Mr. Newlywed—"If clothes can't be washed without all this steam and smell, I prefer them dirty."

Anty Drudge—"You silly children. Harry, you go down to the grocer's and get some Fels-Naptha Soap. Nellie, you throw away that old-fashioned laundry soap and the wash-boiler and wash the Fels-Naptha way. Then you won't have steam, odor or hard work."

When housecleaning comes along you'll find Fels-Naptha Soap just as superior in cleaning and scrubbing as it is in washing clothes. It will make dirt disappear; brighten dingy paint, oilcloth and linoleum. It will remove grease and stains from carpets, rugs and curtains.

With Fels-Naptha Soap, hot water and hard scrubbing are not needed.

POLICE TO CENSOR CHOIR

Rev. Benjamin A. Bryan Requests Patrolman at Services—Says Singer is a Disturber—Unusual Conditions Said to Exist at Bethany Church—A Kent Countian.

Some thing new in the way of police censorship will be sprung today at the Bethany Church, Washington street and Lafayette avenue, Baltimore, when a patrolman from the Northeastern district will be stationed at the church to determine whether the singing of one of the members of the choir can be construed as a disturbance of the peace.

This unusual bit of censorship was requested by the pastor of the church, Rev Benjamin A. Bryan. Mr. Bryan appealed to the officials of the Northeastern Police Station yesterday morning, declaring that a patrolman was necessary at the services to supervise the singing.

The pastor in his request did not ask for one of the men well versed in musical lore. He simple wants a man who can tell whether the member of the choir, who is under suspicion, sings too much fortissimo and whether the notes he pours forth are offenses not only against the law of harmony but against the legal decrees of the sovereign State.

The singer who is to be watched and listened to has fallen under the ban of Mr. Bryan. As a matter of reciprocation, the pastor has incurred the displeasure of the song-bird. That at least is the way it has been explained.

It seems from what Mr. Bryan told the police that some of the members of his congregation objected to his reappointment to the church by the Conference which met at Lynchburg, Va., several weeks ago. Another and larger element, declares the pastor, asked for his return. Now, he asserts, the disgruntled element is after his scalp, or, in other words, desires to force his resignation.

The singing, or burlesque on singing, of the chorister is alleged to be one of the methods of attack. It is asserted by friends of the pastor that every time the choir breaks into song the recalcitrant member lifts his voice to unusual heights and lets it dwell there. In the meantime the other voices have been all jangled out of tune. Harmony takes swift wings.

Mr. Bryan says that he has asked the member for the good of the church to cease his vocal performances. In fact his resignation from the choir, it has been intimated, would be acceptable. That has not taken place as yet. The singer, it seems, goes warbling or bellowing on while others listen with anguished ears.

It is up to the police critic to determine the question: Is the man with the noise voice a trouble maker and subservient to the law?—Sunday Sun.

FALL STYLES ADOPTED.

Coat Suits To Embody A Greater Variety Of Features, Manufacturers Decide.

Toledo, Ohio, May 3.—Just before adjournment at noon today the convention of 155 members of the National Cloak, Suit and Shirt Manufacturers, Association approved the report of the style committee, fixing styles for the fall of 1913. The report is as follows:

"Coat suits for fall will embody a greater variety of features than they have in several seasons past. These features will consist of high buttoning, cutaway and blouse effects, mandarin sleeves, draping, vests or waistcoats, fur band collars, Russian effects with belts and sashes, sleeves shirred at the wrists, and the combination in a suit of one material for the coat and another for the shirt.

"The principal features of the suit coat will be the cutaway effect, the back of the coat being cut markedly longer than the front. The slope of the cutaway is the elements which determines the length of the back, which will vary to an unusual degree. Suit coats measuring from finger tip to half-bend-of-the-knee-length will predominate.

"In addition to the tailored skirt, the slightly draped skirt will be prominent, particularly in the dressier suits. The high waistline, a slash at the skirt bottom plaiting and shirring at the belt, and a narrow effect toward the hem of the skirt will be in high favor.

"The combination of pile fabrics, the use of wide belt effects below the waistline, and fancier coats, mandarin sleeves and draped effects will be favored treatments."

Fish Notes.—Captain Phillip Spencer, of Port Deposit, caught 500 shad and 65,000 herring at one haul of his big seine in the Susquehanna River the first of the week.

The largest pike ever seen at Laurel, was found floating in Truscon Mill Pond by Robert Hearn. It was 26 inches long and had died in a vain attempt to swallow another pike 20 inches long.

George Nelson, who has a fish pound a few miles down the river from Snow Hill, caught a rock fish (striped bass) last Saturday morning which weighed 27 pounds. It was the biggest fish caught in the Pocomoke River for many years, with the exception of an occasional sturgeon. Mr. John J. Collins bought the fish for $1.60.

Sewell Jarman who has a pound has caught more fish this year than has been caught for thirty odd years. His pound was so full of herring Saturday morning that he had to make several trips to empty them.

ANTI-WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS SAY

"Women Do Not Want to Vote."

Should all men be disfranchised because some men "do not want to vote?" Or should all women remain unenfranchised because Anti-Woman Suffragists say they "do not want to vote?"

Women in equal suffrage states vote in the same proportion as men.

In 1895 the Opponents of Equal Suffrage in Massachusetts had an amendment passed providing for a straw vote to ascertain the wishes of the women. Knowing that straw votes do not count, the Suffragists did not urge the women to vote. In spite of this the women who did vote favored equal suffrage 25 to 1.

More and larger petitions have been sent to legislative bodies, asking for votes for women than any other single matter in the history of this country.
