Dainty Waists For Women

Especially Good Values at $1.00

¶Three charming new models that almost any woman can wear. You can have them sent to you by Parcel Post, with the understanding that if they are not satisfactory they can be returned and your money and return postage refunded.

¶One model is of Flaxon cloth---a sheer washable material. The open front is made in yoke effect, and has hemstitched box pleat down each side of center. The collar is in the new Shelley shape: sleeves are three-quarter length and have turnback cuffs; collar and cuffs are trimmed with hemstitching. All sizes from 34 to 44 inches bust measurement. Mention desired size when ordering.

¶A very pretty model is of lawn, tucked in front and back and trimmed with val. and imitation Irish insertion, sprays of embroidery and crochet buttons; high or low neck and three-quarter trimmed sleeves. All sizes.

¶A semi-tailored model is of white striped dimity; it has Gibson tuck over shoulder, patch pocket, round flat collar and three-quarter set-in sleeves with turnback cuffs. All sizes.

is entitled to all the comforts which telephone service can and does provide.

The telephone makes farm life less lonesome for the woman because it brings her neighbors within speaking distance.

Aside from the social value, there is the element of protection to be considered. It is an extra safeguard, day and night, at all seasons of the year.

COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT!

Baccalaureate Service.

The baccalaureate service of the one hundred and thirty-first commencement was held at Washington College Sunday in the auditorium of William Smith Hall. The choir of 25 male voices, which had been trained for the occasion gave impressiveness to the service by their rendition of the Te Deum and Anthem. Additional interest was aroused by the fact that this year's class is the largest in the history of the college.

The baccalaureate address was delivered by President James W. Cain, who speaking to the text, "And now abideth faith, hope, charity," said in part: "God's ways and his meaning and his laws are open to the understanding of him who seeks to know them. There can be no conflict between science and and religion unless the so-called science attempts to offer us a mechanical or self-created universe; or the so-call religion expects us to kindle the fire of faith in the dead ashes of dogma.

"To a man really seeking to understand the universe God reveals himself beyond the possibility of misunderstanding and thus comes a sure and comforting faith. This faith in the completeness of God's provision lays the foundation for a hope that if we persist in our efforts reasonable accomplishment will result. On no other ground can we explain the painstaking research that racks body and mind than on the ground of a confidence that helpful forces have been created, and that we can, if we will, bring ourselves into acquaintance with the forces that will provide.

"The phrase 'brotherhood of man' is not a mere meaningless expression. It is the new name for the very old virtue of Christian charity. The recognition of the brotherhood of man is the impelling force behind all the beneficient tendencies of the day. In politics we call this new spirit of the times progressiveism. He only is fitted to lead in it who understands its true significance and who will keep it safely within the bounds of charity. Released from its proper barriers by the hand of ignorance or impatience, it will sweep like a raging torrent over the land; but restrained by the dikes of foresight and interest, it will flow like a peaceful river to refresh and replenish the earth."

Rev. Charles L. Pardee, of St. Michael's Church, Nangatuck, Ct., assisted in the service, and preached the sermon at the closing exercises of the Y. M. C. A. at night.

Mt. Vernon Night.

Monday night was given up to the Mt. Vernon Literary Society and a most enjoyable program was presented. The program was as follows:

Address of Welcome...Andrew M. Pardew, pres.
Oration on Garfield.....Wm. L. Baldwin
Catiline's Defiance.....Wm. G. Keller
True to the Flag.....Marion H. Landing
The Passing of War.....Wendell D. Allen

Splendid music by Weber's band was furnished. An interesting feature was the presentation of a gold medal to "The Mt. Vernon Man," given by Wm. Frazier Russell, Jr., ex-President of the Society. This, the first year, the medal was presented Marion H. Landing in an appropriate address by President Pardew.

The declamation contest took place Tuesday night for the Dr. H. G. Simpers medals. The speakers and subjects were: "Valedictory in the United States Senate," Stephen Roberts Collins; "Regulus to the Carthaginians," Daniel Hersey Hall; "Spartacus to the Gladiators at Capua," William Getty Keller, Grantsville, Md.; "The Contest in the Arena," Marion Howk Landing, Marion Station, Md.; "Crime Its Own Detector," Clyde McClellan Stouffer, Hagerstown, Md.

The first prize was awarded to Mr. Stouffer and the second to Mr. Hall. The judges were Rev. Chas. Laban Pardee, Francis T. Miller and Rev. John F. Carey.
