Anty Drudge—"My present is a homely one, Dearie, just a box of Fels-Naptha Soap. But it will lighten your work and bring more happiness than any silverware or bric-a-brac."

The Bride—"Thank you truly, Anty Drudge. I shall follow your advice faithfully."

Woman's work is being made easier. The weekly wash, for instance. It used to be an all-day job, with the woman getting up at 5 o'clock in the morning to heat water for boiling clothes. Now, she washes with Fels-Naptha Soap in cool or lukewarm water, and takes little longer than half the time of the old way.

No boiling, no steaming suds, no hard-rubbing; and the clothes are cleaner and fresher than ever before.

Follow directions for using Fels-Naptha on the Red and Green Wrapper.

NOTICE!

The Board of Shell Fish Commissioners desires to see as many as possible of the practical oystermen of the State take advantage of the leasing law. At the present time leases written or applications filed cover 27,000 acres of land open to lease. It will probably not be long till, in many localities, all the most desirable bottom open to lease will be taken. This notice is inserted in order that the practical oystermen may have every opportunity to secure good territory.

Full information can be secured by writing to the Board of Shell Fish Commissioners, National Marine Bank Building, Baltimore City, or, whenever a number of oystermen in one locality are interested, arrangements can be made for a visit to that locality by an officer of the Commission.

THE ROAD WORKERS

MESSRS. EDITORS KENT NEWS—

Gentlemen: The writer would respectfully ask the privilege of a small space in your excellent paper that we may show the other side of this "engineering and roads" figuring, having relation to our public roads.

We presume every one by this time is conversant with the patented theory relating to the county roads and the cost of maintaining the same in the published statements of the Chestertown Transcript.

We have been privileged by close observation to witness how some persons have partially managed to get into the limelight as having great force of character for the righting of wrongs. We wish to say right here that one may press that sort of force to the front with a good deal of vigor and plausibility and not comprehend the vital features of the work at all.

Again, there may appear a plausibility and yet be minus of an idea for an improved or constructive system. Such a mind can but be misleading, because it possesses only the single idea that to attack and antagonize a system of engineers and roads that constructive minds have formulated is meritorious.

It is possible to deal with this road question in simple, cold figures and not possess any knowledge whatever for the construction or maintenance of a road system, or even repairing a half mile of road; and this does not begin to compare with the ability of many of the road menders whose names have been published abroad so recklessly.

Let's get down to rock-bottom facts about this business. Cold figures could never once be made to intimate or estimate or associate or explain that the repeated deluges of rain and storms that have done serious and unusual damage to the roads, bridges and mill-dams in our county within the past eighteen months. The Hon. County Commissioners did not have the supernatural foresight to apprehend such unprecedented wash-outs and other devastation, hence the failure to provide the necessary money for repairs the Engineer was compelled to have done. The Commissioners are not being criticised for this failure.

Figures are oftimes misleading, and our mind is very clear that such is the fact with all the nought from nought and figure from figure that has been done and is yet being done in this connection. U. S. Senator Elihu Root said recently in a very able speech in the Senate, while discussing the Panama canal tolls and our treaty with Great Britain, "the Congress of the United States in asking toll of other government's vessels in violation of the principles involved is only playing slippery politics."

We could not be made to entertain the oft published view that the men who have been employed to make the necessary repairs immediately after a visitation one of those memorable and unprecedented deluges of rain and storm are dishonest, and that in connection with the Engineer have wilfully presented perjured accounts before the Hon. County Commissioners.

There possibly may be some bad men who have worked on the roads, but we hold that all men are not all bad. In my intercourse with men I have ever been optimistic, in the hope and belief that the good in them will over-shadow the evil. I wish I might succeed in getting some people to accede to this proposition.

Why will those published statements think it a thing incredible for one who has mended public roads should possess at least sufficient intelligence to rip up the hidden purpose of those "weekly" figured-out road statements?

It isn't fair in any statement that is given out for publication to imply that these men, with horny hands and strong, muscular limbs, are limited in ability to just enough to fling the pick-axe and push the shovel, and that the real and truly cultivated ability must all be confined for the exclusive use of the road figuring politician.

The rightful sphere of every man is the pursuit of happiness and a livelihood, though he may be compelled to seek either or both by hard labor. But when he examines those discrediting "figured-out road statements," and readily finds they give about as much information up-side down as from any other position, it is his right and his duty to resent it by word or pen, or in any manner he thinks would be the quicker and most effective.

There have been, and we suppose there always will be, big and little politicians. This reminds us of one who but a few years ago entered the political arena, and who succeeds now and then in getting big head lines in the Baltimore Sun as being the leader in Kent county politics, and who seems to be tickled. Oh, that he would see the bitterness that those few years have engendered within the ranks of the party. If not, and he think it a thing to be proud of, he may retire in the very near future from his lordly exaltation to the beautiful river swarthy green, and lying there may look up into the blue sky and begin anew to breathe out vengeance upon the road engineer and thieving road menders he may observe in the other inhabited worlds, and then tickle the feet of the departed in anticipation of installing an unlimited road figuring.

A ROAD MENDER.

THE ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS SAY

"Woman's Suffrage Will Break Up the Home"

The Rev. Francis Minor Moody, Secretary of the Western Commission to secure a uniform divorce law throughout the United States, said "Equal Suffrage is a bulwark to the purity and permanence of the home."

A recent canvass has been made of clergymen, Sunday-school superintendents and editors living in equal suffrage states. These men were asked if woman suffrage was a benefit to the Home. Six hundred and twenty-four answers were received. Sixty-two were opposed, forty-six in doubt, five hundred and sixteen strongly favored woman's suffrage.

Maryland Suffragists say the sort of Suffrage that breaks up the Home is the Suffrage cast for Dishonest Business Interests and the Liquor and Vice Traffics through their allies, the Corrupt Politicians.

These forces of evil are united in their opposition to Woman's Suffrage.

If you do not believe this statement, ask a corrupt politician or a liquor dealer what he thinks of "votes for women." He will tell you!

These men know that when women vote, the mothers of the country will have to be reckoned with and that the "female of the species is more deadly than the male." Women, through agony and toil bear and prepare the children for the world!

Women with votes in their hands, will help good men Prepare the World for the Children!
