrants to be aided in going to Liberia - to secure such only as may promise to become useful inhabitants."
