KENT NEWS.

THE KENT NEWS

CHESTER TOWN, MD.

Saturday, March 13, 1847.

Mr. Soule.

The new Senator from Louisiana seems to have gained considerable eclat by his recent speech on the three million bill!—Mr. S. speech reads very well, and there is a dignity a bearing in his remarks of a courteous character, such as becomes a senator But while we say this much, we refer to an extract from a letter of "Oliver Old-school," a shrewd, intelligent and interesting Philadelphian, whose letters from Washington, published in the U. S Gazette, are read with great interest and pleasure.—Mr. Pearce's speech we presume will be published entire in the Washington papers:

After Mr. Clayton concluded, the Senate proceeded to despatch other business, until about seven o'clock, when Mr. Pearce spoke on the Three Million Bill, chiefly in reply to Mr. Soule, who had most grossly mistated the history of Texas. Mr. Pearce corrected him; or as he said, doing this he completely used up Mr. Soule, or rather to show that Texas had always belonged to France, and two threads of it hanging together. Mr. S. will find by the little experience he has now had, that truth is the most important part of a speech in the Senate of the United States, and that there are those in that body who can both expose intentional or careless errors, and make their author feel uncomfortable as well as look ridiculous.

Mr. Dix followed Mr. Pearce.

Ourselves.

Kent county Court will commence its session on Monday next. As we are out of funds and desire to be put in possession of some very speedily, to enable us to purchase paper, &c., for our office, we hope that our patrons will avail themselves of the facilities of Court week to call or send "to our relief."

Ex-Gov. Thomas and Judge Legrand.

The House of Delegates unanimously acquitted the Hon'ble J. C. Legrand, as we predicted. The opinion seems almost universal, that the Ex-Governor is labouring under a mental hallucination and morbid imagination on the subbject of his domestic relations, although sane on all other subjects. His counsel in the libel case in Washington, have so stated in writing that that case been dismissed, and we think very properly.

Appointments.

We publish in another column the list of Appointment for Kent county. It may be as well to remind Justices of the Peace, that are obliged to qualify annually and are not authorised to transact any business, till they have done so. Justices of the Peace are also required to keep a regular Alphabet of their cases, under a penalty.

Important Rumor.

The Baltimore papers of Thursday contain a rumor of a battle between Gen. Taylor and Santa Anna at Saltillo, and the defeat of the Mexicans. The rumor wants confirmation—but whenever the Mexican General makes an attempt upon Gen. T. he will find him a "rough" customer and "ready" to receive him.

Correction.

Two of the Executors of the Rev. Ezekiel Cooper called upon one of Philadelphia Editors, and requested him to correct an error in the published estimate of the fortune of the deceased. The true amount of estate they estimate at from $30,000 to $40,000.

The Legislature

Adjourned on Wednesday night last. The Biennial Session Bill has passed both Houses and is a part of the constitution.—The majority in the House of delegates was large.

☞ The sloop Gen'l. Washington had not arrived when we went to press.

☞ Dr. Orrick's License bill to take the sense of the people was defeated,

Ireland.—An agent of the Society of Friends, travelling with a view to explore some of the Western and Southern parts of Ireland, thus describes the prevailing manifestation of woe:—

"Thou wouldst hardly recognize the country in passing through it; every living thing, but man, has disappeared; no dogs, no pigs, no poultry. I do not think I have heard a poor person laugh since I left home How changed! It is not exaggeration to say that there is no playing of children in the streets The people have a sickly, livid hue. I heard their neighbors, from their altered looks."

Later from the Brazos.

Return of Major Gen. Butler—Gapture of the Kentucky Cavalry—position of Gen. Taylor—The Regiment of Virginia Volunteers, &c.

The propellor Washington arrived at New Orleans on Sunday, the 28th ult., from the Brazos, having sailed on the 23d ult. Major General Butler came passenger on her. He is still suffering so much from the effects of the wound he received at Monterey, as to be disabled for active service.

We append two letters, says the Picayune, from our correspondent "H." From the first one we learn that Capt. Albert Pike has not been taken prisoner, as we were informed and believed.

Brazos Santiago, Feb. 20, 1847.

The following letter was received here to day, by Capt. Cross, confirming a report which reached this place some days since, and which has, no doubt, been communicated to you:

Saltillo, Feb. 8, 1847.

My Dear Captain—I have only time to write a few lines, and have but little news to communicate.

Capt. Heady and nineteen men were captured by Mexican cavalay on the 28th ult This is now confirmed.

Gen Taylor, with Majors Squadron, Briggs and Thomas' batteries and the Mississippi regiment, arrived here on the 2d inst. He has taken his position at Aqua Neuva. All the troops will go there day after to-morrow, except a few, who will remain in town, and Pike's squadron, which has gone to Polomus. The enemy are still near us, but will not attack us.

There is little doubt now but that Gen. Minion will give Gen. Taylor considerable trouble. A regiment of Texan Rangers is very much needed. They should be allowed to eulist for six months, if they are averse to engaging for an indefinite time. Gen. Taylor wants light troops who thoroughly understand this kind of warfare, as the Texans do. H.

Brazos Santiago, Feb. 22, 1847.

Gentlemen—It seems that Gen. Taylor is busy, making water tanks, and collecting a large train of wagons and pack mules. The enemy has left that part of the country for parts unknown, but is supposed to have moved towards Vers Cruz.

Worth's division is now all afloat except the dragoons and light batteries, and one or two companies that were left out of their regiments for want of room on ship board.

The wind has been blowing from the north these two or three days, and the lighters have consequently been idle. The whole division would have been embarked before this, if the weather had permitted. During two-thirds of the time it is too rough to unload or load ships in the offing. Gen Worth will sail on the Edith in a day or two.

The vessels lying here are dressed off in their prettiest attire to day, it being the 22d, and salutes have been fired. Nosteamer has arrived since the Alabama, but we are looking impatiently for the New Orleans. A portion of the Virginia troops, under Maj. Randolph, arrived here a day or two since, and will land at the mouth of the Rio Grande, and proceed to Saltillo.—The volunteers, or most of them, who shall hereafter arrive, will join Gen. Taylor.

A letter from Brazos, to the New Orleans Mercury, dated February 22d, says:

Gen. Worth and staff are to sail to-morrow for Tampico, in the steamer Edith, leaving Col. Harney to bring up the rear as speedily as possible.

The regiment of Virginia volunteers have arrived off this place. The virginians are to debark at the mouth of the Rio Grande, and are to proceed to the head quarters of Gen. Taylor, now at Aqua Nueva, about thirty miles beyond Saltillo We have had frequent reports recently of the march of Santa Anna upon Saltillo, but as yet we have nothing reliable.

The Mercury adds:—

At Matamoras an attack was apprehended, as on the night of the 11th a considerable body of Mexican cavalry approached the outskirts of the city, and dismounting from their horses thought to pass the guard unperceived. They were discovered as they passed in defile over the old Mexican entrenchment, and were fired upon by the guard stationed at the upper end of the town.

The alarm was soon given in the city, and our troops were under arms and at their stations without the loss of time and in excellent order. The Mexicans made good their retreat. The belief was that this demonstration was made with a view of ascertaining the practicability of a night attack. Since then, we learn from the Flag, Col. Drake, commanding the post, has, with a zeal and promptitude which cannot be too much commended, commenced and almost completed the fortification of the main Plaza. The streets leading into it are now crossed by a wide and deep ditch and embankment, and cannon have been placed so as to defend every approach.

There were some cases of small pox at Matamoras, but they were of a mild nature, and yielded easily to medical treatment.

A postscript to a letter from the regular correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, at Matamoras, says:—

"I have no doubt Gen. Taylor has withdrawn the forces from Saltullo, and is now engaged in strengthening his position at Monterey. Gen. Patterson's place at Victoria, it is said, is supplied by General Urrea with a large force of Mexicans. Gen. Patterson has had the misfortune to get a broken leg in an accidental fall from a precipice. He is now doing well at Tampico."

Important from Tampico.

Arrival of Gen. Scott—Evacuation of Vera Cruz by the Mexicans—Mexican preparations to attack Monterey, Saltillo, Matamoras, &c.

By the arrival at New Orleans of the schooner Oella, Captain Ham, the Picayune has dates from that city to the 20th of February-

Gen. Scott arrived at Tampico on the 18th ult. He was received with salutes fired from the land and from the U. S. schooner Nonata. An accident occurred in firing the salute on shore, by the explosion of some musket cartridges, by which two men were pretty severely but not dangerously wounded. The Gen. was looking in excellent health, and Tampico was alive with excitement. The Mexicans had the utmost curiosity to see the "great general" of whom they had heard so much.

Quite the most important news by this arrival is the reported evacuation of Vera Cruz, by order of Santa Anna. This news was received here in the following letter from a most respectable source:—

Tampico. Feb. 18, 1847.

This afternoon the mail carrier from Vera Cruz arrived, bringing letters for foreign merchants in this city, which stated that the commander of the Mexican forces at Vera Cruz had received positive orders from Santa Anna to withdraw all the forces from that city and to march them into the interior, and it is supposed by all now, that Vera Cruz will be occupied by our troops, without a blow being struck.

Preparations were making at Tampico for the embarkation of the troops with rapidity.

A letter has been received here dated the morning of the 18th ult. from Tampico, which declares that Gen. Urrea had recieved positive orders to move against Matamoras and the Brazos. We annex a letter from Lumsden received by the Oella.

Editorial Correspondence of the Picayune.

Tampico, Feb. 18, 1847.

A vessel is to sail early to-morrow morning for New Orleans, and I avail myself of the occasion to send you what little news I have picked up since my last. I have seen an extract from a letter written at San Luis Potosi on the 9th inst., by a Mexican officer to his friend in this place.

This extract states that Santa Anna was to march upon Saltillo preparatory to attacking Monterey; that Urrea, with some 5,000 troops at Victoria, was to attack Matamoras, and that both expeditions must prove successful. The writer indulges in the most sanguine expressions. He says "the Yankees will see a strong blow struck against them, and be made to pay dearly for what they have done." It is pretty certain that Santa Anna is at Saltillo, and it is even reported that he has engaged Gen. Taylor. This, however, we do not believe in Tampico.

I must confess that the extract of the letter to which I here allude gives me some concern. "We shall give the Yankees some hot work in the North while they are marching on Vera Cruz," is the confident language of the writer of thie extract, who is none other than the private secretary of Santa Anna. Of this I am altogether well assured.

Death by Clairvoyance.—A very painful case was investigated at New York on Friday by the coroner. George H., son of Dan'l Oatman, died on Thursday evening, after having been attended by various doctors of all classes, and last by Mrs. Johnson, a clairvoyant The doctors had pronounced his disease consumption, but Mrs. Johnson, without seeing him, instituted mesmeric experiments and declared that he had an ulcerated stomach, for which she prescribed a mixture of drugs, roots, &c. Still he got worse, and at last she went to see him, but reiterated her opinion. On examination after death it was found that he had died of consumption. His stomach was healthy, while his lungs were nearly consumed away. Verdict, death by phthysis pulmonalis. He was twenty-two years of age, and a native of New York city.

Destitution of the Mexican Soldiery.—A letter in the New Orleans Picayune, from an officer in the blockading squadron, referring to the Mexican army at San Luis, says:

A touching picture of the distresses of the army may be found in every paragraph and every official account from that quarter. It is now conceded that the army at San Luis must soon dissolve—that even the genius of Santa Anna cannot long keep them together While the miserable soldiers are suffering all the extreme evils which can visit humanity—hungry, naked, perishing from cold or disease, or driven to suicide—we see it is announced that Ampudia has been unfortunate in his bets and lost $14,000, while Santa Anna, with better luck, has won 4000 ounces of gold The Congress of San Luis have authorized a forced loan of $400,000, secured by a pledge of the entire revenue and property of the State not already mortgaged.

A bill regulating the granting of licenses to retail intoxicating liquors in Kent county.

Attack of Vera Cruz.

The writer of the letter from which the New York Courier copies the following extract, professes to have received his intelligence "from General Scott's own lips:

Point Isabel, }
February 14, 1847. }

"The General (Scott) is waiting most anxiously for transports and ordnance stores from New Orleans, to move at once down to the Gulf Coast General Worth with 2,000 regulars is also here, and the movement to take place is as follows:

"As soon as the transports get here, and they are hourly expected, the troops are to embark for Tampico; they will be joined by Generals Patterson, Twiggs, Shields, and Pillow, with about 5,000 more; all will then sail for the Island of Lobos, sixty miles south of Tampico, where they will find a part of the volunteers lately called out.

The whole force will then number about 12,000, perhaps 13,000 and there the General will organize the command, and then sail for Antonio Lizardo, where he will find our fleet; it will escort him to the island of Sacrificios, about five miles from Vera Cruz, and about three and a half miles from the main land He will disembark the army at this island; and under cover of the navy, will land the troops, or rather transport them in surf boats to the main shore. Here he expects to meet Santa Anna with all the troops he can muster, say 30,000 or 40,000; and with the well appointed, but small number of 13,000 men, he means to whip the 40,000 Mexicans! then capture the city of Vera Cruz—the navy, of course, co-operation in the attack upon the castle"

Steamboat Burnt.—The steamboat Cricket, while lying near the Catharine Market Ferry, at New York on Saturday morning, took fire and before it was got under, the lower and promenade deck, engine-house, cabin and cabin furniture were nearly all consumed. The engine is supposed to be materially damaged. It was entirely owing to the unceasing activity of the firemen that the hull of the boat was not consumed. Loss $15,000 or $18,000 besides injury to freight of probably $5,000 or $6,000 more.

Hon. Nathaniel Ruggles, for many years a distinguished citizen of Newport, R. I., and thrice a Presidential elector, died at that city on Friday last, aged 57 years.

John Myles, aged about 40 years, residing some 12 miles southeast of Shelbyville, Ky., hung himself on Saturday night.

The schooner Joshua Brown, of Provincetown, 113 tons burthen, cleared at Boston on Thursday, for Cork and a market, with 5200 bushels of corn.

The ship Ondiaka, wrecked near Tampico, was owned one half in Newcastle, Me, and the other in Philadelphia. She was insured $5,000 in Maine. $10,000 in New York, and $20,000 in Philadelphia.

The barque Gen. Green cleared at Boston on Wednesday for Cork, with 10,500 bushels Indian corn.

Death of an Actor.—At New Orleans, on the 29th ult., John Collins, a member of the company of the American theatre, died very suddenly at the boarding house of Mr. Corrie. Mr Collins was an Enlishman by birth, but for the last twenty-five years has been well known as an actor in almost every city of the United States.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, in a letter, says that Ambrose H Sevier, Senator from Arkansas, had been offered the mission to France, and declined it, before the nomination of Mr. C. J. Ingersoll to that office.

The number of German emigrants who arrived at Galveston, Texas, during the quarter ending the first of December, 1846, was 4020, and the number will continue to increase.

A Shrewd Idea.—Elihu Burritt computes that the English have expended enough in fighting the French, to have purchased the whole of France, at $70 per acre!

Messrs. D. Beach & Co., of Milford, are manufacturing for the Hon. Henry Clay, to order, a splendid coach, which is now nearly completed.

Thanksgiving.—The Governor of Massachusetts has appointed the 8th of April as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer in that State.

The wires of the Telegraph, on the line running south, through Alexandria, will probably be arranged next week.

The President has recognized Franz August Hirsh as vice consul of Prussia for the port of Boston.

Virginia.—Willoughby, Esq., of Westmoreland, Va., has been nominated by the whigs for Congress.

Let all the world know that Sellers Vermifuge is the best in use! Here is the proof.

Licking Station, Ky. Dec 17th, 1846.

Mr. R. E. Sellers:—I have the pleasure to inform you that I have used in my practice your celebrated Vermifuge with the most happy results I have formerly used Fahnestock's but being persuaded to try yours, I have found it far superior in every respect, and can say without the fear of contradiction, that your Vermifuge possesses more virtue than any I ever used, and most cordially recommend it to the attention of the public. I will state a case where I gave one vial of your Vermifuge: My brother's child was pining and wasting to a mere skeleton; in 30 hours after I gave the Vermifuge, the enormous quantity of upwards of six hundred worms were passed. The child that was given up as lost, is now well and as hearty as any in the neighborhood
