he staid all night & most of the next day, when he might have gone the same evening only confirmed my supposition!

I wrote you the 18th in the evening at my own house which I suppose you received Monday the 20th though you do not say so, that the ship was to sail from Balt. the 1st Nov. — touch at Norfolk, or in H. Roads & take on board emigs. & then go direct to Monrovia.

Now as to the number of emigrants, I can say
