SENATOR SMITH'S POST LIKE MAYOR'S

Marylander Will Have Last Word On All District Affairs

REALLY RULES CAPITAL

Senator John Walter Smith has been made "Mayor of Washington."

The steering committee of the Senate, in placing the Maryland Senator in the chairmanship of the Committee on the District of Columbia, has virtually made him administrator of the affairs of the capital. Senator Tillman's fight for the chairmanship of the Appropriations Committee might result in a readjustment of committee assignments, in which Senator Smith would lose out. But this is doubtful.

The District committee chairmanship, held for so many years by Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, is regarded as one of the most strategic points in the political field.

Final Say in City's Finances.

The chairman has the final say in all matters affecting the finances of the nation's capital and unlimited opportunities for handing out jobs. This ebility to take care of political allies in the municipal offices of the capital are so great and the advantages to be gained for political strength in future campaigns are so numerous that the chairmanship has always been regarded as a position of power.

All the laws for the government of the District, all improvement legislation and all reform measures must be approved by this committee, of which Senator Smith will be head.

Year after year scores of bills affecting the welfare of the District have died in the pigeonholes of the committee simply because Senator Gallinger refused to call them up for action. Long and tedous was the fight to lower the gas rates of the capital. Other equally pressing matters are still blocked.

With the opening of a new Congress new bills covering the same ground will have to be reintroduced and again go through the slow progress of legislation.

With the chairman of the committee rests the fate of any measure affecting the District of Columbia. The House committee on the Disrtict can originate all the bills it desires, but the Senate committee has the final say in all matters of District legislation.

The Commissioners, in submitting their estimates for yearly appropriations, have invariably been forced to meet with a reduction.

Perhaps the most advantageous feature of Senator Smith's promotion will be his ability to influence the Commissioners to appoint officials and clerks in the municipal offices of Washington. The civil service requirements are not strict.

The post is called by some "a big club" in politics. The proximity of Maryland to the capital makes the position more beneficial to Senator Smith. An official in Washington can reside in Maryland and still retain his vote in all elections. He can go to and from Washington daily in the same time as a man living in the suburbs of the city.

Will Enjoy Handsome Office.

The chairman of the District committee of the Senate has one of the handsomest offices in the Capital. It is a large and beautiful decorated chamber on the principal floor facing the librarry of Congress.

KENNEDYVILLE NOTES.

A splendid audience, exceedingly appreciative, greeted the Kennedyville amateurs in Harper's Hall, Still Pond, Saturday evening last, with their three interesting entertaining and humorous plays, with music, instrumental and vocal, as scheduled in last week's papers, notwithstanding the very rainy weather during the greater part of the day and bad roads to travel at night.

Mrs. Isaac Clever is visiting a sister in Middletown for a few days.

A WARNING TO MANY

Some Interesting Facts Regarding Health Statistics

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousrnd deaths in 1910, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and they will gladly forward it to you absolutely free by mail.

Swamp Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c. and $1.00.
