WHEAT YIELD VERY LIGHT.

The yield of wheat in Kent this year is very light. A number of farmers say they will not get enough out of their wheat to pay for the labor.

Mr. John H. Clendaniel, of near Kennedyville, who has an up-to-date threshing rig, says up to Tuesday night he had threshed the wheat crops from about 480 acres of land and the yield was less than 7000 bushels.

One farmer in Kent had 185 acres in wheat and when he finished threshing this week he found that he had gotten only 1900 bushels, when the straw was heavy enough for 3500 bushels of wheat.

The wheat crop is proving to be a failure in Queen Anne's county. A week ago farmers believed the prospect fine, and many were expecting large yields. This week threshing machines were busy in scores of fields, and many growers are getting only 10 bushels to the acre. Other wheat is turning out better, but the crop, taken as a whole, is disappointing. The general opinion is that the crop prospects were blighted by the frost, which blackened the heads.

Mr Benj F. Rash raised an average of 24½ bushels per acre from 55 acres, with the "Gold Coin" variety. Mr. Rash says he is a tenant farmer and has no wheat to sell for seed.

John E. Morris has gotten among the best yields we have heard of—22½ bushels on an average.

A farmer across the bridge got 740 bushels from 80 acres.

Mr H. P. Skipper, Queen Anne's, got 17 bushels from one field and 21 from another.

Mrs Jas. T. Beck, near Tolchester got 20 bushels per acre.

Mr. Earle Nicholson, near Fairlee, got about 19 bushels to the acre.

R. C. Morgan has sold his farm near Betterton to Mr. B. A. Harman, of West Virginia.

The Mowbray Chapel picnic will be held next Wednesday at the home of Mr. Robert Goodman, on Chester river.

The white potato champion raiser of Quaker Neck is said to be Mr. J. A. Dickerson, on the J. P. Decorse farm. He planted two bushels and three pecks and harvested 55 baskets. A sample brought to the News office are certainly beauties.

The News readers will be glad to learn that the new industry started in Chestertown at the depot by Messrs. Herman Blackway and Randolph Waddell is succeeding far beyond their expectation. Mr. John N Bennett's auto delivery wagon has been pressed into service and has been busy delivering the product of this plant. They expect to enlarge the capacity before another season.

Why should Maryland women vote? is the question that will be answered in Still Pond, on July 21, at 8 p. m., when Miss Trax and Miss Frazee will speak at an open air suffrage meeting, the first of a series to be held on the Eastern Shore from July 21 to August 1.

George Silver, who for several years has conducted a confectionery establishment at Chestertown, has opened for business in Centreville.

The Eliason Building looks fine in its "new dress." George Washington wouldn't know it today.

According to the opinions of Chairman O. E. Weller and Engineer Shirley, of the State Roads Commission, the solution of the road problem is the concrete road. The commission is experimenting very extensively with this type of road and thus far the experiment has proved successful.

Lima Beans were enjoyed by Mr. J. Polk DeCorse on Monday last from his Chestertown garden. Mrs. J. H. Simpers also has one of the prettiest lima bean crops we have ever seen. Other Chestertown people have also been eating lima beans this week grown in their gardens.

A marriage license was issued in Baltimore Wednesday to Benj. F. Dickerson, 30, Chestertown; Anna C. Craig, 24, divorced.

The Chestertown and Union M. E. Sunday schools joined in a picnic and excursion to Love Point Wednesday. 458 enjoyed the splendid trip, the Chestertown school having over 300 aboard. The weather was ideal.

The Eastern Shore of Maryland has produced about everything that is "produceable" within the last quaster century, except a popular song, and two weeks ago this vacancy was filled by two young Eastern Shoremen, who reside in Centreville, Queen Ann's county. They have had a song accepted by one of the large New York music publishing houses and it is now being popularized in New York, Baltimore and other Eastern cities and will eventually reach Kent county. The song is a sentimental ballad entitled: "I'd Give the World to Know" and is meeting with great success where ever it has been introduced. The title page is in three colors and contains a portrait of Miss Antoinette Loraine, one of New York's famous play-house song birds, who introduced the song in the Eastern metropolis. The song is now being sold in Chestertown and Pier at Betterton. The music of the song was written by A. A. M. Dewing and the words by S. Charles Walls.

Transferred.—Roland T. Anderson, for the past 10 years station agent at Federalsburg has been transferred to Dover, Del., and will take charge of that office August 1. He will be succeeded by W. A. Wheatley, Jr., now station agent at Blacks, on the Chestertown branch.

CECIL SUIT IN KENT

The Circuit Court for Kent county has been in session this week. It is the date of the regular July or non-jury term of court, but in order to hear an important suit removed from Cecil county the April term was continued, with the spring panel of jurymen in attendance.

Court was convened Monday with a full bench present, namely: Chief Judge Albert Constable and Associate Judges P. B. Hopper and Wm. H. Adkins.

The case under trial is the suit of T. Jackson Willis against the County Commissioners of Cecil county. The suit grows out of a contract between Mr. Willis and the commissioners for the construction of a bridge over Big Elk Creek at Rickett's Mill. The county commissioners are represented by Frederick T. Haines and Heister Hess, of Elkton, and Lewin W. Wickes and Harrison W. Vickers, of Chestertown. Mr. Willis is represented by W. T. and Henry A. Warburton, of Elkton, and by Hope H. Barroll and William W. Beck, of Chestertown.

The jury is composed of the following representative men: A. H. Malsberger, Charles S. Porter, Lambert W. Ford, W. E. Parsons, Thos. J. Dunn, J. B. Hossinger, L. C. Ayres, Henry Rosin, Milton Melvin, Harry Todd Abraham Casey, Harry Hill.

The amount involved is about $8,000.

After able arguments by counsel, the case was given to the jury at 9 o'clock, and at 10 p. m. they returned with a verdict for Mr. Willis for $8,218.45. The verdict seems to have the approval of nearly everyone.

BLOCK CARNIVAL

Washington Avenue To Be Illuminated for the Occasion—Ice Cream, Cake And Candy on Sale.

The residents of Washington Avenue and Kent Circle will hold a Block Carnival on the Avenue next Friday night for the benefit of the Milk and Ice Fund for babies.

The Baltimore Sun started a fund early this summer to provide sick babies of poor families in Baltimore with ice and milk during the summer. They have raised a fine sum but need more money. Chestertown, beautifully located on Chester river, where the children enjoy the summer breezes and all the comforts of life, desires to have a part in saving the life of some baby and therefore will hold this carnival.

The Avenue will be decorated and ice cream, cake, candy, etc., will be on sale. Automobile trips will be provided for a small amount and it is intended to make it an enjoyable occasion.

Everybody is asked to help by patronizing or donating.
