Miss Dreka was accompanied by her brother, who witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Holliday will be at home, 31 Saint Famille Street, Montreal, after October 20th.

CHAPMAN—VALLIANT.

A pretty home wedding took place at high noon Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Walter Chpman, on Washington avenue. The contracting parties were Mr. Frederick Storrs Chapman, of Albany, New York, and Miss Elizabeth Lenore Chapman, of Ingleside, Md., the groom being the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P Chapman, of Hartford, Conn., and the bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick H. McShane, of Baltimore. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry B. Martin, D. D., rector of Emmanuel P. E. Church, the bride being given away by her father.

The bride's gown was of white satin charmense, trimmed with Duchel Rose point lace and pearl trimmings. tulle veil caught up with orange blossoms She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Wm. Walter Chapman, a cousin of the bride, was attired in Rose pink charmense, with black velvet picture hat, and carrying pink roses.

The best man was Mr. Wm. Sloane, of Hartford, Conn.; and ribbon bearers, Wm. Walter Chapman, 2nd. Lohengren's wedding march was performed by Mr. Harold Chapman, brother of the groom.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, attended by the bridal party, family and family guests, the color scheme of the house decorations being parlor, white and green ; drawing room —pink and white chrysanthemums.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Chapman, Messrs. Guy Beardsley, Wm. Sloan and Harold Chapman, of Hartford, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McShane and Master Karlton McShane, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Valliant, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stephens Valliant, Miss Eliza Faithful, Miss Lulu Faithful, of Church Hill, and Mr. Earl Withgott, of Easton.

SIEGEL—WHALEY.

Mr. Herman Arthur Siegel, of Philadelphia, and Miss Cora Roberts Whaley, daughter of Robert R. Whaley, of Church Hill, were quietly married at the parsonage of Grace Methodist Protestant Church, Centreville, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. L. Nichols. The couple motored to Centreville in the automobile of Mr. Harry J. Bamberger, of near Church Hill, and proceeded immediately to the Clerk's office, where a license was issued. Rev. Nichols was soon found and in a few minutes the knot was securely tied.

The wedding was a complete surprise to those living in Church Hill, the bride's home. Miss Whaley was educated as a trained nurse at Battle Creek, Michigan, and later went to India as a missionary. She remained there for some time and then came back to this country and was at Coma Park, Washington. For the last six months she has been living in Philadelphia, and it was there that she met Mr. Siegel.

They will make their future home in Philadelphia, where the groom is engaged in business.

ALDERMAN—GRAVES.

On Wednesday evening, October 16th, Miss Sarah Elizabeth Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levinus C. Graves, of Blacks, Md., was married at Shrewsbury Church to Mr. Daywood L. Alderman, of Greensboro, N. C. The church was decorated with beautifully colored autumn leaves, potted plants and cut flowers, and the altar bright with lights in silver candelabras.

To the music of the Lobengrin Wedding March, played by Miss Mary Janvier, and preceded by the ushers, Mr. Wm. Graves and Mr. Wm. Janvier, and the maid, Miss May Graves, the bride approached the altar with her father, where they were met by the groom and his brother, Mr. Charles W. Alderman, as best man. The cousin of the bride, Rev. J. Wilson Sutton, assistant of Old Trinity, New York, and the Rev. H. W. Robinson, Rector of Shrewsbury, performed the ceremony. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played at the Recessional. The bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents, where relatives and friends soon greeted them with best wishes for a long and happy life together. Many handsome and useful gifts in silver, cut glass, linen and household ornaments attested the esteem in which the bride is held. After a pleasant evening, enjoyed by all, the wedding party was driven by automobile to Middletown, Del., enroute to Baltimore, Washington and other points before returning to Greensboro, where they will be at home after November 1.

The bride's going-away suit was a dark blue tailor-made, her wedding gown charmeuse satin trimmed with chantilly lace, her veil of bridal illusion, and her ornament a crescent of pearls and sapphires, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor wore pink messaline with lace and carried white carnations. The bride's shower bouquet was of bride roses and lillies of the valley.

Guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Alderman, of Greensboro, N. C.; Miss Mary Graves, Wilmington, Del.; Miss Carrie Merritt, Miss Rose Comegys, Millington; Miss Mary Wallis, Georgetown; Mr. Rich'd L. Price, Middletown, Del.

JOHN WARD, who lives between Georgetown and Laurel, hereafter will put his trust in banks instead of hiding his money around in odd corners after a recent experience, which, fortunately, turned out all right. For years Ward kept his savings hidden about his home. Last week his entire savings, consisting of about $700, were missing, and Ward had no clew as to where the money had gone. The matter was reported to the Laurel police, and shortly afterward the money was handed to Ward by a neighbor who told him that a young woman had given it to him for Ward, as her conscience had stricken her. Ward was so glad to get the money back that he stopped further search and hastened to a bank with the cash.

THE Chestertown Grange will meet Monday, Oct. 21 at 2 o'clock. A full attendence of the members is desired.
