The Dietrics

MAGIC AND MUSIC. AT THE 1913 CHAUTAUQUA.

Of these two wonder-workers, Mr. Dietric takes the lead with magic. While he keeps his audience breaking into smiles at his witty comment, gay flags unfurl, tangles of ribbons swirl about, baskets of flowers bloom out of the nowhere! The gorgeous and the mystifying is supreme! Sly balls, coins, handkerchiefs, defy to be traced. All the old hints at how things are done are no help at all in explaining the Dietrics, for every spectacular trick is a fresh one.

In the musical half of the entertainment, where Mrs. Dietric is star, the same variety and novelty of performance is found. How one small person can whistle, and play the piano, and sing, and recite, and jingle the tambourine all at once is hard to understand. For sheer genius with impersonations, for clever trickery, for the serious rendering of instrumental music, there is no one like her on the Chautauqua platform, east or west.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Mr. Scholarly—"Look at all the inventions that are mentioned in these scientific magazines, and to think that no one has invented something to make washing easier! My wife's all fagged out because she washed this morning."

Anty Drudge—"Mr. Scholarly, there are some inventions that are not recorded in scientific magazines, but which are more useful than those which are. Get your wife some Fels-Naptha Soap to use when she washes, and she'll tell you that it's the finest thing ever invented to help women with their work."

The Fels-Naptha way of washing in cool or lukewarm water makes your clothes fresher, cleaner and sweeter than if you hard-rubbed and boiled them till Doomsday. It is much easier than any other way, because there is no need to keep up a hot fire and no lifting of heavy pails of water to fill the washboiler. Nothing but soaking in cool or lukewarm water with Fels-Naptha Soap, a light rub with the hands or on a board, rinsing and hanging out.

Follow the directions on the Red and Green Wrapper. Better buy Fels-Naptha by the box or carton.
