other. I would be much obliged to you for any advice or suggestions you might offer in way of instructions to the Capt. Possibly something of the kind might occur to you if you would be good enough to cast your eyes over the provisions of the charter party. Especially in regard to the remittances of funds to you, the proceeds due on the outward charter. If any advances he might get on the home charter, not wanted in way of disbursements. Such in fact, any suggestions you might be disposed to make in order the more effectually to ensure success in the voyage, would be most thankfully received –

Permit me again to repeat, what I mentioned to in a former letter, that I am the more emboldened to solicit your aid in the business of this Ship as she belongs exclusively to an eleemosynary institution, which is alone responsible for its expenses & to whom alone its earnings inure.

The name of the English Consul at Mistak is G. J. Eldridge, the one at Obispo, where it is expected she will load home, is. E. C. G. Murray Esq.

In the hope that I may not subject you to the perusal of another sheet of business quite unprofitable

I remain most respectfully & obliged
Your obt Servt.
J. Mercer Wallace

N.B. The cargo is for the Russian Govt as I understand – through the Emy. consul. Would it be well to take his or other bills, on demand cash & long bills – & if so which or where – if you happen to know?
