they all readily agreed to do it — except one — & he did not answer my letter. We shall want to make the same arrangement with them now. And we want to know in time to enable us to raise the money some other way if they will not do it. Can you see them make the arrangement, so that we may about how much cash must be paid — or shall I write them? You had better do it, if you can. We shall be obliged to sell what little mistia we have — that will not begin to pay the whole expedition expenses. We have some "expectations" but we cannot realize on them in time to pay cash.
