THE carving of turkey will be the next event.

REMEMBER the fine weather we have been enjoying when the rain, snow and freezing times visit us. Isn't it splendid.

WHAT has become of Col. George Harvey, the man who boomed Hon. Woodrow Wilson for President? He deserves a seat at the table and to be feasted on the first fruits.

THE rural carriers are under civil service. The Democrats will endeavor to keep them there if they can be as successful in getting their party in places as the Republicans have been.

A BLEMISH in a piece of highly polished wood or metal is made all the more noticeable because of the beauty and attractiveness of the surrounding body. So also is it in human life. Brilliancy of mind and purity of character tend to make a fault appear all the more hideous.

THE Talbot county Bar Association and the Court House officials will give a farewell dinner to Judge James Alfred Pearce at the Hotel Norris next Tuesday evening, as a testimonial of their admiration for him and his ability and genial personality during the term of his service which is soon to end.

H. P. SKIPPER, one of our neighbors, has again been honored by the re-election as President of the State Crop Improvement Association. This Association is doing more to help the farmer than any politician or politieal club ever dreamed of doing. If as much time and money were spent in this direction as is given for political purposes the county and State would experience a great improvement in many ways.

WE want to say a good word for the man who meets his small obligations promptly. They are not as plentiful as they should be, and the man needs encouraging. Most men will pay, but few will pay promptly. Almost any firm will testify that counting the time, postage, booking and the like, it costs all some accounts are worth to collect them, even when the man who contracted the debt is known to be perfectly responsible in a financial way. It very often happens that the worst sinner in this particular is the man best able to pay.

IN addition to the general occasion for thanksgiving, every life has its own joys and every soul its own delights. There are many who appear to be barren of rejoicing, some into whose homes calamity has come and from which have gone those whose faces were the love-lights of the domestic circle. But even here may be found some cause for rejoicing, and, in any event, a reverent faith may take up the triumph of the uncrushed spirit of Job—"Though He slay me, yet will I praise Him." God does not willingly afflict the children of men, and when the misfortunes come he stands ready to comfort and to protect.

AN extra session of Congress will be called for about April 15th. It is hoped the Democrats will act as such, transact the business before them quickly and let the country know just what they may expect. Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood will make safe advisers. Tariff revision is bound to come, and nothing is to be gained by postponing the task. The sooner Congress gets to work at it the better it will be for the country and for the Democratic party. There need be no fear of business disturbance as a consequence of this announcement, as it merely carries out the decision of the people recently registered at the polls. Nor need there be any apprehension of a radical policy that would endanger any American industries. The list for revision was clearly marked out at the last session of Congress, and it contains nothing that threatens any honest and legitimate enterprise.

THE Grand Jury at the last term of Court in Queen Anne's made some important recommendations. A Police Justice is one suggestion, another is the elimination of all extravagant expenses incurred by the Sheriff in taking prisoners away and that he be paid the flat sum of $15 as is the practice in Kent. Here is another: "It is the sense of this Grand Jury from the ruling of the Court and also from the law as shown us by the State's Attorney, that the playing of all games of cards and all other games of chance for money, or its equivalent, is against the law of this State. We, therefore, would hereby notify the public that any and all persons indulging in any of these games do so at their own peril." The report is signed by Graham Watson, foreman; Woolsey J. Massey and Jas. T. Anthony, secretary.

THE Pennsylvania Railroad announced today that it will shortly have available for use on the lines of its System a total of 2872 solid steel passenger equipment cars, probably more than one half of the all-steel passenger equipment in the

STATEMENT OF STATE'S ATTORNEY

MESSRS. EDITORS OF KENT NEWS.:

Dear Sirs.—I had not intended to reply to the several editorials of the Chestertown Transcript of November 2nd, but so many persons throughout the County have asked me in regards to the editorial in which I was referred to as an informer before the Grand Jury, I, as State's Attorney gave the Grand Jury information, which Mr. Nichols had given me and then that body had Mr. Nichols summoned as a witness. Mr. Nichols never was nor never has been under any suspicion of violating the Corrupt Practices Act, he was summoned as a witness to show that Mr. J. E. Morris and Mr. Thos. D. Bowers had not filed correct and proper accounts as Treasurers of their respective funds

Mr. Nichols produced a check of $31, payable to Mr. J. E. Morris and cashed by Mr. Morris which amount had been returned by Mr. Nichols to Mr. Morris, but Mr. Morris in his sworn statement never accounted for it, nor did he as shown in Mr. Wm. T. Nicholson's letter in the same issue, account in his statement for $46 00 returned to Mr. Morris. If these amounts were returned to Mr. Morris after he had filed his report then he should have filed a supplemental report, showing all the amounts returned to him and that he had returned the balance to Mr. Murray Vandiver from whom he had received the $500, as shown in his filed statement.

I cannot conceive of how a person could write such an editorial when they know that Mr. Nichols was summoned as a witness before the Grand Jury, and that if he had been accused of violating the law, that he would never have gone before the Grand Jury, as his appearance before that body would have made him immune from prosecution.

Mr. Nichols Jr., was a member of the Grand Jury and he has told me since Court that he and his father, both knew that I never informed the Grand Jury that he was suspected of violating any law, but that he was summoned as a witness against Mr. Morris and Mr. Bowers.

Mr. Morris should under the law have filed another statement and I now as State's Attorney for Kent County call upon him to do so.

I was simply doing my duty as State's Attorney and the Grand Jury upheld me in the matter and made a recommendation to all Treasurers in the future to make their reports in itemized form concerning all expenditures and receipts in compliance with the law.

In regards to the recommendation made by the Grand Jury, that the County Commissioners furnish the State's Attorney with sufficient funds to assist in ferreting out violations of the local option law, I can say that I do not believe any Grand Jury ever made a better recommendation for the good and welfare of this community.

I personally have given this matter a great deal of time and labor and after careful investigations of the receipt books of the Steamboat Company and of the Express Company, I have found that during the month of August and for the first two weeks of September that there was received at Chestertown during these six weeks, four hundred and fifty-two consignments of whiskey and beer, three hundred and seventeen of these consignments were received by the Express Co. and that at least ninety per cent. of these orders were received by colored people and most of these orders were received by the same persons week after week.

The 452 consignments of whiskey average from a half a gallon to three gallons and everyone can see the immense amount of whiskey that is shipped here each week.

In nearly all of the disorder in Chestertown, it can be traced to the persons who receive this whiskey or to those whom we suspect of selling it.

I want the public to know exactly how correct the Transcript was in their statement when they said only one conviction resulted from the investigations of the detective employed by the county in 1908. I have examined the docket of the Oct. term, 1908, and find on that docket that there were twelve persons indicted resulting from the investigations of the detective, and that two of these twelve were acquitted; and I can recall (as I defended them) that their acquittal was not the fault of the detective, but they were given the benefit of the doubt as to their proper identification. Seven were convicted and sentenced to the Maryland House of Correction, six served their time, while one of them paid his fine. Three of the indicted ones left county and, as far as I know at present, have never returned. These convictions had a most wholesome effect in our community and we now need co-operation from those who wish to stop these violations of the law. Do the above results compare with the ever truthful statements of the Transcript?

Something should be done to break up these ever increasing violations of this law. The Transcript says the only way to prevent its wholesale violation is to change the law so as to make it less difficult to secure evidence against the violators. Upon the recommendation of the court in open court, I drew a bill (in accordance with the court's recommendations) for the last Legislature, and Senator Beck had it passed in the Senate, but it never saw daylight after it reached the house. Kent's delegates in the House failed to have it passed.

HARRISON W. VICKERS, JR.

THE American on Wednesday says: "Give me 50 cents, for I voted for Woodrow Wilson. I came all the way from Chestertown to get the change and you're not going to deprive me of it."

This statement fell harshly on the ears of Mayor Preston's assistant secretary, yesterday afternoon. The speaker was a rustic looking individual who looked rather the worse for wear. Hatless and collarless, with a beard's growth, his eyes shining defiance, he insisted that he be paid 50 cents.

Watchman Jones stepped behind the 'man from the Eastern Shore," tapped, him on the shoulder and politely requested him to vacate.

The unwelcome visitor seated himself in a soft-cushioned chair and insisted that he be allowed to talk to Mayor Preston. When told that the Mayor could not see him, he shouted that he was "going to call on Woodrow Wilson and get the money."

"I only want 50 cents and I'll cross the earth to get it," he exclaimed, as Watchman Jones ejected him from the City Hall. I'm going to see every prominent Democrat in the nation to get the money."

PUBLIC SALE
—OF—
CHURCH HILL PROPERTY

The undersigned will sell at public sale at CHURCH HILL, MD., on

SATURDAY, Nov. 23, 1912

Between 1 and 4 P. M., the following Real Estate in the town of Church Hill:

NO. 1—TOWN HALL, generally advertised as the GUEST OPERA HOUSE, is a large building about 66 feet by 36 feet, located on one of the principal corners of the town; balcony with iron railing on both side and end fronts, and ten or more feet of galvanized corrugated porch awning over both fronts. The Church Hill Bank of Maryland is located in the corner ground floor rooms, containing the public banking room, the directors' room and vault, all on this ground floor corner; a store room on the end front of about 18x30 feet, and a store room front of 20x36 feet on the side front, and three other offices on the ground floor, with a broad, well lighted stairway to the second or hall floor. The Hall Room, with a large gallery, will seat between 400 and 500 people, well lighted, with good roomy stage.

NO. 2—IS A 7-ROOM DWELLING HOUSE adjoining on the west side the property of J. K. Brown, Esq., known as the Trenchard dwelling house. This house is 16x24 feet front, with an "L" building of same size as the main building, in pretty good condition.

NO. 3—IS THE BRICK BUILDING in the southwest end of the town. The main building is about 35 feet by about 20 or more feet wide, the part called the back building fronting like the main building, about 28 feet, and about 16 feet deep, thus actually showing a front on the main thoroughfare of about 61 to 62 feet, with a good wide porch for the whole front of 61 or 62 feet. The entire front of this property is about 150 feet in length on the main thoroughfare. The house is two full stories, with cellar under the whole, as also attic room over the whole. There are several building lots that could be sold off.

NOS. 4 and 5—These are TWO TWO-STORY DWELLINGS AND LOTS on New street. Six rooms to each house and front and kitchen porches to each. Both are counterparts of each other (just alike)

NO. 6—THE CABINET SHOP, main part 16x24 feet; has a good sound frame and could be converted into a dwelling. There are sheds on each side of this cabinet shop about 10 or 12 feet wide by 24 feet long. The lot is good size, 50 or more feet wide, with good depth. The above measurements are not guaranteed on any of the properties named, but I believe them to be very near correct.

NO 7—IS A VACANT LOT. Don't know its size, but suppose it to be from between half to one acre of ground—it may be more. J. K. Brown, Esq., can give the information.

NOTE.—Now, the cause or reason for selling is that I am well stricken in years—close to the limit of human life—and wish to administer on my own estate while yet in life. As I have in this section of country no relatives to aid me, have concluded to dispose of it myself That is the true cause of sale. I have sold all my real estate in Chestertown. This property—all or any part of it—can be bought at private sale. Would really prefer to sell at private sale. J. K. BROWN, ESQ., is authorized to sell at private sale as well as myself.

Sick Watches Made Well

LOOK inside your watch a moment. The balance wheel is making 18,000 vibrations an hour—if it's well. If the movement is sluggish—it needs a doctor.

It will move 3,558 miles a year on less than one-tenth of a drop of oil. But it needs that little drop badly. The least increase of friction on the bearings alters the motion and your watch gets sick. Let us clean and oil and put your watch in order for a year. It will pay and satisfy you.
