THE vote of Senator John Walter Smith in the United States Senate Monday in favor of the Temperance bill has the approbation of all temperance voters. This vote is more forcible than all words or promises can do. Actions speak louder than words. In the House all the Congressmen except Konig voted for the bill.

WHY halt ye between two opinions? Mr. Barroll's organ has not yet been given their orders as between Straus or Smith, Lee or Talbot. Show your colors Mr. Barroll, and let your paper know where you stand. Leaders of Mr. Barroll's in Kennedyville state openly that they will vote for Smith in preference to Straus. Now then, reader, watch the summersaults.

THE papers state that Congressman Covington has offered a bill in Congress to appropriate $90,000 for the building of a government postoffice building in Cambridge, and also that he intends to push the bill that was passed in the Senate by Senator John Walter Smith, for the erection of postoffice buildings in Cambridge, Salisbury and Crisfield. What's the matter with a building at Chestertown? There is certainly a great need for one. Stam's Hall Building with Mr. Barroll's vacant rooms would make an ideal place for a postoffice. Let's hustle for it!

CELEBRATION OF WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

Washington's Birthday will be observed at the college on February 22nd with appropriate exercises. Owing to General Washington's intimate association with Washington College, both from the fact that the college is named for him and that he was a member of the first Board of Visitors and Governors, the college authorities and students have always tried to make the observation of his birthday one of the events of the College year.

The introduction of the Oratorical Contest for the Oates' Medals, as one of the features of the observation, will, it is hoped, add a great deal to the interest of the function. Heretofore the contest has been held during Commencement week but, with the belief that it would stimulate interest, both in the contest and the exercises, the Faculty decided to move the contest from Commencement week to February 22nd. The contestants and the subject of their orations are: Wendell D. Allen, "Washington to the Twentieth Century"; Marion H. Landing, "Immortal Washington" and Clyde M. Stouffer, "Virtue and Courage." The exercises will begin at 3 p. m, The college orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

In the evening the Mt. Vernon Literary Society will hold its Sixty-sixth Annual Banquet. Mr. Andrew W. Pardew, President of the Society, is making every effort to have this banquet, as it has always been, one of the principal events of the College year. The banquet will be held at the Voshell House.

IGNORANCE OR WILFUL LIE?

Massey, Feb. 11, 1913.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

Is it ignorance or wilful lie when the junior editor of the Transcript continues to say the Engineer has spent $40,350 in 18 months, when he publishes a statement from clerk to commissioners saying the Engineer has $3,805 to his credit out of about $38,000 allowed him for two years work. Any 6th grade school boy can tell him better. If he will publish the truth I will be glad to let him continue his abuse of Engineer and Roads, but as long as the KENT NEWS will allow me the space (he refuses me in his paper) I intend to contradict any lie he publishes. How any man that pretends to be a Christian can publish the lies he does in his issue of Feb. 1st, when he says there was $17,350 spent on roads in six months when he knew about $7,000 of that amount was for work done to repair the damages of the heavy spring rains, and then write an editorial in adjoining column that to read, one would suppose was written by a Christian gentleman. Any editor who will misrepresent a young man (simply for political purposes) is not fit to live in a decent community. As to the Barroll comments on work done in First and Second Districts, Mr. Barroll is too smart to make a statement that will not prove, and too much of a politician to say the work was needed. I am not ashamed of roads or work done in First or Second Districts. After the heavy rains in the Spring it was either close the Perkins Hill road or borrow the money to repair it (and save the county several hundred dollars) which I did and the road and bridge cost near $1500. It was the same way with road from Shallcross' wharf by Shrewsbury church to Turner's Creek. Mr. John McGugan mended that road and didn't get his money until December, (and let me say right here) a better job and more work for the money was never done in Kent county. Now I am willing to acknowledge I am responsible for this money spent.

Will you who are just responsible tell the taxpayers of Kent county why Election expenses and printing should cost Talbot county, $9,977; Caroline, $4,846, and Kent county, $10,671. Now as to nice open winter, any person who uses the roads at all knows they are much better in a cold hard winter than when it is raining and freezing one day and thawing out the next. Now the road from Lambson's to Galena is bad, in just about same shape it has been every winter for 20 years and will stay so until you allow commissioners to levy money to build a road. No use to use dirt that is near. Only gravel, stone or shells, and this will cost about $7,000. That extra money above what Talbot pays for election and printing would about do it and benefit many more people.

ISAAC GIBBS.

MORE FACTS TO PONDER.

MESSRS. EDITORS KENT NEWS—

Mr. Thomas D. Bowers, junior editor of the Chestertown Transcript, stated in the issue of his paper of February 1st, 1913, that Mr. Miller had received a letter from Mr. Charles Newman, chairman of the Temperance Committee of the House of Delegates, stating that the reason the Vickers bill, known as Senate Bill No. 61, failed of passage in the House was because I had asked Newman to hold the bill up; and that then, in the absence of Mr. Miller, the bill was reported unfavorably by the committee and thereby killed. It must be remembered that Mr. Bowers had the Newman letter in his possession, and although told to publish it he failed to do so.

This was a direct charge against me, and in my reply, published in the KENT NEWS last Saturday, I used this language: "It must not be forgotten that this letter is in Mr. Bowers' possession, and although told by Mr. Miller to publish it he failed to do so, and therefore was not only unfair to me but to the intelligent readers of his paper; and I demanded that Mr. Bowers publish the letter from Mr. Newman to Mr. Miller, and if he fails to do so, or the letter does not contain what he states it did, he should be branded as a deliberate and malicious falsifier and not fit to edit any respectable paper."

I now reiterate that charge with all the power at my command, for I cannot comprehend a more cowardly or unjust attack on any one than that made upon me by Mr. Bowers, when he knew he was not telling the truth; and with the Newman letter in his possession, and knowing that my name did not appear in it in any way, he let his readers infer that this letter from Mr. Newman stated that I had asked Mr. Newman not to act on this bill and therefore prevented its passage through the House.

Here is Mr. Newman's letter addressed to Mr. Miller:

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10, 1313.

Charles L. Miller, Gratitude, Md.

My Dear Mr. Miller: In reply to your letter about the local bill for Kent county, and which you say was reported unfavorably by the House Temperance Committee, I can only say that the majority of the committee must have voted for an unfavorable report, as you know that the majority rules. I can assure you that personally I had no interest one way or the other, and if you at the time had been active in its behalf, possibly you would have had the support of a majority of our committee. Thanking you for your kind wishes otherwise, and hoping to have the pleasure of seeing you in the near future, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
CHARLES NEWMAN.

Now I demand to know of Mr. Bowers why he did not publish this letter in the issue of his paper of Feb. 1st, although directed by Mr. Miller to do so.

I have no controversy with Mr. Miller in this matter, as we never discussed the bill in any way, and I never preferred any charges against him for not doing his duty as he saw it; and I accorded him the same right to vote for or against this bill as I did for myself.

Mr. Miller was mistaken, though, in saying the bill received an unfavorable report in the House Temperance Committee, as the House Journal for 1912, which can be seen by any one, and also the records at Annapolis, show that the committee took no action of any kind on this bill and the bill was allowed to die in the committee without a vote ever having been taken on it.

In order to be absolutely certain that Mr. Miller was mistaken in saying the bill had been reported unfavorably during his absence from the committee on account of sickness, I wrote to Mr. John R. Sullivan, Secretary of the Senate, to ascertain if a vote had ever been taken on this bill, and here is his reply:

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Feb. 11, 1913.

Hon. William W. Beck, Chestertown, Md.

My Dear SENATOR: In reply to your letter of the 9th in reference to Senate Bill No. 61, I looked up the Bill and the House Book for Senate Bills, which I have in my possession, shows the Bill was never reported from the Committee on Temperance. The House Journal is absolutely correct in this matter. I am,

Yours very truly,
JOHN R. SULLIVAN.

It is not my place to question Mr. Miller's reasons for not having a vote taken on this bill, but it should be remembered that any member of the House, including Mr. Miller, could have had the bill reported out of the committee with either a favorable or unfavorable report.

If any one doubts the correctness of the above statement, I will enter into an agreement with Mr. Bowers to have two disinterested parties go to Annapolis and examine the records, and if I am correct in saying the bill was never voted on, Mr. Bowers is to pay all the expenses; but if Mr. Miller is correct in saying the bill was voted on, then I am to pay all the expenses.

Now, Mr. Bowers, it is up to you to show the people of this county that you have acted in good faith in this matter, for if you refuse to accept my offer you cannot escape the fact that you have wilfully misstated the facts in this matter.

In order that the people may know your position on this important question, I propose to quote you from your own paper and thereby show that no statement emanating from you can be relied upon.

First. On February 3rd, 1912, you published in your paper that this bill, known as the Vickers bill, had been introduced by me.

Second. On December 14, 1912, you published the following article: "If Mr. Vickers drew a local option bill for passage in the last Legislature he is about the only one in Kent county who knows anything about it. We are not willing to take Mr. Vickers' word that he prepared such a bill. We want him to publish such a bill if he drew one and let the people know what was in it. If he drew the bill he has the copy, and in justice to himself and the people of the county, before whom he is seeking to pose as a champion of local option, he should let the people know what was in his bill. Publish the bill, Mr. Vickers, we can't take your word for it."

Third. On January 24th, after publishing the Vickers bill, you made this comment: "That is the bill that Mr. Vickers says he drew up, at the suggestion of the Court. We desire to call the attention of the people, especially our temperance friends, who have been grossly deceived in the matter by the Beck faction, that there is not one provision in the above bill making it less difficult to secure evidence against violators of the local option law. It is simply a bill to prohibit the soliciting of orders by purchasing agents, etc. Nothing more, nothing less. Under the provisions of that bill any man in Kent county may write for and secure a barrel of whiskey if he wishes it, and no one can prevent it." In our next article we propose to show why this bill failed of passage in the House."

Fourth. Then on February 1st, 1913, you used this language: "Why, then, should Mr. Miller want to defeat a bill that was for the moral and social welfare of his constituents?"

Now, in view of the above inconsistencies on your part, the citizens of this county demand to know your position on this bill, which had the approval of our Honorable Court, and why in your issue of December 14th, 1912, you stated you were opposed to this measure? It has been said of you, Mr. Bowers, that you will not stick to the issue nor the truth, and I hereby serve notice on you that I will not be drawn into any other controversy with you until you explain to the people—(first) why, on Feb. 3rd, 1912, you mentioned the bill had been introduced in the Senate; (second) why, on Dec. 14th, 1912, you stated you had never heard of the bill; (third) why, on Jan. 4th, 1913, you said the bill was not any good although recommended by the Court; and (fourth) why, on Feb. 1st, 1913, did you then say the bill was for the moral and social welfare of this community. The public awaits your answer.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM W. BECK.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The voters across the river are urging Mr. W. Irving Walker as their candidate for Legislature. He deserves a re-nomination.

Mr. Wm. E. Brown, of Cliff City, announces his candidacy for Sheriff of Kent county. He is a farmer and reliable dealer in oysters. He is about 44 years old and a Democrat of well-known principles. His many friends in lower Kent know him as "Shake."

Elsewhere in the NEWS Mr T. E. W Crew announces his candadacy for Treasurer. The best compliment we can pay him is to sa that he is a good Democrat and competent to bill the office of Treasurer.
