"What do you know about her
"& who is to pay her passage?" Since that you have made no allusion to the Subject.
It occurs to me that in your Scrapings up the other day you might have unearthed that bit of information — and just now we are so much in need of money that we should be glad to take trouble to collect fifty dollars from Anybody who owes it.
There is nothing else to have admittance into this letter — Yours truly
W. McSlin
