A STATEMENT TO THE PUBLIC.

Inasmuch as the charges made in the Transcript on June 7th, 1913, in the article headed "Caught in a Trap" in which State's Attorney H. W. Vickers, Jr., was accused of suggesting the violation of the law against betting and as Mr. Vickers and Messrs. Paul Comegys and Leonard E. Wilson the young men from Millington state Mr. Vickers did not do this, I therefore wish to withdraw said charge and thus relieve Mr. Vickers of the allegation contained therein.

THOMAS D. BOWERS.

THE Democratic ticket at the head of this column is worthy your support. Let every Democrat rally to its endorsement and triumphant election.

PRESIDENT WILSON finds Senator John Walter Smith a safe, sound, reliable and true adviser. He has been called to the White House several times this week.

THE latest story of the sea is indeed horrible. The steamer Volturno burns in mid-ocean while over one hundred are drowned. Ten vessels are summoned by wireless, but owing to the high seas no boat could safely reach the burning steamer until ten hours had passed. Then it was that 500 were saved and reached port. The cause of the awful tragedy is laid to a lighted cigarette thrown into a hatchway where rugs were stored.

THERE is no attack on the character of Blair Lee that can injure him. His character and his lofty purposes are beyond the petty animosities or foolish criticisms of the paid advocates of any cause. There has never been a man in this State who has stood higher in the affections of the people than Blair Lee. His whole life and work has been devoted to the cause of the people of Maryland. He has been compelled to fight as no man has fought in this State. He is not above mistakes and errors of judgment, but no man can truthfully say that he has ever been dishonest or afraid. His private life, as well as his public career, have been an example of sobriety, temperance, honesty of purpose, and willingness to sacrifice all rather than swerve from the course he believed to be right.

LOCAL OPTION CASES.

At the October term of the Circuit Court for Caroline county, in session at Denton last week, Judges Adkins and Hopper spoke vigorously from the bench against the liquor traffic in that dry territory. In charging the grand jury Judge Adkins referred at length to the object of the Webb-Kenyon federal statute, prohibiting interstate shipments of intoxicating liquor into prohibition States, and of the Hazel anti-shipping law in Delaware, applying to interstate traffic in liquors. He called attention to the reported heavy shipments of whiskey and other intoxicants to railroad points in Caroline county, for transportation by vehicles into Delaware, and told the grand jury that they "might well consider" the demoralizing effects of this business upon their own communities, and request the members of the Legislature to enact an anti-shipping law. Tuesday both judges took occasion to declare in court that the local option law stood in a class by itself in criminal jurisprudence; that the court would recognize any "technical" violations of any of its provisions, but treat all offenses as actual violations, for the reason that persons in any way engaged in selling and handling liquor in violation of the letter of the local statute when convicted, could only be regarded as having brazenly and defiantly trespassed against the law and against public sentiment. "Such persons," said the court, "are engaged in a mercenary, deliberate scheme to thwart the law."

MARBURY has showed good judgment in retiring from the Senatorial race. Hon. John Walter Smith is deserving the vote and endorsement of every Democrat in Maryland. Why not make it unanimous.

COURT NEXT WEEK.

Court will convene next week. The indication are for a short term. The Juriors elected some weeks ago are as follows:

A. H. Supplee	William R. Crow

Expert Testimony Not In Demand — Maybe some of the expert farm advisers will hit a scheme for providing a few corn-huskers for farmers who are breaking their backs to get the last shock cut. Expert advice is all to the good, but how in the blooming creation are you going to swallow it with only one pair of hands to milk the dairy, sow the wheat, cut and husk the corn and get the winter's wood home; and the black man has gone to the show, daughter has a job in a telephone exchange, mother has rheumatism, and Willie, the pride of the family, is at college learning to be an expert, which is a coming business? No wonder the old man spits tobacco juice on his whiskers and wants able-bodied help instead of expert testimony.

BAKER, hero of another world's series in the base ball world, having topped the Athletics' batting record in the recent world's championship series refuses to be divorced from his admiration and love for his native town, and has leased a very pleasasant home in that pretty village, which will probably be his winter headquarters, as he already owns two farms near Trappe.

Mr. Baker has taken a four years' lease on the pretty and comfortable home owned by Mrs William A. Kirby who recently moved to Baltimore. The house is a big new frame, and is located on the outskirts of the town on the way to Bollingbroke creek. The grounds are pleasing, too, and the home adjoins the pretty home of Mrs Sophia Kemp, also one of Trappe's prettiest residences.

RECEIPTS OF WORLD SERIES

Official attendance	150,992
Total receipts	$325,980.00
Players' share	135,163.89
National Commission	32,598.00
Club owners' share (equally divided)	158,218.11
Total	$325,218.11

The official attendance in the Boston-New York series last year, in which eight games were played, was 251,901, and the total receipts were $490,449.

The players share only in the first four games.

Of the players' share the winning team will receive 60 per cent. of $135,163 89, or $1,098.33, and the losing team will get 40 per cent., or $54,065 56. The money is divided equally among the players. The Athletics and Giants each have 28 eligible players. As the Athletics won, each player will receive $3,243 93, and each member of the Giants, the losing team, will get $2,165.62.

In the 1911 series the Athletics won and each member of that team got $3,654 59. Each member of the Giants, the losing team, got $2,436.39.

The distinction of having the biggest income of any woman in this country is held by Mrs. Anne W. Penfield. Mrs. Penfield's income from the estate of her father is $3,000,000 a year, and the tax will amount to $245,000. The value of the property is estimated at $70,000,000. Practically all of the property is represented by real estate and other forms of investment upon which no corporation tax was levied. It is all reached, however, by the Income Tax law. Mrs. Penfield is the wife of Frederick Courtland Penfield, Ambassador to Austria.

THE Delaware liquor law, and thereby the Webb-Kenyon law, prohibiting the shipment or delivery by persons of liquor into forbidden territory, has been upheld by the Sussex county Court of General Sessions, Georgetown, Del., and William Grier, who acted as agent for a Philadelphia liquor firm, and delivered two quarts of liquor to a Delaware purchaser, was convicted of violating the law.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE AND LEE

There are many true friends of temperance in this State who will deplore the attitude the Anti-Saloon League has taken in this campaign towards the candidacy of the Democratic nominee for the United States Senate.

As to the merits of the discussion we have but little to do, but we fail to see any reason why Senator Lee should not be regarded as good a temperance man as is the Hon. Thomas Parran. We cannot but look upon this movement as an unwarranted attack upon a high-class Democratic citizen, which will be resented by Democrats all over the State of Maryland, without regard to their past or present relations to the Anti-Saloon League movement.

Our attitude for the past several years has been in favor of the passage of the State-wide bill at Annapolis. We have believed the features were Democratic when they provided for majority rule. We are opposed to the liquor traffic in this community and believe that every community should have the right to vote on the question of saloon or no saloon, whenever the demand arises from the people It is for the reason that we are temperance inclined that we feel sorry that the Anti-Saloon League should classify itself in this fight as an adjunct to the Republican party.

The temperance cause, which is so dear to the hearts of thousands of Democrats in Maryland, should not be so closely coupled with Republican politics and Republican candidates, when we all know that there is absolutely no faith to be placed in the promises of these candidates, and that all the temperance legislation which has ever been secured in Maryland in the past twenty-five years—and it has been much—has been secured from the Democratic Legislatures and signed by the Democratic Governors.
