THE KENT NEWS

CHESTER TOWN, MD.

Saturday, Janaury 16, 1847.

The Army.

The rumors prevailing, in reference to the condition of our army and the movement of Santa Anna, are calculated to produce a painful anxiety in the public mind. If Santa Anna be the consummate General he is represented, it is not at all improbable, that he will attempt some coup de main, or daring movement to destroy our army by piecemeal. We cannot understand the policy of the Administration of our Government, in declining to send out forces, sufficient, after the passage of a law authorising 50,000 volunteers, but waiting till the meeting of another session of Congress to ask for more troops. There seems to be a want of fixed design, or plan, in the Administration, and while it is thinking, how to act, we fear the golden opportunity may be lost and our army be sacrificed. Should our troops be defeated, it will serve to protract the war although the final result would not be altered.

We feel strong fears for our brave and victorious army and hope for the best.

Congress.

Congress is about to pass a Bill, authorizing the issue of Treasury Notes to the amount of twenty three million of dollars, to carry on the war. These notes are to pass as money in paying Government debts, although the famous "Sub Treasury," requires all dues to the Government to be paid in specie. While the government exacts specie, she pays out paper. But the object we have in view, is to say, that Congress refuses to increase the tariff to raise revenue and originate a national debt, to be paid not by those who pass the law but by those who are to come after us; in other words, the expenses of the present war, is to be be paid by our posterity! This does not seem exactly just, but is one of the legitimate fruits of 'free trade.'

Snow.

We had a gentle, but considerable, fall of snow on Sunday night last. The weather afterwards was very cold and the sleigh bells "have tingled merrily!" Are there any poor among us, who want wood?—These are "trying times," to the poor.—Many of them can only afford to lay in a "half cord" or "cord," of wood, and when their little stock is gone, find it difficult to replenish it, it in ordinary times, but when there is snow, or the weather unusually cold, the difficulty is greaty increased.

Let those who can, spare something to the poor! Look them out, and we venture to predict that enough will be found to excite our sympathies and open our hands.

Dr. Orrick

Of Baltimore county has reported a bill to prevent the sale of all patent medicines unless a certificate be obtained from the Board of Pharmacy in the city of Baltimore, upon an examination of all the ingredients &c. and the payment of fees, &c. to the "Board." Suce a law would kindle an excitement in the state that would injure the medical faculty, more than anything that has transpired in relation to them. Let things remain as they are doctor! The people are opposed to monopolies, and the "least said the soonest mended!"

Biennial Sessions.

We publish to-day the report of the committee appointed by the House of Delegates to examine the votes upon the Biennial Session act submitted to the people at the late election. The majority in favor of Biennial Sessions is 4646.

We do not understand why the House or Senate falter in the course marked out so plainly by the people. They remember the old maxim—"Vox Populi, Vox Dei."

The Temperance Cause.

We refer our readers to the proceedings of the Kent county Temperance Society in another column. They relate to matters of imagnitude and importance.

☞ The Hon'ble J. A. Pearce will accept our thanks for a valuable public document.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—We regret to state that Dr. B. Johns, who resided near Charlotte Hall, was so severely injured by being thrown from his buggy on Sunday morning last, that he died shortly after being conveyed to his house. Dr. J. had the reputation of being a very skilful physician and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He leaves a widow, and, we believe, several children, to deplore his untimely end.—Leonardtown Beacon.

LATER FROM THE ARMY.

Approach of Santa Anna with twenty thousand men—Saltillo threatened—Concentration of troops at Monterey—Great excitement on the Rio Grande, &c.

The steamer Virginia, Capt. Smith, arrived at New Orleans on the 1st. instant from Tampico, via Brazos Santiago, having left the Brazos on the 27th ult. The brig Empressario, Capt. Collins, which sailed from Tampico on the 26th also arrived the same night. By these vessels the Picayune received letters from Mr. Lumsden, at Tampico. They contain all the intelligence brought from Tampico, and clear up some points of the accounts previously received which appeared obscure.

We have conversed, says the Picayune, with a gentleman who came passenger in the Virginia from Brazos, and who is direct from Monterey. He has kindly furnished us with the following information, which is highly important, if there be no error in the accounts. They were fully credited at the Brazos, and are confirmed by Captain Brower, of the schooner Robert Mills, who arrived last evening from that port.

An express from General Worth, at Saltillo, arrived at Monterey on Wednesday, the 16th of December. It brought the news that Gen. Worth had learned through his spies that Santa Anna was within three days march of Saltillo, at the head of an army of twenty or thirty thousand men. The express bore a call upon Gen. Taylor for reinforcements. Gen. Taylor and his staff had left Monterey on the 15th ult., the day before the express arrived, for Victoria, to join his command, which was two days' march in advance of him.

Gen. Butler, in command at Monterey, immediately sent off despatches to Gen. Marshall, at Camargo, and to Gen. Patterson, at Matamoras to send forward without delay all the troops they could spare from their commands.

Gen Patterson had left Matamoras only the day before the news reached that place. It was at once forwarded to him, and upon learning its purport our informant states that he immediately started on his return with the view to proceed to Monterey.

It was reported at Tampico on the 25th, that a portion of Gen. Patterson's command had entered Victoria, but it is not mentioned that the General himself had arrived, so that we cannot judge how far the news from the two sources may conflict.

The express reported at Matamoras that the road from Monterey to Camargo was lined with troops; regulars and volunteers, on their march to Monterey, having been previously ordered up. Our informant says there were four regiments upon the road. The route from Monterey is infested by predatory bands of rancheros, by which the travelling is rendered insecure. One train had been attacked a few days before our informant passed over the road, as had also several small parties, and some few men had been killed and wounded.

We need not say that this news possesses the highest interest. As we write we have only verbal reports in reports in regard to it, but hope to receive this morning our correspondence from the army. There is intrinsic improbability in the news of Santa Anna's movements, and if he possesses the energy and skill claimed for him, nothing appears more likely than that he should fall like a thunderbolt upon some point in our extended line and hope to crush us.—But we have every confidance in the vigilance of Gen. Worth, and his ability to hold the enemy in check until Gen. Wool and Gen. Taylor arrive to his support. We await further intelligence with the utmost interest.

The New Orleans Evening Mercury contains a letter from Matamoras, communicating the same intelligence as the copied above from the Picayune, from which we extract the following:

"Despatches arrived here with this intelligence to Gen. Jesup, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and he immediately left for the mouth of the river.

"Great excitement prevails along the valley of the Rio Grande. Most of our posts, particularly at Matamoras, Camargo and Monterey, where a number of American citizens are remaining, and have but few troops at present, are arming and preparing for the worst. Several persons have been cut off, on the roads above, and traveling is exceedingly hazardous, unless with large parties.

"On any reverse to our arms, every Mexican in the valley turns against us!

"The Alcade at Matamoras, who predicted the day our battles have been fought on, says that Gen Santa Anna will attack our forces on Christmas day. If the battle should not be fought before our forces can be throw into Saltillo, or until Gen. Taylor forms a junction with the forces at that point, we may expect one of the bloodiest conflicts that our flag has ever witnessed."

STILL LATER.

ADVANCE OF SANTA ANNA UPON SALTLLO CONFIRMED!

Probability of a battle having been fought—Despatch of troops to Saltillo and Monterey—Anticipated attack upon Camargo and Matamoras.

By the arrival of the U. S. steamer Edith, Captain Douillard, at New Orleans on the 2d, we have three days later dates from Brazos Santiago. She left Brazos on the 29th ult. and brings confirmation of the reported advance of Santa Anna with a large force upon Saltillo. It was reported that the Mexican army was nearly 30,000 strong. We copy from the New Orleans Picayune.

When Gen. Worth's express reached Monterey, Gen. Taylor had only gone six or eight miles on his march to Victoria, and the troops under Generals Twigs and Quitman were but twelve miles in advance.—Orders were immediately issued to this division to retrace its steps, and proceed at once to Saltillo.

Before the express reached Camargo, Gen. Lane had started for Saltillo, with his command—this was on the 20th. Gen. Marshall set out next morning, taking with him the remainder of the forces, with the exception of Capts. Hunter and Swartwout's commands, which were left to protect that point. The troops from Camargo were on a forced march, to reach Saltillo in time for a battle, reports having prevailed for several days before positive advices were received of the movements of Santa Anna.

Gen. Wool was ninety miles from Saltillo at the last advices from him, and it was supposed he would join Gen. Worth in season to assist in repelling the enemy.

There was a rumor that Santa Anna had thrown a body of 17,000 men between Gen. Worth and Gen. Taylor, to prevent a junction of the American forces. This report was not credited, nor does it seem probable that it is true, as the main road of Monterey passes through Saltillo. There is a circuitious mountain road which avoids Saltillo, but it is not favorable to the march of an army, and is impracticable for ordnance.

It was the impression of gentlemen who came passengers in the Edith, and with whom we have conversed, that a battle was fought about the 25th ult. It was thought however, that Gen. Taylor had reached Saltillo before that time, and also Gen. Twigg's, Gen. Quitman's, Gen. Gen. Butler's and Gen. Wool's commands. It was likewise hoped that the troops from Camargo would also arrive at Saltillo in good season. If these expectations were realized, Gen. Taylor had about seven thousand men to oppose Santa Anna. Our informants think that Santa Anna's army was overrated but no positive knowledge was had of his exact numbers.

The whole valley of the Rio Grande was in a state of great ferment. Apprehensions of an attack were entertained at Camargo Matamoras and other points, from the rancheros under Canales. The withdrawal of so many troops from the river left the valley exposed to danger. At Matamoras Colonel Clarke had called upon the citizens to enrol themselves for service, and at Brazos Gen. Jesup had done the same thing. Both these points were sadly deficient in both men and arms. It was thought Canales had 2,000 men under him, and that the large supply of goods at Matamoras, and the exposed condition of that city, might quicken his courage.

Gen. Scott arrived at the Brazos on the 29th ult. The following day he proceeded to the mouth of the Rio Grande, and was yet at that place when the Edith left, waiting the arrival of the horses belonging to the regiment of mounted riflemen, when it was understood he would proceed immediately up the river to Camargo.

Capt. Wayne has been transferred from the staff of Maj. Gen. Jesup to that of Gen. Scott, and was to accompany him or his tour of observation.

The steamship Alabama was off the Brazos when the Edith sailed, and will probably bring us more definite intelligence in a few days.

The news leaves a painful anxiety to learn the progress of events. The impression amongst the passengers that a battle had been fought was so strong that we have almost inbibed the belief.

It was believed that an expsss had been sent to Gen. Patterson, countermanding his march in the direction of Victoria.

Mexican Butchery.

The California, (published at Monterey,) of 13th September, gives the following account of a horrid butchery committed by a party of Mexicans, under one Padilla, on two young men, named Fowler and Cowrie:

"The party, after keeping the prisoners a day or two, tied them to trees, then stoned them; one of them had his jaw broken, when a rope was made fast to the broken bone and the jaw dragged out; they were then cut up, a small piece at a time, and the pieces thrown at them or crammed in their throats, and they were eventually despatched by cutting out their bowels."

This murder was avenged by a small party of the revolters, headed by Capt. Ford who pursued the Mexicans, overtook and attacked them, 86 against 18. The Mexicans were routed, with 12 killed and several wounded.

THE TEMPERANCE COUNTY SOCIETY.

The Kent county Temperance Society, pursuant to notice, convened at the Court House in Chester Town, on Tuesday, the 12th January, 1847, when the President, JOHN B. ECCLESTON, took the chair, and the Secretary, WILLIAM HAYNE, also appeared. The Temperance Societies of the different neighborhoods, who were represented by their delegates, were as follows: The Union (lower dist.); Quaker and Broad Neck—Chester Town—Still Pond and Georgetown X Roads.

On motion of G. Vickers, Esq. the chair appointed a committee of five persons to nominate the officers of the society for the ensuing year—the committee were: Geo. Vickers, G. Gale, N. Wiley, T. E Gooding and J. H. Edes. The committee reported the names of the officers for the consideration of the meeting.

The Society went into an election and the following officers recommended by the committee were unanimously elected.

President.
JOHN B. ECCLESTON.

Vice Presidents.
DR. JACOB FISHER,
JOHN KELLEY,
WILLIAM MILLER.

Secretaries.
WILLIAM HAYNE,
JOHN N. USILTON.

On motion of George Gale, Esq. a committee of seven persons was appointed as a business committee to report suitable business for the Society, viz: George Gale, Rev. R. W. Thomas, Thomas E. Gooding, James H. Edes, Isaac L. Price, G. Vickers and William Baker.

The committee retired and after an absence of sometime returned with the following resolutions and memorial, for the consideration of the convention.

1. Resolved, that the immoderate use of intoxicating liquors, is highly injurious to the moral and physical energies of man, and by consequence to the best interests of the community in which he lives.

2 Resolved, that the moderate use of alcoholic drinks, as a beverage, is calculated, and has a natural tendency to induce the immoderate use, and that the example of moderate drinking to the youthful portion of the community, may produce habits which will gradually lead to intemperance and ruin.

3 Resolved, that the temptations offered and the facilities afforded by the multiplication of grog shops or places for vending ardent spirits, will have an effect to increase intemperance, and produce the ruin of many who might otherwise escape the allurements of the intoxicating glass.

4 Resolved, that the license law, as it now exists, by authorising the clerks of counties to issue license to any and every one to retail spirituous liquors who may be willing to pay the stipulated price, without regard to the character or habits of the applicant or to the wants, the feelings or the wishes of the neighborhood or community in which the vending is to take place, is productive of great evil and injustice, and ought not to be continued.

5 Resolved, that we believe the license law in respect to vending ardent spirits, is opposed to the wishes and sentiments, of a majority of the community, as well as in its consequences injurious to the physical health and pecuniary interest of the public.

6 Resolved that when a law ceases to be of public utility and advantage, and contrary to the wishes and interests of the people, that it should be repealed, or modified, to conform to public sentiment.

7 Resolved that the legislature is composed of agents or representatives of the people, appointed to carry out and execute their wishes, when fairly made known.

8. Resolved, that the legislature be respectfully requested to enact a law, authorising and requiring the Levy Courts or other tribunals in the respective counites and cities in the State, to appoint Judges of the election, who shall hold a special election in the usual manner; and that the sheriff of the county shall give due notice of the election, in which the sense of the legal voters shall be taken by ballot whether licenses to retail ardent spirits shall be granted in the respective election districts or wards, or not granted,—that due returns be made to the clerk of the county and to the executive of the State, and the question be determined by a majority of the votes cast in such election districts or wards.

9 Resolved, that the legislature be requested to pass an act prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors on the Sabbath day, and to make the drinking on that day of such liquors in a tavern or other place where sold, prima facie evidence of the sale.

10 Resolved, that in memoralising the legislature on the subject of the license law, we exercise our natural right, and the common privilege secured by the bill of rights, by every citizen of the state.

The votes on these resolutions, after considerable discussion, were taken separately, and on the question being propounded to the society by the President, were all passed in the affirmative.

The following resolutions were then submitted by the business committee and unanimously adopted:

11 Resolved that a committee of nine persons from each election district, be appointed by the chair to procure signatures to the memorials to be presented to the legislature.

12 Resolved, that the chair appoint a committee of seven persons to procure the services of a suitable person to bear the memorials to the legislature and to provide the means for liquidating his expenses.

The President of the society in pursuance of the last two resolutions, made the following appointments:

Committee of 27 to procure signatures to Momorials.

Lower District—Dr Jacob Fisher, Thos Baker, Edward Wilkins, C Jessop, George Leary, T D Burgess, W Wickes, Thos R Browne, Thos Stephens.

Middle—N Wiley, J N Usliton, D Collins, George Gale, James Gale, J L Stam, Thos Toulson, Jos W Webb, James Beck (of Geo.)

Upper—Dr John Frazier, N'l Meginnis, T E Gooding, John Lee, Matthew V Boyer, Thos Stewart, Simon W Boyer, Wm Cacy, Josiah Massey.

Committee of 7 to procure a person to bear Memorials to Annapolis.

Dr Jacob Fisher, Thos R Browne, T W Eliason, D Collins, George Gale, John Lee, Wm Miller.

On motion of G. Gale, Esq.

Resolved, that the proceedings of the Society, be published in the Kent News and Temperance Herald.

The society on motion, adjourned.

JOHN B. ECCLESTON, Pres.

N. B. The memorial referred to in the aforegoing proceedings is as follows:

MEMORIAL.

To the Honorable the General Assembly of Maryland:

The undersigned memorialists, citizens of Kent county, beg leave to present to your honorable body, a subject of the deepest interest to its inhabitants, viz: the present license law, so far as it relates to taverns, grog shops, and other places where intoxicating liquors are sold.

Throughout the county, the complaint is so general, and the evil so well known to you, that we deem it useless to collect and present facts to prove that the present license system is the source of panperism, crime and misery, or to represent to you its influence in corrupting and ruining multitudes, who might otherwise have been orderly and useful citizens. These things are known to you—so also the immense tax upon the sober part of the community, who have to support either in our jails, penitentiary, or almshouses, those who have been made vicious and paupers, through the working of our law on this subject.

We, therefore, respectfully pray your Honorable Body to enact a Law, prohibiting any license to be issued for retailing intoxicating drinks in any Election district of said county, wherein a majority of the voters thereof at the polls, at a special election to be ordered by the legislature, after its passage, on their ballots express their opinions that no such license should be therein granted—and further, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors of any kind on the Lord's Day. And your memorialists, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

Maryland Legislature.

Mr. Wickes, from Committee, submitted a series of resolutions doing honor to the memory of Colonel Cross, Major Ringgold Capt. Ridgely, Col. Watson, of the Army; and Lieut. Hynson, of the Navy, who have fallen in the war with Mexico, and offering the thanks of the Legislature to those who are still engaged in that service, as volunteers from Maryland.

After some appropriate remarks by Messrs. Wickes and Derickson, they were adopted unanimously.

Mr. Murray offered resolutions providing for a committee to report a bill to allow a pension to disabled volunteers, and to the widows and orphans of those who have been, or may be, killed in the Mexican war.

This gave rise to a debate, and was opposed by Messrs. Turner of Frederick, Duckett, and Done; and supported by Messrs. Murray, Risteau, McComas, Frazier, and Coade.

A substitute, referring the subject to a committee to inquire into the propriety of allowing such persons pensions, until otherwise provided for by Congress, after further debate, was adopted.

Mr. Derickson, from the majority of the committee to whom the subject had been referred, reported favorably upon the memorial of James Pearson, claiming a seat as a delegate from Caroline county.

SELLING ARDENT SPIRITS.—The Zanesville (Ohio) Conference of the Evangelical Lutheran Church have unanimously determined, that it is the duty of the church to expel from its communion those members who, after having been duly admonished, continue to use to excess, or to abuse, ardent spirits, or who may be engaged in the sale of ardent spirits.

PRINTING OF CONGESS.—The bids for the public printing of the next Congress, were opened at Washington of Saturday, in the presence of the Vice-President and the Secretary of the Senate, and the Speaker and Clerk of the House. There were from fourteen to twenty bidders. It is said that Messrs. Croswell and Van Benthuysen of the Albany Argus, have secured the contract.

DEATH OF SAMUEL BROWN, JR., ESQ.—The Howard District Press announces the death of Samuel Brown, jr., Register of Wills for Howard District, and for many years Register of Wills Anne Arundel county. Mr. Brown was about 65 years of age.

VICTORY OR DEATH.—A story is told of a worthy lad from "old Edgefield," who was recently doubting whether or not he should volunteer for Mexico. One of the flags waving in his eyes somewhat discouraged him. "Victory is a good thing," said he, "but why put 'Victory or Death.' Put it 'Victory or Cripple,' said he, 'and I'll go that?'"

DROWNED.—Mr. Kelly, who resigned the office of Prosecuting Attorney of Indiana co., Pa. to join the Pennsylvania volunteers as a private, was drowned while on his way to New Orleans, by falling overboard.

BOSTON POLICE.—The expenditure at present for for the police of Boston, is only $64,000; of which $14,000 is for day, and $50,000 for night police.

MR. CLARKE LANFIELD, of Delaware county, N. Y., on the 17th ult., after a chase of eight days, killed a bear weighing four hundred and sixty-seven pounds.

☞ Tobacco chewers and segar smokers will be minded that Wickes & Bro's have just received a choice lot

DIED.

In Still Pond on the 14th Mrs. Cyrroline Bellict of the late Thomas Bell in the 44th year. Dentonpaper will please copy.

At the 'round top," in Queen Ann's on the 10th inst., Mr. Joseph D. Anthony. Mr. A. was in Town, on the 12th inst. and in appearance to be healthy and robust, as we had seen him, how uncertain is life! The arrows of death strike down, the strong as well as the weak, hale as well as the sick! The admonition is solemn one to all, and should incite to a preparation for another and permanent state.

At Kennard's Point, in this county, on the instant, Mrs. Margaret Ann Gemmill, wife of Wm. M. Gemmill, and daughter of John Scott, Esq., of St. Georges, Delaware in the 41st year of her age.

Thus has passed into eternity one of most noble of her sex! The character and virtues of a most lovely woman seems to demand a passing tribute to her memory. Her retiring modest and unassuming deportment rendered her true character only known to a limited extent; but the kindness of her disposition and the gentleness of her manners gained the esteem and love of all who knew her, and the warmest attachment of her relatives. But her death her husband must realize the loss of one of the most affectionate of wives—her children the most endearing and beloved mother and her relatives the loss of one who could truly sympathize with them in all the joys and sorrows of life. The providence must remind us all that the lovely and virtuous and the affectionate too must all die—that this world is not our home and that in the words of the poet;

Friend after friend departs
Who hath not lost a friend?
There is no union here of hearts
That finds not here an end.
